11 HERTZ RACE HORSES BURN TO DEATH AT $200,000 LOSS

Fire at Cary (Ill.) Stables Thought to Have Been Incendiary, Linked With Cab Drivers' Feud.

EIGH COUNT, 1928 DERBY WINNER, SAVED

eona Ett, St. Lucia, Insula and Sandal Bar Among Thoroughbreds Destroyed.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—The John D. Hertz racing stable near Cary, Ill., in which were quartered Reigh Count, 1928 Kentucky Derby winner, and 14 other thoroughbreds, was destroyed last night by a fire of mysterious, possibly incendiary, origin.

Seven thoroughbreds, valued at more than $200,000, were burned to death. Reigh Count, generally regarded as the premier 3-year-old of the American track, was brought unscathed from the burning barn by a quick-thinking stable boy, Jimmy Allen. Anita Peabody, another star of the Hertz string and known as the 2-year-old champion of 1927, also was saved. Among the animals lost were Leona Ett, named for Leona Hertz and being groomed for the 1929 Kentucky Derby; Sandal Fan, Insula, Sandal Bar, St. Lucia, fillies; Black Servant, Kohnkona and Shillahad, and a filly out of Insula.

Follows Garage Bombings.

John D. Hertz, owner of the stables, is chairman of the board of directors of the Yellow Cab Co. Two garages of the cab company were bombed Sunday night. The fire at the Hertz farm, following within less than 24 hours the two bombings, was considered by Chicago police as another violent act in the taxicab feud which cost a week ago when a taxicab driver was shot to death.

Fire officers found several indications of incendiarism. Fire broke out simultaneously at opposite ends of the long brick barn, they said. There were indications that oil had been used to give the flames quick headway. A gate some distance from the stable was found to have been broken down.

Mr. Hertz and his farm superintendent, Arthur Naylor, said they had no suspicions as to the origin of the fire, and were reluctant to see any connection between it and the trouble between employes of the Yellow Cab Co. and drivers for Checker cabs.

The loss of hay gave the flames a fuel which resisted all efforts of firemen. Authora Naylor, 10-year-old daughter of the farm superintendent, was the first to see the fire which then was sending a border of flames from four sides.

"Daddy!" she screamed. "Reigh Count's stable's on fire!"

Boy Gives Flames Start.

Jimmy Allen, the stable boy, made his way to Reigh Count's stall. Allen placed a blindfold on Reigh Count's eyes and rode him to safety.

Sheriff Sanford after an investigation early today, telephoned to friends in Chicago:

"The fire undoubtedly is a plot to get out of the trouble between the cab men, manifested by the bombings Sunday. I strongly urge you not to venture out tonight on the lonely country roads. Great personal harm may be intended for you. Don't come out until daylight, and then with a police escort."

The sheriff assigned 14 deputies to guard the place, augmenting the night guard previously employed there.

The Farm, a 720-acre tract about 35 miles from Chicago, was purchased by Mrs. John D. Hertz as a paradise for the aristocracy of the horses. Measured food, measured exercise, measured steam heat in winter, and a large group of trainers and helpers were a few of the precautions taken to guard the thoroughbreds. There were special skylights through which the sun's rays were filtered into the animals' stalls.

Chief of Police Commissioner Stege attributed the burning of the stables to the same men who on last night bombed the Yellow Cab garages. A machine gun, two automatic pistols and two shotguns were found in a flat raided yesterday by police and Stege said he felt the place was a headquarters for a gang waging war on the Yellow Cab Co. Ten men were arrested. Stege said the arrest of one man who fled before the police arrived at the flat, would solve the mystery of the fire.

VEILED PROPHET PARADE TONIGHT DEPICTS INCIDENTS "THROUGH THE CENTURIES"

WHERE AND WHEN TO SEE VEILED PROPHET'S PARADE THROUGH STREETS TONIGHT

Many Who Saw First Pageant 50 Years Ago Will Be Along Six-Mile Line of March.

Men and women in their late fifties and sixties, who as children viewed the Veiled Prophet's first parade Oct. 8, 1878, will be along the route which the Prophet and his train will traverse in his golden jubilee parade tonight.

A greater number of those not here 50 years ago, but who are old-time spectators of the annual pageant, will be out for the semi-centennial occasion. Many of them have come from outside the city, following their long-standing custom of visiting St. Louis at this time. Children and grandchildren accompany many of these veteran on-lookers, who will be part of a throng of St. Louisans and visitors.

While this is the fiftieth anniversary parade, it would normally be the Prophet's fifty-first appearance, as his first anniversary was his second appearance, and so on. But he stayed away in the war years 1917 and 1918, hence this is the forty-ninth appearance.

The first parade started from Twelfth and Chestnut streets, at the rear of the City Hall of that day, and moved north on Twelfth to Washington avenue and thence east and south over a route that ended at the Third street entrance of the Merchants' Exchange, where the Prophet's ball was held. The floats were on the theme, "Festival of Ceres," typifying the blessings of the earth and the riches of agriculture.

Tonight's parade has a six-mile route extending from Fourth street to Vandeventer avenue. But the history and legend of its floats extend much farther than that. They go, as everyone will know who views No. 2, the title float, "Through the Centuries."

Not one of the floats depicts anything that has happened since trousers and steel rails and bobbed hair and radio were invented. All the masked figures on the floats will be in robes. Homer, playing his lyre, will be on the title float, and floats Nos. 15 and 16 are based on his well-known works, the Iliad and the Odyssey. Other authors are understood to have complained of this favoritism, but it has done them no good thus far.

The floats, in the order of their appearance, as they say on theater programs, are:

1. The Veiled Prophet.
2. Title, "Through the Centuries."
3. Noah and the Ark.
4. Assyria.
5. Babylon.
6. Egypt.
7. Palestine.
8. Persia.
9. Crete
10. Phoenicia.
11. Tyre.
12. Arabia.
13. Olympic Games.
14. Athens.
15. Siege of Troy.
16. Ulysses and Polyphemus.
17. Caliph of Bagdad.
18. Colossus of Rhodes.
19. Rome.
20. The Three Wise Men.

The Prophet's ball, in the Coliseum, will take place tomorrow night. The parade and ball, formerly held the same night, were separated in 1924.

If rain prevents the parade tonight, it will be held Thursday night. The ball is not subject to postponement.

TO HUNT SECRETS OF EARTHQUAKES IN 5-MILE DEPTH

Scientists Will Make Study of Conditions Underseas Near Porto Rico.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Preparations were complete today at the Washington navy yard for an undersea expedition to study the secret of the earth's gravity pull with an object of discovering the mysterious origin of earthquakes, tidal waves and volcanoes.

The expedition, headed by Dr. F. A. Vening Meinesz, a distinguished Dutch scientist, departs tomorrow afternoon aboard the submarine S-21 and the Eagle boats 35 and 58 for the Nares Deep, north of Porto Rico, the deepest hole known in the western hemisphere, a depth of approximately five miles.

The expedition also will seek to determine the center of the Atlantic continental shelf and will make studies over the Sigsbee Deep in the Gulf of Mexico and the Bartlett Deep in the Caribbean Sea. It is fostered by the Naval Observatory and will return in about two months.

HALLIDAY IN PENITENTIARY TO SERVE TWO SENTENCES

Bankrupt Broker of St. Louis Has Spent Four Years in City Sanitarium.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 2.—George V. Halliday, bankrupt broker of St. Louis, was received at the State penitentiary this morning to serve two sentences of three and five years for embezzlement and forgery which were delayed by the fact that for four years he had been an inmate of the City Sanitarium.

Halliday was declared sane yesterday by Probate Judge Hodgdon at Clayton at a hearing which the broker had sought. He was brought to Jefferson City by his attorneys.

ROBINSON SAYS HOOVER PLAN GAVE MILLIONS TO SUGAR MEN

Candidate Agrees With Auditor Who Calls G. O. P. Nominee a "Corn Bread Eater."

By the Associated Press.

CLAREMORE, Ok., Oct. 2.—Senator Joe Robinson, Democratic vice presidential nominee, was interrupted in a speech here today by a man back in the crowd who kept shouting "He's a corn bread eater. He's a corn bread eater.'

"Who's a corn bread eater?" demanded Senator Robinson. "Mr. Hoover."

"Oh, I get what you mean," the Senator replied. "Yes, he forced us who love biscuits to eat corn bread."

The Senator paused a minute and then added:

"He's something else, too. While you were sweetening your coffee with molasses, his associates were making millions out of Cuban sugar."

NO COOLIDGE TRIP TO SPEAK

President Does Not Even Intend to Go There Before Election.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—President Coolidge has no present expectations of delivering a speech in Massachusetts.

He has not even made any plans to visit that State again before election day. Four years ago he did not travel to Northampton, his legal residence, to vote in the general election, although he undertook the trip two years ago to vote for Senator William M. Butler, then a candidate for the Senate.

Y. M. C. A. MUST PAY TAXES, SAYS SUPREME COURT

ASSESSMENT LEVY FOR 1927 IS $18,500

Valuation Put on Three St. Louis Structures Involved by City Officials Is $709,020.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 2.—Operation of cafeterias, tailor and barber shops and other business enterprises by the Young Men's Christian Association in its three buildings in St. Louis deprives the property of the tax exemption the Association heretofore has enjoyed, the Missouri Supreme Court in banc ruled today.

The court held these business activities excluded the buildings and sites from benefits of the constitutional tax exemption for property devoted exclusively to religious, educational and charitable purposes, in denying a writ sought to quash an assessed valuation of $709,020 placed on property by Assessor Gehner and the St. Louis Board of Equalization for 1927 taxes.

Taxes on the 1927 assessment will amount to about $18,500. The decision will permit taxation of the property this year, and hereafter, if the business enterprises are continued.

Review Sought in Suit.

Review of the assessment was sought in a suit filed in Supreme Court by the Y. M. C. A. in November, 1927. The Association contended the property was tax exempt under the State constitution and taxation laws, on the ground it was used exclusively for charitable, religious and educational purposes. In imposing the assessment, city officials declared the renting of rooms to persons not members of the Association and operation of other business enterprises deprived the Association of the exemption.

Judge N. T. Gentry, who wrote the opinion, held the renting of rooms to non-members, operation of cafeterias, in each of the buildings, and a soda fountain, tailor shop and barber shop in some of the buildings, were commercial activities.

Opinion by Judge Gentry.

"It cannot be said that a building used for such purposes is used exclusively for religious worship, for schools or for purposes purely charitable," he said. "It does not matter how deserving an organization may be or how much good it has accomplished by its various activities, its property is subject to taxation if used for purposes other than those enumerated in the exemption clause. We must hold that such business features of relator takes from it its tax exemption privileges."

The assessed valuations placed on the Y. M. C. A. property for 1927 were $318,130 on the "down town" Y. M. C. A. at Sixteenth and Locust streets, $230,850 on the "North Side" building at Grand boulevard and Sullivan avenue, and $160,040 on the Negro Y. M. C. A. at 2638 Pine street.

TOOMBS' ADVISER, MORGENSTIERN, IS INDICTED WITH HIM

FORMER UNDER BOND IN CHICAGO

Charges Said to Include Withdrawal of $3,500,000 and Overissue of Stock.

It became known today that the June grand jury, which reported last Saturday, voted six indictments against Roy C. Toombs, former president of the International Life Insurance Co., who has not accounted for $3,500,000 of assets which he took from the company, and one against his close adviser, Dr. E. F. Morgenstiern, native of Russia, handwriting expert and writer on criminology, who was personnel director of the company.

The charges in the indictments have not been made public, but it is understood that they cover not only the use of the company's funds, but the unauthorized, overissuance of stock of the company upon which Toombs borrowed money. Dr. Morgenstiern is named jointly with Toombs in one of the indictments.

Bench warrants have been issued. Toombs already is under $10,000 bond returnable Oct. 8 in Chicago on a warrant charging larceny of the company's funds. When he appears under that bond, he will be required to give new bond under the indictments.

Dr. Morgenstiern was not arrested when the company failed due to Toombs' manipulations. He was residing at that time at the Drake Hotel in Chicago.

SEARCHLIGHT TO AID WORK OF CURBING LIQUOR RUNNERS

Lamp So Mounted It Can Illumine Detroit River Shore for Two Miles.

By the Associated Press.

DETROIT, Oct. 2.—A giant searchlight mounted on a derrick on the Detroit River front is to be given its initial trial this week as an aid to United States border patrol agents in curbing liquor smuggling across the river from Canada.

If it is successful, other lamps will be installed along the river. The light is being so mounted that its rays may be directed to any point along the river front and its banks within a radius of two miles. A siren attachment is provided to sound a warning to inspectors when a suspicious craft is sighted. Meanwhile private navigation companies and the Detroit Yacht Club have indicated they may seek to prohibit use of the lamps, contending that the glare hinders the safe operation of boats.

'GRAF ZEPPELIN' STARTS FINAL TEST BEFORE FLIGHT TO U. S.

Carries 70 Passengers on Projected Run of 36 Hours, Rosendahl Aboard.

By the Associated Press.

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, Oct. 2.—Graf Zeppelin, Dr. Hugo Eckener's new dirigible, started at 7 a. m., today on a 36-hour flight which was intended to be the last long distance experiment before the airship leaves for America.

The passengers and crew numbered 70. Lieutenant-Commander Charles E. Rosendahl, United States Navy, again was aboard. Representatives of the Transportation Ministry, members of the Reichstag and six newspapermen were included in the passengers.

Although it was announced when the airship started that it would fly to Berlin, bad weather forced the dirigible to change its course and head for the North Sea. It was likely that it would fly toward London.

BORAH AND HIS SECRETARY ROBBED OF $700 IN HOTEL

Money Taken From Their Room in Lincoln, Neb., While They Slept.

By the Associated Press.

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 2.—Approximately $700 was stolen from Senator Borah of Idaho, and Sam Jones, his secretary, while they slept in an unlocked room at a local hotel Saturday night, it became known yesterday.

When Borah retired Saturday night, after his campaign address at the University of Nebraska, he placed his wallet containing about $400 under his pillow. Jones left his money in his pockets.

SMITH TO QUOTE TAFT'S OPPOSITION TO NATIONAL PROHIBITION, STATED IN 1918

NEW YORK STATE DEMOCRATS NAME F. D. ROOSEVELT

LEHMAN PICKED FOR SECOND PLACE

Presidential Nominee in Speech Assails G. O. P. for Opposing His Policies in Legislation.

By the Associated Press.

ROCHESTER, Oct. 2.—Franklin D. Roosevelt, former Assistant Secretary of the Navy, was nominated by acclamation for the Governorship of New York by the Democratic State Convention today.

Great enthusiasm greeted the presentation of Roosevelt's name to the convention by Mayor Walker of New York, who made the nominating speech. Seconding speeches were made by former Lieutenant-Governor George R. Lunn, an aspirant for the nomination, and Mrs. Daniel O'Day, vice chairman of the State Committee.

Mayor Walker said Roosevelt had many of the same characteristics as Gov. Smith, and would give the State an honest, fearless administration.

Col. Herbert H. Lehman, New York City banker, was nominated for Lieutenant Governor by acclamation.

Copeland to Run Again.

United States Senator Royal S. Copeland of New York was renominated by acclamation.

Morris S. Tremain of Buffalo was renominated for State Comptroller; Albert Conway of Brooklyn was named for Attorney-General, and Leonard C. Crouch of Syracuse for Judge of the Court of Appeals.

Gov. Smith, at 45 minutes after midnight, succeeded in getting Roosevelt to agree to accept the nomination. Roosevelt informed the Governor of his decision by telephone from Warm Springs, Va.

Gov. Smith left here today at 2:55 for Albany.

The selection of Roosevelt is considered a distinct triumph for Gov. Smith. For months Roosevelt had demurred, and he was so decidedly opposed to running for Governor this year because of ill health that he wired Gov. Smith yesterday morning an emphatic refusal.

But Smith kept on and his aids, from Tammany Leader George Olvany down, refused to give in. Seldom has a candidate, not even a candidate for the Presidency been subjected to such pressure as Roosevelt was.

When Smith went before the convention last night he did not know that Roosevelt would agree to run. When he returned to the Seneca Hotel after the address he put in a call for Roosevelt.

Addresses Convention.

In his address to the convention last night Smith centered an attack on Republican leaders, whom he accused of conniving to block his administrative policies, and appealed to the voters of the State to retain direction of the State's public affairs in the hands of the Democrats.

Smith's speech, which provoked many cheers, was devoted entirely to State issues. He reviewed his record as Governor, defending it with as much vigor as he showed in hammering away at his Republican opposition.

At the conclusion of an hour's extemporaneous address, broadcast by a chain of radio stations extending as far west as the Mississippi, he declared it was "up to the people of the State."

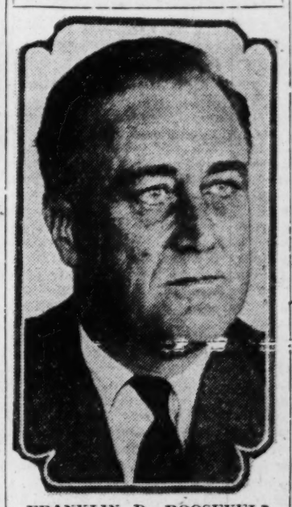

Contending that the "record of progress" which had marked his administration as Governor could be continued only by the election of the candidates proposed by the convention, Smith added:

"Irreparable injury can come to the State by any other course, and I earnestly hope and pray that the result on the sixth of November will be a vindication of progressive, Democratic policies and a repudiation of Republican, stand-pat, reactionary policies."

The Democratic standard bearer warmed to his subject even

WOMAN KILLS GIRL, 14, AND YOUTH IN CHICAGO

Fires When She Finds Pair Together in Rooming House, Then Escapes.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—Lillie Mae Winston, 14-year-old school girl, and a youth known only as "Sonny" in the neighborhood, were shot and killed here this afternoon in a rooming house by a woman said to be the 22-year-old sweetheart of the dead youth.

Corinne Vilas, 15, told the story of the double murder to police.

"Lillie Mae and I were walking to school," she said, "when 'Sonny' and another boy about 18 years old stopped us and asked us if we wanted a drink of wine. We said 'Sure,' so went into the house.

"There must have been something in the wine, because the next thing I remember we were in a bedroom. Suddenly another woman, who is supposed to be 'Sonny's' sweetheart, came into the room.

"When she saw 'Sonny' with Lillie Mae she just started shooting. I ran into the washroom and the boy I was with ran away. The woman ran out of the house and took the gun with her."

COOLIDGE FROWNS UPON POINCARE'S SUGGESTION

Disapproves Effort to Link War Debt Settlements With Reparations Claims.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—President Coolidge looks upon Premier Poincare's suggestion made last Sunday in a speech in France that allied evacuation of the Ruhr and final settlement of the reparations problem be connected with the war-debt payments to the United States as tending to have the American taxpayer pay for German reparations.

He regards the question of World War debts to this country, virtually all of which have been settled, as closed, and he looks with great disfavor upon all moves to connect the problem with other European matters.

The President sees little benefit to be drawn from a continued discussion of the possibility of linking war debts and war reparations. He is convinced that as efforts have been made in the past to tie up the two questions so similar efforts will be repeated in the future.

EX-PRESIDENT FORETOLD EVILS OF U. S. DRY ACT

Opposed Statute "That Cannot Be Enforced" and "Will Demoralize All Laws."

"MILLSTONE AROUND NECK OF NATION"

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Supporters of Gov. Smith were jubilant today upon receiving the not generally known information that former President William H. Taft, now Chief Justice of the United States, expressed unqualified opposition to national prohibition in letters which he permitted to be published in 1918. When these communications, which are reprinted by the New York World, were written the eighteenth amendment was before the states for ratification.

The views given then by Mr. Taft, who was co-chairman of the War Labor Conference Board at the time, are now considered by countless persons to be an amazingly accurate forecast of what would result after the enactment of the amendment, and the passage of the Volstead act. It is considered likely, the World says, that Gov. Smith will refer to these letters in coming campaign speeches.

The first of the letters was written by Mr. Taft in reply to a request for his opinion of the then proposed amendment, made by Allen B. Lincoln of New Haven, Conn., now living in Hartford, who was a proponent of national dry-law enactment.

Forecast Dangers of Law.

That letter was written in New Haven June 8, 1918. One of the outstanding paragraphs was:

"I am opposed to national prohibition because it is a mixing of the national government in a matter that should be one of local settlement. * * I think it will rest in the national government and those who administer it will have so great a power as to be dangerous in political matters."

Continuing, the former President predicted that the dry law "would demoralize all laws," and would be an oppressive law which would force 15 great states into a sumptuary system which practice and public opinion would not enforce. He added the warning that it "would be unwise to pass such a law during the excitement of war time."

The first letter was not intended for publication, but it subsequently came into the hands of Col. Norris G. Osborn, editor of the New Haven Journal-Courier, who asked for permission to publish it. This permission was granted, but with it was sent a supplementary letter, amplifying parts of the first one.

Mr. Taft's reply and supplementary letter were written from Pointe-a-Pic, Canada, on Sept. 2, 1918. His letters and the correspondence between Mr. Lincoln and the editor were published together in the Journal-Courier of Sept. 7 of that year.

In the second missive Mr. Taft said he feared national prohibition would be "a strain upon the body of the union, as every hamlet would be subject to a central dry enforcement power." At that time he foresaw "feverish enthusiasm for the law abating after the war," and "leaving the country with a millstone around its neck."

Text of Letters.

"New Haven, Conn., June 18, 1918.

"My Dear Mr. Lincoln: I am opposed to national prohibition. I am opposed to it because I think it is a mixing of the national Government in a matter that should be one of local settlement. I think sumptuary laws are matters for parochial adjustment. I think it will rest in the national Government and

SUPREME COURT O K'S REVOCATION OF HORTON LICENSE

State Health Board Wins Three-Year Legal Fight Against Kansas City and Purdy (Mo.) Physician.

BENCH UPHOLDS CHARGE OF FRAUD

Decision Reverses Circuit Judge Robert Hall, Who Ordered Restoration of Permit to Practice.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 2.—An order of the State Board of Health revoking the physician's license of Dr. Ray B. Horton of Kansas City and Purdy, Mo., one of the central figures in the medical license scandal in Missouri, for fraud in the manner in which he obtained his license was sustained today by the Missouri Supreme Court in banc.

The decision closes a case in which for three years every available means of legal delay, as well as political pressure, was utilized in an effort to prevent the Board of Health from pressing the Horton charges.

Lower Court Reversed.

The Court reversed outright a ruling by Circuit Judge Robert Hall of St. Louis, who, upon a review of the board's findings ordered Horton's license restored. The board appealed to the Supreme Court, which today held there was substantial and competent evidence supporting the board's order, and held there was "no proper ground" for the lower court overturning it.

Horton has been under fire at intervals since exposure of the medical diploma and licensing scandal several years ago. Aside from the fraud charges upon which the Board of Health revoked his license, Horton was alleged to have solicited and accepted money from unqualified applicants for medical licenses in exchange for his purported "influence" with the former Board of Health to gain entry for them to examinations for licenses.

Pharmacist License Also Revoked.

In addition, Horton's license as a pharmacist was revoked last August by the State Board of Pharmacy on charges that he accepted $250 from an applicant for a license, representing that he had influence with the board. Horton is awaiting trial on charges of obtaining money by false pretenses in this connection. He still holds his license as a veterinarian, his original calling.

The State Board of Health revoked his license as a physician in May, 1927, at which time the board showed Horton had not graduated from Purdy High School and had not attended the St. Louis College of Physicians and Surgeons continuously in 1919, 1920 and 1921, as he had stated, in applying for a license.

Fifteen contentions of error by the board were raised by Horton's attorneys in the appeal, including prejudice on part of board members, lack of jurisdiction by the board, error in admission of evidence, and an assertion that even if his statement about having attended the medical college continuously was false, it was not fraudulent, because there was no showing the board had relied on it in granting an examiationn.

Board's Jurisdiction Upheld.

Supreme Judge Frank E. Atwood, who wrote the opinion, overruled all of the points except one that admission of the evidence concerning the payments for purported influence was an error in procedure. Judge Atwood excluded this evidence on the ground it was improperly introduced to impeach previous testimony by Horton. All of the judges concurred except Judge Gentry, who did not sit in the case.

Judge Atwood held the Board clearly had jurisdiction to revoke Horton's license, and declared powers conferred upon such a Board enabled it to perform effectively its duties in safeguarding public health, should receive a liberal construction by the courts.

Dr. James Stewart, secretary of the State Board of Health, disclosed several months ago that political pressure had been brought in an effort to have the case against Horton dropped.

more than he did in any of his speeches in the West. He was defending his record and he spoke without reference to notes, except to read extracts occasionally from the Republican State platform adopted last week. At several junctures he called statements in that declaration as "absolutery false" and challenged his enemies to make god their attacks on his administration.

Plank by plank Smith took up the convention platform of the Republicans, weaving into his assault on virtually every declaration an explanation of what he thought the real situation was. Without much delay he singled out for attack the Republican nominee for Governor, Attorney-General Ottinger, and H. Edmund Machold, new chairman of the Republican State Committee. He assailed both for their stand on the water power issue, contending they were lined up in opposition to his government ownership and control of resources policy.

The presidential nominee, at times stirring up wild cheering as he drove home his thrusts, again bringing on gales of laughter as he resorted to mimicry or slang, took a fling at the various Republican leaders in the State Legislatures—Senator Hewitt and Assemblyman Hutchinson, chairman of the Financial Committee, Speaker McGinnies, John Knight, president pro tem of the State Senate, and others.

Defends His Park Program.

With patricular vehemence the Governor attacked those who have opposed his program for development of State parks, and said W. Kingsland Macy, whom he identified as the Assistant Chairman of the Hoover-Curtis Campaign Committee in New York, was one of a group of millionaires who sought without success, to prevent the State from taking over the Taylor estate in Southern Long Island for a park.'

Smith also ripped into F. Trubee Davison, Assistant Secretary of War for aviation, who has permanent chairman of last week's Republican State convention in Syracuse. He declared the Republican platform plank on public buildings "and what young Mr. Davison, the spokesman for the millionaire blockade group for the Long Island parks, said about this is absolutely false and absolutely wrong."

As for prohibition, Governor Smith said he had looked "very carefully" through the Republican State platform for a plank which might say something about the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act.

"But we are in a great national campaign," he went on, while the audience broke into laughter, "and they are quiet this year."

Dry Enforcement Attacked.

Approval of Governor Smith's "constructive plan for ending the abuses which have attended the futile efforts of the Republican party to enforce the provisions of the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead law" was the high spot of a long platform adopted by the Democratic convention.

The platform declared "present intolerable evils demand a constructive program designed to eliminate the abuses that existing legislation has produced." The document praised the record of the Democratic presidential nominee in his four terms as Governor.

It also declared that under Smith the State had advanced in its work in child welfare and public health; labor and workmen's compensation; education, home rule, transit, conservation, rent laws and housing, and aviation, despite a policy of opposition by the Republicans.

The platform pledged the party to a continuation of the program of State development and progress initiated by Smith.

Roosevelt Accepts, to Further Cause of Gov. Smith.

By the Associated Press.

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Oct. 2.—Franklin D. Roosevelt today accepted the Democratic nomination for Governor of New York.

His acceptance was made known by Roosevelt in a telegram to Oliver Cabana, chairman of the Democratic State convention, in session at Rochester, after he had been notified by the Associated Press that the convention had nominated him by acclamation.

His telegram to Cabana follows: "Please give the convention this message. 'Every personal and family consideration has been and is against my becoming the candidate of the convention, but if by accepting I can help the splendid cause of our beloved Governor I will yield to your judgment. I will continue in this campaign to do everything possible for the State and National ticket. If elected I shall give my best service to the maintenance of the high example set during all these years by Gov. Smith and to the furtherance of the cause of good government in the State of New York.'"

POLICE CAPTAIN IN PHILADELPHIA INDICTED 52 TIMES

William Knoell and Two Detectives, All Under Suspension, Accused of Bribery and Extortion.

By the Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 2.—William K. Knoell, suspended Captain of Police, and two detectives under suspension were indicted yesterday by the October grand jury on evidence uncovered by the August grand jury's investigation of gang murders, bootlegging and police corruption.

John Sells and Herbet Layre, the detectives, were under Knoell in the police district he once commanded.

The witnesses, a number of saloonkeepers from the northeast section of the city, offered testimony on which the indictments were found.

The October grand jury returned 52 indictments against Knoell, containing 358 counts. They include 17 bills charging bribery and extortion, in extorting $25 from each of 15 persons on 17 dates.

Seventeen bills charge conspiracy to bribe and to extort the sum of $25 from each of 15 persons. One bill charges conspiracy to bribe and extort from John H. Englemann, saloonkeeper, the sum of $8500, and 17 bills charge conspiracy to extort $500 from Engleman.

The two detectives were jointly accused on the same number of indictments.

It was announced by District Attorney Monaghan that he will present charges against more than 30 other police and civilians arrested as the result of the August grand jury's investigation.

The District Attorney has in his possession a report of ownership of automobiles by policemen, detectives, officials and members of their families and he declared some of them will be called upon to explain how they acquired costly motors on their salaries.

NEW BOARD OF DIRECTORS FOR SCRUGGS STORE ELECTED

R. J. Geoerke, Chain Owner Who Sought Control, Obtains Only Three Members.

Stockholders of Scruggs-Vandervoort-Barney Dry Goods Co., in annual session today, elected a new board of directors, supplanting three St. Louis members who had sold their stock several months ago to R. J. Goerke of Newark, N. J., chain store owner, who had sought control.

The meeting disclosed that Goerke had only 40,000 of the 184,000 shares and as a consequence had to content himself with three of the 11 directors, thus leaving control in the present management headed by F. M. Mayfield, who voted 117,000 shares in naming eight directors.

Directors were elected as follows: F. M. Mayfield, president; A. L. Shapleigh, E. D. Nims, Clarence H. King, Robert McKittrick Jones, Oliver Anderson, Robert Bagnell, Thomas H. Blundell, who is superintendent of the company, all of St. Louis, and R. J. Goerke; his son-in-law, Paul T. Nugent, both of Newark, N. J., and E. J. Keiffer of New Orleans, La.

Anderson, Bagnell and Blundell were elected to succeed M. E. Singleton, who resigned several months ago; E. D. Simmons and Robert Johnston, the three who sold to Goerke. The retiring directors were J. D. Perry Francis, W. Frank Carter and W. H. Bixby.

W. C. T. U. ASSAILS SMITH'S ATTACKS ON PROHIBITION

In Statement Declares Him Ignorant of Facts or "Intellectually Dishonest."

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—National headquarters of the Women's Christian Temperance Union today in a prepared statement declared Gov. Smith either was ignorant of many of the established facts of prohibition or else was intellectually dishonest.

"Almost every allegation put forward by the Governor was wrong, half told, or without foundation," said the statement in regard to a recent speech of the Democratic presidential nominee. He misused the facts concerning various prohibition referenda when he put forward the idea that a majority of people have voted against prohibition. The futile, nonlegal referenda in New York and Illinois were ignored by the drys because they meant nothing. If every man, woman and child in Illinois and New York had voted 'yes' on those futile referenda there could have been no return to beer and light wines.

"The State of Missouri, having a legal and binding referendum on the ballot, cast the largest dry majority ever known to that State. Colorado, where the wets endeavored to arrest prohibition from the State Constitution, stayed dry by a large majority, so also California, Ohio, certainly a populous State, has cast larger and larger dry majorities at every referendum.

"Gov. Smith quotes a few ministers to prove that prohibition is not a success; on the other hand, there are thousands of ministers who believe it and preach it."

B. F. YOAKUM TO SUPPORT HOOVER ON FARM PLATFORM

Former Railroad Executive Says He Considers Marketing System Fee All Important.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—B. F. Yoakum of New York, former railroad executive, announced after calling on Herbert Hoover today that he would support the Republican presidential candidate.

"I speak as a life-long Democrat," Yoakum said, "but one who puts the farmers' welfare above any political consideration."

Yoakum said he had fought the McNary-Haugen bill because "it is impracticable, unworkable and full of pitfalls for the farmer," and added that he could not follow Gov. Smith "in his support of this measure and its fallacies."

"The only real and enduring way in which the American farmer can conduct his own business profitably," Yoakum said, "and retain his independence, and distribute and sell his products on an equality with other industries, is to establish a nation-wide farm commodity marketing system founded on a solid business basis—farmer-owned, farmer-controlled, farmer-operated, established with Government aid but without Government dictation.

"That is what Mr. Hoover has pledged himself to establish, and what I believe, if elected, he will do."

THIRD ROBBER IN HOLDUP OF WEST END BANK RETURNED

$3344 of Harvey Cargyle's $6000 Share of Loot is Recovered.

Deputy Sheriff Harvey Litzinger returned to Clayton from San Francisco today with Harvey Cargyle, one of the men who robbed the West End Bank in University City of $24,600 July 11, and with $3344, all that remained of Cargyle's $6000 share of the loot. The $3344, including $655 in gold, the balance in currency, was recovered from Cargyle's deposit box in a bank at Independence, Mo., his home town.

Cargyle confessed the University City Bank robbery when arrested in San Francisco as a suspect in a Kansas City bank robbery, of which he later was exonerated.

Two of his accomplices in the West End robbery are serving 10-year sentences, having pleaded guilty. A fourth man is sought.

those who administer it, so great a power as to be dangerous in political matters.

"I would be in favor of State prohibition if I thought prohibition prohibited, but I think in the long run, except in local communities where the majority of the citizens are in favor of the law, it will be violated.

"I am opposed to the presence of laws on the statute book that cannot be enforced and as such demoralize the enforcement of all laws. If I were in a local community in which I thought prohibition could be enforced I would vote for it. If not I would favor a high license, but I am not in favor of a national amendment which should force 12 or 15 great states into a sumptuary system which the public opinion and the real practices of the people of those States would not support. I think it is most unwise to fasten upon the United States a prohibitory system under the excitement of the war, which I do not hesitate to say every sensible supporter of prohibition in the end will regret.

A Matter for the States.

"Let the States which wish to do so prohibit. They have every means now of enforcing prohibition. There is a Federal law, sustained as constitutional, which forbids the importation into them of liquor from other States and the whole field is open to State legislation and its enforcement.

"I don't drink myself at all, and I don't oppose prohibition on the ground that it limits the liberties of the people. I think that in the interest of the community, and of the man who cannot resist the temptation to drink in excess, if he has the opportunity to drink at all, other citizens in the community may be properly asked and compelled to give up drinking, although that drinking may do them no injury. My objections to prohibition are as I have stated them above.

"Sincerely yours,

"WILLIAM H. TAFT."

Elaborates His Views.

The second letter dated Pointe-a-Pic Sept. 2, 1918, follows:

"My Dear Mr. Lincoln: You asked me if you may hand to Mr. Osborn, for publication, my letter to you of June 8, 1918, on national prohibition. There are some reasons for my views which I would have elaborated, had I expected the letter to be published. Therefore, please publish with that letter the following:

"A national prohibition amendment to the Federal Constitution will be adopted against the views and practices of a majority of the people in many of the large cities and in one-fourth or less of the states. The business of manufacturing liquor and beer will go out of the hands of law-abiding members of the community, and will be transferred to the quasi-criminal class. In the communities where the majority will not sympathize with a Federal law's restriction, large numbers of Federal officers will be needed for its enforcement. The central Government now has very wide war powers. When peace comes these must end, if the republic is to be preserved.

"A Sinister Power."

"If, moreover, a partisan political head of the Internal Revenue Department, or of a separate department created for the purpose, shall always be able through Federal detectives and policemen to reach into every hamlet and to every ward, and to every purlieu of a large city, and use the leverage of intermittently lax and strict enforcement of the law against would-be dealers in liquor and their patrons, he will wield a sinister power, prospect of which should make anxious the friends of free constitutional government.

"'A new broom sweeps clean.' A temporary national prohibition law as a war measure may be effective. It is urged to stimulate war production in the emergency and to take temptation from our soldiers, though it is doubtful whether the serious loss to the national revenues, which it will entail, may not outweigh the actual benefits. The immediate useful operation of such a law, or of a new State prohibition law, is not convincing evidence of its ultimate tendency and result of the community must summer and winter it for years.

Strain Upon Bond of Union.

"After the law-abiding members of the business go out of the business and a complete readjustment follows, the pressure for violation and lax execution in communities where the law is not popular will be constant and increasing. The reaching out the great central power to brush the doorsteps of local communities, far removed geographically and politically from Washington, will be irritating in such States and communities, and will be a strain upon the bond of the national union. It will produce variation in the enforcement of the law. There will be loose administration in spots all over the United States and a politically inclined national administration will be strongly tempted to acquiesce in such a condition. Elections will continuously turn on the rigid or languid execution of the liquor law as they do now in prohibition States. The ever-present issue will confuse and prevent clear and clean-cut popular discussions on the most important national question, and the politics of the nation will be demoralized as the politics of States have been through this cause. The issue will never be settled.

"Can Never Change It."

"The theory that the National Government can enforce any law will yield to the stubborn circumstances, and a Federal law will become as much a subject of contempt and ridicule in some parts of the nation as laws of this kind have been in some States. We are acting now under the heroic impulse of a war, which stirs our feelings and makes us think we can have a millenium of virtue and self-sacrifice for the future. This is a fundamental error. I profoundly deprecate having our constitutional structure seriously amended by a feverish enthusiasm, which will abate to neglect and laxity in many States as the years go on. If through the abnormal psychology of war the 36 States are induced to approve a national prohibition amendment now, we can never change it, though a great majority of the people may come later to see its utter failure. Thirteen prohibition States can always be counted on to prevent a retraction of the foolish step. We shall thus hang a permanent millstone around our necks.

"Individual self-restraint, the influence of proved social standards and criticisms and the restrictions enforced by employers of labor for industrial reasons, have probably had more to do with moderating the evils of intoxication than statute law. I would not minimize, however, the advantage of the removal of the temptation of access to liquor by law when the law is backed by local public opinion and can be enforced.

Anti-Saloon League's Methods.

"Nor is my conviction affected by any sympathy with those who are engaged in the manufacture or sale of intoxicating liquors. It is now nearly half a century ago since the Supreme Court's interpretation of the Federal Constitution warned everyone engaged in the business that he invested a capital therein at the full risk of its being declared unlawful and of the consequent loss that future legislation might entail. Moreover, the demoralizing political power which saloonkeepers and liquor manufacturers sought and wielded to protect their business from proper regulation and the defiance they did to reasonable public opinion, roused the just indignation of the electorate. Many have voted for prohibition merely to destroy the power of the saloon in politics without any other consideration. The saloonkeepers taught the Anti-Saloon League how to fight and the latter has learned the lesson well and applied it, and often without any more scruple as to the method or means than its teachers. The liquor dealer thus is 'hoist with his own petard.'

A Minority Movement.

"I have never concealed my views on this subject and it is a matter in which one should speak out. An intensively active minority in favor of adopting an unwise policy may win through the failure of the members of the majority, though opposed to the policy publicly to declare themselves and to take the trouble to give effect to their opinions by their votes. A minority like this, conceiving that it is moved by a moral issue, loses its sense of proportion and sacrifices other issues, no matter how vital to the nation. Such minority visits with its condign punishment all public servants who oppose it on this issue, however useful to the States they may be. I would not impugn the high-minded motives of the great body of those who support national prohibition. It does awaken one's protest, however, to note the manner in which the ordinary type of politician becomes a prohibitionist because he fears the balance of power that an active political minority may wield against his political fortunes. In the past he has been subservient to the liquor dealers; in the present practices may completely nullify the sincerity of the principle he advocated, but he and others of his ilk, would recklessly and selfishly hurry us into an irretrievable national blunder.

Reasons Summed Up.

"The regulation of the sale and use of intoxicating liquor should be retained by the States. They can experiment and improve. They have full power and the Federal Government has helped them by making it a Federal offense to import liquor into their borders, if they forbid it. If the power of regulation is irrevocably committed to the general Government the next generation will live deeply to regret it.

"For these reasons, chiefly first because a permanent national liquor law in many communities will prove unenforcible for lack of local public sympathy; second, because it will tempted enforcement will require an enormous force of federal policemen and detectives, giving undue power to a secret and partisan subordinate of the national administration, and third, because it means an unwise structural change in the relations between the people of the States and the central Government and a strain to the integrity of the Union, I am opposed to a national prohibition amendment.

"Sincerely yours,

"WILLIAM H. TAFT."

FRANKLIN MILLER EXPLAINS DUTY OF CIRCUIT ATTORNEY

Democratic Nominee, Without Direct Reference to Sidener, Pledges to Elevate Standards of Office.

SAYS HE WILL PUT STOP TO FRONTING

Responsibility of Prosecutor That of Lawyer to Client, the People, Candidate Tells Jefferson Club.

Declaring the Circuit Attorney should be responsible not only for his own official acts, but those of his assistants, Franklin Miller, Democratic nominee, last night pledged himself, if elected, to a radical elevation of the standards of the office.

In a speech before the Jefferson Club at its headquarters, 1510 Locust street, the former Circuit Judge made no direct reference to his Republican opponent, Circuit Attorney Sidener, whose career in the office has been widely characterized as one of looseness and inefficiency. The Jefferson Club meeting marked the formal opening of the Miller campaign, which hereafter has been under way more than a month.

Expressing his confidence in the triumph of the city and State Democratic tickets and the election of Gov. Smith, Judge Miller launched into a scholarly discussion of the functions of the Circuit Attorney. He drew a laugh when he mentioned the office of chief clerk. Those duties are purely clerical and administerial," William Geist, former chief clerk who ran Sidener's staff last spring, was known as "the big man" in the Circuit Attorney's office, and was credited with wielding great influence with the prosecutor.

Pledges Hearing for Lawyers.

With that course before him, Miller pledged himself, none the less, to a courteous hearing of attorneys in criminal prosecutions and of others who have information touching upon the innocence or guilt of defendants. He also expressed his approval of the "voluntary defender" plan so that indigent defendants might have proper legal representation in criminal prosecutions.

For the unrelenting pursuit of gangs and organized crime, and for the suppression of bootleg and terrorism, Miller pledged himself and his staff and added the promise that felony cases arising from automobile fatalities also would be prosecuted vigorously.

For the "third degree" system of making cases and for snooping methods of prosecution, Miller declared his opposition, remarking that "only by scrupulous observance of the distinctions of right and wrong methods can the constitutional liberties and guaranties of every citizen be fully preserved."

Views on State Dry Laws.

Turning finally to the State dry law, Miller declared he did not believe the office of Circuit Attorney should be used for the prosecution of liquor law violations because: "First, under the working arrangement between the State and Federal Courts in St. Louis all violators of the liquor laws are being prosecuted diligently in the Federal Courts; second, this arrangement frees the State Court from the congestion that would otherwise result and permits the Circuit Attorney to try major offenses against the lives and property of the people; third, there is no adequate prohibition enforcement machinery at present provided by the State; and fourth, the conviction of defendants in the State Court for the same acts of which they have been convicted in the Federal Court, amounts to double conviction for the same offense.

"I know that the Supreme Court of the United States has held that one convicted of a violation of the Volstead act may be further prosecuted and convicted for the violation of the State prohibition law without ruling afoul of the "double jeopardy" provision of the Federal Constitution. Yet the fact remains, that to prosecute and convict a man twice in different courts and under different laws for the same act on his part, amounts in reality to a double conviction for the same offense, however correct from a technical standpoint may be the decision of the Supreme Court to the contrary."

Miller added he was convinced prohibition had proved a failure and had increased intemperance instead of curbing it. Bootlegging has been responsible, he added, for much of the organized crime of the day.

Makes No Promise of Jobs.

Regarding his own staff appointments, if elected, Judge Miller declared he had pledged himself to no single appointment and intended to make his selections from the highest type personnel available. He expressed the belief he could build up an efficient organization in the two months following Jan. 1. Turning then to the subject of "fixing" of criminal cases, he said:

"The Circuit Attorney's office should be especially free from any collusion or arrangement under which any criminal case can be dismissed, or continued for trial, on any other basis than the actual merits of the case and the ends of justice.

"The Circuit Attorney is a lawyer with one client, the State of Missouri. To serve the interests of his client he must bring to the discharge of his duties all the loyalty and devotion that every true lawyer gives to his clients.

"He must, however, in any case in his own right and justice should refuse, in his best judgment, that a case be dismissed without trial, because the prosecution was improperly begun or for the reason that evidence which was sufficient at the beginning has become insufficient by the death or disappearance of material witnesses, or otherwise. He should promptly, and frankly take such action as a favor to any interested party, but as his plain duty to the people of Missouri.

"He should never attempt to hide behind his own appointee or evade his responsibility in the case of personal unfamiliarity with the circumstance of the particular matter in question, involving the conduct of his office or his staff.

"It is only by thus centering the responsibility for the entire office upon their elected servant that the people may be assured that the responsibility will be honored and that the State's interests will be adequately protected.

Makes Clear View of Responsibility.

Miller's exposition of his ideas of responsibility as applied to the Circuit Attorney also drew praise from his audience. Circuit Attorney Sidener has on several occasions said he was not responsible for acts of his assistants as they pleaded inflammatory with intents in cases under discussion.

The Circuit Attorney," the Democratic candidate said, "is and should be held responsible for the acts of his assistants and clerical staff. If he finds any of them are dishonest, corrupt or incompetent, he should request the resignation and, if necessary, discharge the unworthy one and replace him with another, promptly and without hesitation.

"He should never attempt to hide behind his own appointee or evade his responsibility in the case of personal unfamiliarity with the circumstance of the particular matter in question, involving the conduct of his office or his staff.

"It is only by thus centering the responsibility for the entire office upon their elected servant that the people may be assured that the responsibility will be honored and that the State's interests will be adequately protected.

Pair Who Held Kidnaped Boy on Farm

—International Photo.

ANDREW AND TONY CAPPELLANO.

THE Cappellanos were arrested at Herrin, Ill., and the father, Andrew, has confessed that Billy Ranieri, 10-year-old Chicago boy, who was kidnaped and later released, was held a prisoner on his farm near Bourbonnais, Ill., by his abductors.

BOY HELPS POLICE HUNT FOR KIDNAPERS

All but Two of the Abductors of Billy Ranieri of Chicago Captured.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—Aided by a little Italian boy who could remember every detail of the two weeks he spent with kidnapers on a farm near Kankakee, police have taken into custody all but two of the alleged band of Mafia extortionists, and profess to know the identity of the pair still at large.

The names of these two—one of them the chauffeur of the automobile in which Billy Ranieri was whisked away from his home a month ago—were given to the State's Attorneys by Andrew Cappellano, who made a new confession of the part he played in the conspiracy.

"Yes, the kid was at my farm," Cappellano said when brought here from Herrin yesterday. Police had traced him there, where he had fled with his wife and nine children.

New Confession by Prisoner.

Prosecutors broke through his reticence after a long session with Cappellano and his 15-year-old son, Tory, whom Billy had identified as his roommate on the farm. Without divulging the names of the men Cappellano had accused, they said he had made a complete new confession.

Three Sicilians are already under indictment for kidnaping or extortion and a new effort to free one of them on bail yesterday was unavailing.

Cappellano Tells of His Past.

Cappellano was said to have confessed he was twice tried and acquitted on murder charges at Pomeroy, O., and at Kankakee, Ill. The State's Attorneys also said he admitted the woman with whom he lives, the mother of his 10 children, is not legally married to him and that he has a wife in Italy.

State's attorneys today ordered the release of Mrs. Cappellano from jail at Herrin, Ill.

Samuel Hoffman, Assistant State's Attorney, said she could be set free to be with her 10 children and still be kept available as a witness against the abductors of Billy Ranieri. Tomorrow the prosecutors will go before the grand jury to seek an indictment charging Cappellano and his son with kidnaping for ransom. Tony's sister Anna, 13, meanwhile is held in the juvenile home as a valuable State's witness until the men charged with the extortion conspiracy are brought to trial.

PRISON WARDEN QUESTIONED BY MRS. WILLEBRANDT

He Had Refused to Permit Inquiry at Atlanta Unless Superior Ordered It.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—John Snook, warden of the Federal penitentiary at Atlanta, was questioned today by Assistant Attorney-General Mabel Walker Willebrandt concerning his refusal to permit three Department of Justice agents to conduct an investigation at the prison until they could produce orders from one of the three superior officers of the warden, authorizing such an investigation.

The differences between Snook and the Department of Justice were reported some time ago when it was alleged that a Department of Justice undercover agent, using the name of Henson, had been committed to the Atlanta prison from Detroit. The prisoner was transferred to Leavenworth and later continued work for the department in Honolulu.

TWO ROBBERS GET FIVE YEARS

Youths, 19, Sentenced to Boonville for $40 Holdup.

Philip Galloway, 19 years old, of Pawhuska, Ok., and Eugene Brindier, 19, of Chanute, Kan., were sentenced to five years in Boonville Reformatory today by Circuit Judge Hartmann, following their pleas of guilty of robbery in the first degree.

The two youths, at the point of a revolver, held up Elijah Bullock, 2305 Lucas avenue, last June 30, and robbed him of $40.

848,100 PERSONS IN ST. LOUIS, IS ESTIMATE OF U. S.

Census Bureau Figure Is 97,724 Below That Issued by Compilers of New Directory.

The United States Bureau of Census at Washington today announced that it estimated the population of St. Louis at 848,100, as of July 1. This is 97,724 below the estimate made last week by the publishers of the new city directory.

Estimates of the Census Bureau, it is explained, are based, in most cases, on the assumption that the annual increase of population since the census of 1920 has been the same as the average annual increase between 1910 and 1920. This method gives an estimate which is "approximately correct" for the great majority of places, the Bureau thinks.

The city directory's estimate of a 945,824 population is based on the assumption that there are two persons living in the city for every one listed in the directory, said L. O. Bosse, superintendent of the local office of the Polk-Gould Directory Co., publishers of directories for St. Louis and other cities throughout the country. The directory estimates are almost invariably higher than the Census Bureau estimates, Bosse said.

Higher Than U. S. Estimate.

For instance: Last year the Census Bureau estimate for St. Louis was 829,001; the directory's estimate was 928,512.

"St. Louis is growing fast," Bosse said. "At the present rate of increase, the population soon should reach the 1,000,000 mark.

"The directory staff makes a thorough door-to-door canvass of every home and business establishment within the city limits, starting from the outer sections and working toward the center. We start in January and are ready to go to press in midsummer. After the first checkup, men are sent back to re-check at vacant buildings and at places where tenants were absent on the first call. To catch persons who are missed on the first and second calls, a third visit is made on Sundays, when they are more likely to be at home. Finally, a check is made by mail.

Who Is Included in List.

"Our aim is to list in the directory every head of a family and every person over 18 who is employed outside the home.

"We also include in the city directory persons who work in St. Louis, but live in the suburbs. We figure, however, that the number of such persons is offset by the number of children in city homes who are not listed. We estimate that for every adult listed, there is another adult omitted, hence we double the number of individuals' names in the directory to arrive at our estimate of the total population."

The Census Bureau also released for publication today estimates of population for other cities as follows: East St. Louis, 74,000; Kansas City, Mo., 281,000; St. Joseph, Mo., 78,509; Springfield, Mo., 51,703.

Estimates Made for Other Cities by U. S. Census Bureau.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—The Department of Commerce announces estimates, made by the Bureau of the Census, of the population July 1 of cities which had a population of 30,000 or more in 1920. The estimates are based, in most cases, on the assumption that the annual increase of population since the census of 1920 has been the same as the average annual increase between 1910 and 1920. In those states, however, which took a State census in 1925, the estimates are based on the average annual increase between 1920 and 1925. Due allowance is made for any annexations or detachments of territory that may have taken place and of which the Bureau has been advised. In a few cases, however, where there is reason to believe that owing to exceptional conditions of growth the figure thus obtained is far from correct, and also in those cases where the last Federal or State census showed a decrease, no estimates are made.

	Estimated 1928 Population	Census 1920
New York City*	5,872,356	6,017,500
Chicago	2,701,703	2,127,400
Philadelphia	1,823,774	2,064,200
Detroit	1,242,044	1,278,900
Cleveland	796,841	1,010,300
Boston	779,620	792,200
Baltimore	733,826	830,400
Pittsburg	584,277	672,800
Los Angeles	576,673	†
Buffalo	*538,016	553,800
San Francisco	506,676	535,300
Milwaukee	427,147	544,200
Washington	427,571	537,000
Cincinnati	401,247	412,700

*State census taken in 1925.
†No estimate.
The Detroit figure is based on a special census taken since 1920.

PRINTING FOREMAN KILLS SELF; BOOKS ARE BEING AUDITED

Otto Hilpert of St. Louis Times Composing Room Ends Life in Roadhouse Near Imperial, Mo.

Auditors today began going over the payroll records of Otto Hilpert, 44 years old, foreman of the composing room of the St. Louis Times for 15 years, who shot and killed himself yesterday afternoon in a private room of a roadhouse on Highway No. 61, near Imperial, Mo., 28 miles south of St. Louis.

Hilpert killed himself a few days after the personnel audit of the newspaper had begun, and when his employers learned of his death, the auditors were instructed to check his payroll records particularly.

Relatives said they thought his act was prompted by brooding over failing health and sight, possibly a nervous breakdown. After an inquest, at which a suicide verdict was returned, his body was removed to an undertaking establishment at 4600 Natural Bridge avenue.

Hilpert had been complaining of ill health for several days and at 10 a. m. yesterday left his work, presumably to go home. Witnesses said he went to the roadhouse, instead, to rest, and during the afternoon requested that his wife, Mrs. Grace Hilpert, be sent for.

She arrived at 4 p. m., a short time before he shot himself. A minute before he placed the revolver to his head, he called her to the private room and when she arrived she found him unconscious across a bed.

Hilpert had long been a follower of horse racing. He was not a large bettor but was known to his friends as a lucky one. Hilpert was a member of the Executive Board of the Century Boat Club. He had been a printer all his life, beginning as a copy boy and galley boy on the Post-Dispatch. He had been with the Times for 22 years.

GERK'S POLICE PENSION SUIT DISMISSED BY SUPREME COURT

Point Involved in Action to Compel Becker to Publish Proposed Measure Already Settled.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 2.—A mandamus suit filed by Chief of Police Gerk of St. Louis against Secretary of State Becker, to compel the latter to publish in all counties of the State before the November election the text of the proposed initiative measure to put a police pension system in effect in St. Louis, was dismissed today by the Supreme Court of Missouri, en banc, because the legal point involved had been settled in a decision made last week.

An injunction suit filed in Cole County Circuit Court restrained Becker from printing the text of the pension proposal, on the ground the law providing for publication of proposed constitutional amendments in newspapers in each county before the election did not apply to initiative proposals. At the same time another injunction was issued, which directed Becker to obtain the most advantageous terms for the printing in each county, instead of making awards at the maximum State rate.

Both injunction cases were carried to the Supreme Court by Attorney-General Shartel for review, and were advanced on the docket. The court last week ruled the initiative proposal must be printed in the same manner as constitutional amendments. It also held that the law imposed upon Becker the duty of obtaining the most advantageous terms, but did not define those terms or prescribe the manner of obtaining them. The decision dissolved both injunctions.

DROWNED MAN IDENTIFIED

Joseph Grace Jumped From Eads Bridge, Sept. 21.

The body taken from the Mississippi River at Victor street yesterday has been identified as that of Joseph Grace, 39 years old, a tailor of 711 North Vandeventer avenue.

He jumped from Eads Bridge Sept. 21, leaving a note saying he had been in ill health.

Tunney and Miss Lauder In Rome to Be Married

Retired Champion Meets Fiancee on Liner at Naples—Crowd Greets Pair at Hotel.

By the Associated Press.

ROME, Oct. 2.—Gene Tunney and his fiancee, Miss Mary Josephine Lauder, arrived in Rome today by automobile from Naples, where Miss Lauder and her party arrived this morning from New York.

The retired heavyweight champion, who had been waiting the arrival of the motor ship Saturnia in Naples, boarded the vessel at sunrise and met Miss Lauder, who had come from New York for the marriage. Within a short time they were speeding to Rome, arriving here at 12:35 p. m.

News of the arrival spread rapidly, and by noon a big crowd had gathered at the Hotel Russie. Shop workers, clerks and sport fans eagerly craned necks to catch a glimpse of Tunney and Miss Lauder. A husky American in an automobile preceding Tunney's machine was first taken for the champion and was received with rousing cheers. In the confusion, Tunney and his party escaped most of the cameramen who were busy at the first car. Nevertheless, Tunney was belatedly recognized and the crowd sent up shouts of long life for "Toonev" and his "bride."

How Fiancee Was Dressed.

Miss Lauder had on a jaunty red felt hat, a beige coat trimmed with gray fur, and looked bright and cheery despite the long ride from Naples and the early awakening aboard ship.

Tunney had on his real fighting face as he jumped down from the automobile and handled his fiancee's personal baggage himself, not trusting it to hotel porters. The crowd sought to rush the automobile, but was held in awe by a few discreetly placed black shirt militia men.

The retired champion told the Associated Press that he and Miss Lauder did not plan anything for this afternoon, both being tired from their early rising and long ride from Naples.

Monsignor Joseph A. Breslin, Tunney's former parish priest, who has been aiding the champion in obtaining necessary papers for the wedding, was at the hotel early in the forenoon.

Luncheon in Private Suite.

Tunney had given orders that luncheon be served in the private suite engaged for Miss Lauder and her party, and the champion hustled them all into an elevator, brushing his way through a crowd of hotel guests.

After the civil and religious ceremonies Tunney and his bride will be received by Pope Pius and Premier Mussolini.

The champion amazed waiters at a Naples restaurant when he left his wine untouched. One remarked to another, "It seems impossible that he should be so strong without drinking wine."

Tunney and Miss Lauder probably will be married tomorrow or Thursday. The Santa Susanna Society seems the likeliest place for the religious ceremony, since that church is administered by the American Paulist Fathers, and in recent years has become a sort of national shrine for American Catholics resident or visiting in Rome. It is taken for granted that Tunney's former parish priest, Mgr. Breslin of the American College, will perform the religious ceremony.

VENDING MACHINE OPERATOR FILES SUIT TO ENJOIN POLICE

O. C. Bachtel Denies His Devices Are for Gambling, But Merely for Sale of Mints.

O. C. Bachtel of Charlotte, N. C., doing business as the Carolina Mint Vending Co., today filed suit in Federal Court to enjoin police from interfering with the installation of his locked slot machines in local stores. He also filed affidavits from three storekeepers who swore police had seized his slot machines in their stores as gambling devices.

Bachtel denies his machines are to be used for gambling. For each nickel placed in the slot the customer receives a package of mints and has his fortune told. The machine also gives forth tokens, but Bachtel asserts they have no cash or trade value and can be used only to get more fortunes told.

In a similar case several months ago, Federal Judge Faris refused to issue an injunction against the police.

GLENCOE POSTMASTER HELD IN CONNECTION WITH THEFTS

Louis M. Beard, 60, Said by Negroes to Have Disposed of Loot From 21 Clubhouses.

Louis M. Beard, 59-year-old postmaster and general storekeeper at Glencoe, was arrested last night by Deputy Sheriff James Sievin of St. Louis County and taken to Clayton charged in a warrant with second degree burglary and larceny.

Three Negroes who were arrested Saturday by Sievin confessed that they had broken into and looted 21 clubhouses on the Meramec River near Glencoe in the last few weeks and had depended on Beard as a medium for disposing of articles of value. Beard denied the charges.

MORE THAN 500 LIQUOR CASES ON DOCKET; 35 PLEAD GUILTY

Judge Davis Sends 28 Persons to Jail, Six Pay Fines and Woman Gets Stay.

The semi-annual roll call of bootleggers and others charged with violating the Federal prohibition laws began today in Federal Judge Davis' court with 142 cases on the docket. In Judge Faris' court, 250 liquor cases are scheduled for Oct. 22, while the District Attorney and the United States Commissioner have 150 cases in which informations have not yet been issued, making a total of more than 500.

Of 35 liquor law violators who pleaded guilty before Judge Davis, 28 went to jail. Of this number, 15 were sentenced to jail for varying terms and 13 went to jail for 30 days in default of fines. Six paid fines ranging from $300 to $400.

One woman, Mrs. Margaret Caponi, 1212 Blair avenue, mother of seven children, who said whisky to a prohibition agent, was let off with a $100 fine, which was stayed.

A repetition of last year's congestion, when all the jail space in the district was filled, is not likely to be repeated this year. The United States Marshal reported that accommodations were available for 135 prisoners in four jails, at Warrenton, Montgomery City, Mexico and Union. Today 12 prisoners were sent to Warrenton and 16 to Montgomery City.

A. G. VANDERBILT'S WIDOW GETS DIVORCE

She Obtains Decree at Reno From Raymond Baker, Former Mint Director.

By the Associated Press.

RENO, Nev., Oct. 2.—A second Reno divorce for Mrs. Margaret Emerson Vanderbilt Baker has legally terminated her romance with Raymond T. Baker, which began here 10 years ago. Baker was director of the United States mint under President Wilson.

The Bakers were married at Lenox, Mass., in 1918. Her divorce petition, filed yesterday and heard forthwith, charged that Baker deserted her eight years ago. The Bakers were known to have been separated for at least five years.

Mrs. Baker obtained her first divorce here in 1910 from Sumner Hollis McKim. She then married Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, who was lost when the Lusitania was torpedoed in 1915.

Mrs. Baker obtained the custody of her 8-year-old daughter. The suit set forth that all property rights had been adjusted by prior agreement.

Baker is widely known through the West. He was born in Nevada in 1880, the son of George W. Baker, one of the chief legal advisers of the Southern Pacific Co. He once served as warden of the Nevada State penitentiary. He also for a time was the secretary of the Senate Committee on Territories and later was secretary to George T. Mayer, former American Ambassador to Russia. He served as Director of the Mint from 1917 to 1922.

LOST WEIGHT WHEN JILTED WOMAN ALLEGES IN SUIT

Miss Hazel Pilcher, 26-year-old clerk, sat calmly before Circuit Judge Frey and a jury today while her counsel, Conrad Paoban, made his opening statement in Miss Pilcher's suit for $25,000 damages for breach of promise against August C. Naert, real estate man of 4667 Tower Grove avenue.

The failure of Naert to marry Miss Pilcher, a former member of the Methodist Church, after she had been baptized a Roman Catholic, at Naert's request, resulted in an "alarming loss of weight" on the part of his client, Paoban said in his statement. In May, 1924, Paoban went on, Naert asked Miss Pilcher to marry him, providing she would change her religion in order to put his parents in a good humor. In September of 1924, Paoban said, Naert began to pay attentions to another young woman, and at Christmas of that year he gave Miss Pilcher a manicure set and a written memorandum stating: "I love Hazel and am going to marry her."

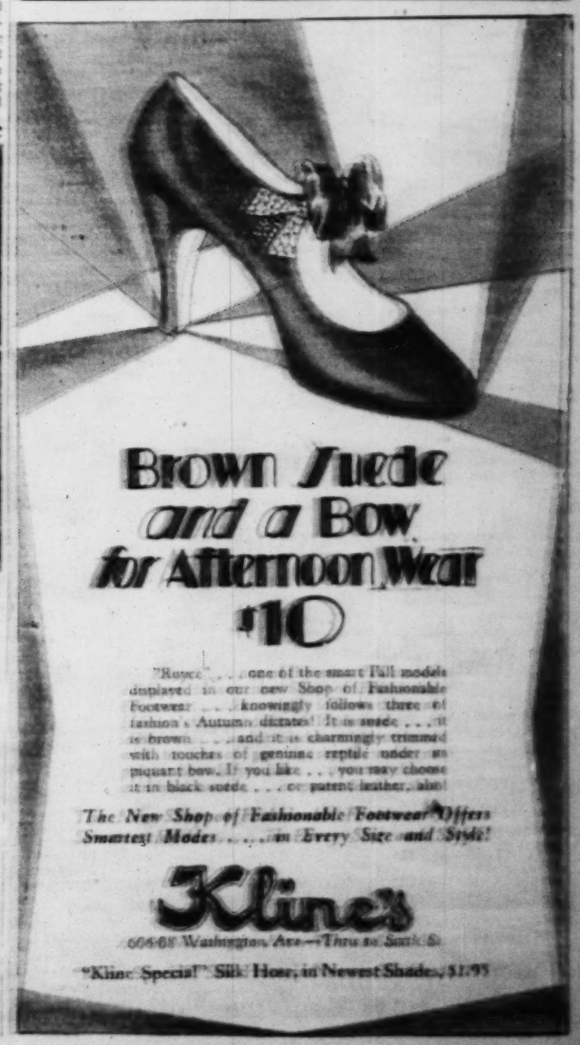

Naert's defense will defer its opening statement until the plaintiff has finished her case.

REPUBLICAN COTTON GROWER FOR SMITH

Xenophon Caverno, Head of Missouri Raisers of Staple, Praises Young's Stand.

The announcement of Owen D. Young, chairman of the board and former president of the General Electric Co., that he favors the candidacy of Gov. Smith, was characterized today as "the mark of a new economic era," by Xenophon Caverno, of Canalou, Mo., president of the Missouri Cotton Growers' Co-operation Association, member of the Committee of Twenty-two of the North Central States Agricultural Conference and a Republican.

Caverno's gratification at Young's pronouncement was based particularly upon Young's statement that he favored Smith's election because he believed Smith had the "willingness and capacity to put the farms of this country on an equality with its industries."

"If the people would read and understand Mr. Young's statement before election time, there would be only two doubtful States, Utah and Vermont," Caverno said. "To the little group who have fought the battle for equality for agriculture under the slogan 'protection for all or protection for none' this announcement means a fourth victory.

"The first victory was the forcing of the McNary-Haugen bill through Congress against the opposition and inertia of a majority of its members and the opposition of the administration and the reactionary wing of big business. The second was the adoption by the Democratic party of their agricultural program. "The third was the challenge that Governor Smith threw down to Herbert Hoover at Omaha when he removed all doubt of his own determination to make the tariff effective on those crops of which we produce an exportable surplus.

"With the Young statement as a fourth victory, the fifth will come when the people of the nation appreciate fully the human tragedy, as well as the economic loss, of the past eight years."

COOK SERIOUSLY INJURED WHEN HIT BY PASTOR'S AUTO

Henry McLaughlin, 7016 Manchester, Run Over Near Home by Sullivan, Mo., Minister.

Henry McLaughlin, a cook, 7016 Manchester avenue, suffered a fractured skull, a fractured left arm, several fractured ribs and internal injuries last night when he was struck and run over by the machine driven by the Rev. James L. Delk, 41 years old, of Sullivan, Mo., near Manchester and McCausland avenues. McLaughlin was attempting to cross from the south side of the street to the north when run down. His condition is serious.

David Dormond, 6 years old, and his mother, Mrs. Nellie Dormond, of 3807 Blaine avenue, were injured yesterday afternoon when the machine in which they were riding overturned near St. Peters, Mo. The boy suffered a fractured skull and is in a serious condition at City Hospital. The mother suffered cuts and bruises.

$5000 DIAMOND ROBBERY AT JEWELRY STORE

Eigthy-four diamond rings and several unset diamonds, all valued at approximately $5000, were stolen in a holdup last night at the jewelry shop of Eugene Kiefer, 5204 Gravois avenue.

Kiefer told police one of the robbers entered about 6 o'clock and inspected diamond rings, announcing he wanted to purchase a ring on the installment plan for a Christmas present. The man left, promising to return. The second robber entered and looked over several watches. The first man then returned and both drew revolvers and forced Kiefer and his watchmaker, Miles H. Gregory, into a rear room.

A customer, Fred Bishop, came in the store and he was taken back with the others. While one of the robbers guarded the three, the other took the tray containing the rings and stones. They escaped in an automobile.

Two Groceries Entered.

When a man with a revolver and a blue handkerchief masking his face walked into the grocery of Henry Schulze, 5446 Ridge avenue, last night, and ordered hands up, Schulze and two employes ran out a rear door. The robber fired a shot, which passed through the door and into a rear garage. Then the robber ran out the front door without taking anything.

A robber, thought to have been the same man, had obtained $100 in a holdup a few minutes before at the grocery of Samuel Fishman, 5 86 Wells avenue. Fishman was locked in an icebox by the robber, and released a few minutes later by a customer.

When a Negro with a revolver stepped on the runningboard of his automobile as he was about to drive into his garage, last night, Victor Utterbach, 3914 Lafayette avenue, "stepped on the gas," knocking the holdup man off and speeding away.

Apartment House Robbed.

A burglar who visited an apartment building at 4616 Loughborough avenue, yesterday, took two watches, a revolver and $12 from the apartment of Benjamin Singer, a child's bank containing $2 from the apartment of Raymond Klauss, and $15, two watches and jewelry valued at $150 from the apartment of Joseph Deeker. Neighbors said a man drove up to the building, was inside for half an hour, and then drove away.

The same man, police suspect, raided the tenth-floor offices of the Pennsylvania Railroad and the twelfth-floor offices of the American Agricultural Co., Syndicate Trust Building, obtaining a purse containing $2 from the former and a watch from a desk in the agricultural company offices. Entrance was effected by jimmying the doors.

A sneak thief ransacked the desks of F. H. Hamilton, vice president of the Frisco Railroad, 912 Frisco Building, and F. C. Miller, head of the legal department, 1027 Frisco Building, mixing up papers, but apparently taking nothing. Presumably the burglar used a duplicate key to enter the offices.

Mrs. Daniel D. Hughes, 4253 West Pine boulevard, reported two diamond rings valued at $250 were stolen from her handbag while she was at the Madison dog track last night.

17 SPEEDERS PAROLED ON PLEDGE NOT TO DRIVE

Seventeen speeders were paroled yesterday by Police Judge Blocher on their promise not to drive an automobile for 30 days and Harold E. Nash 3207 Vista avenue, was ordered not to drive for six months because of his previous record of traffic violations.

Those paroled for 30 days are: Howard Limebrook, 6800A Virginia; Robert Mullholland, 5038 Tholozan avenue; Paul Harder, 5411 Thrush avenue; Joseph Katzenburger, 914 North Grand; Paul Troester, 2929 California avenue; J. L. Mulholand, 431 Laurel street; Theodore Bedford, 4146 Blaine avenue; Walter Martin, 2206A North Market; Fred Schlingman, 6040 Maple street; Charles Chance, 5042 Wabada avenue; Daniel P. Williams, 2746 Limit avenue; Robert E. Meyer, 1819A Lafayette avenue; William J. Taylor, 1635 Vandeventer avenue; H. A. Dahmer, 4145 Bowen avenue; Ollie Haemmerle, 2563 Benton avenue; Ralph Lindsey, 939 Switzer avenue, and Edward Holdegraver, 3722 California avenue.

Oscar Holcomb, 1205 Dolman street, was fined $100 and sentenced to 30 days in the Workhouse for driving an automobile when intoxicated.

PARADE PLANNED FOR HOMECOMING DAY OF CARDINALS

Players to Ride in Autos Through Downtown District Saturday on Arrival From New York.

The homecoming celebration in honor of the Cardinals' baseball team, when they return to St. Louis Saturday afternoon, will be in the form of an automobile parade through the downtown district, it was decided today at a meeting of the Cardinals' Celebration Committee in Mayor Miller's ofice.

The parade will assemble on Twentieth street between Market and Walnut streets, at 4 p. m., and will start as soon as the pennant-winning players alight from the special Pennsylvania train on which they will come from New York after the second game with the Yankees Friday.

The procession will move west on Market street to Twentieth street, north to Washington avenue, east to Fourth street, south to Olive street and west to Jefferson avenue, where it will disband.

Wives to Ride With Players.

As suggested by Clarence Lloyd, Cardinals' secretary, arrangements will be made so that the wives of the players may ride in the cars with them. The parade will move as rapidly as possible in order not to tire the players, who are scheduled to play the third game of the series in Sportsman's Park Sunday afternoon.

Originally it was planned to have a parade from Union boulevard to the City Hall by way of Lindell boulevard and Olive street, but this plan was set aside because of the expense and delay of transferring the train to Union boulevard.

The Celebration Committee also decided to cancel the plan for several thousand members of the "Knothole Gang," an organization of boys who enjoy a free gate at certain Cardinals' games, to lead the parade. It was pointed out that some of the boys might be injured in the crush, and also that they might prefer to see the players from the side-lines.

To Take 21 Hours on Road.

The exact time of arrival of the players is uncertain, inasmuch as it will depend on the close of the game in New York Friday. Secretary Lloyd telegraphed yesterday that the train would leave an hour after the close of the game and would be 21 hours on the road.

Jack H. Grosse, general chairman of the Celebration Committee, announced today that almost $1000 had been contributed by fans to the homecoming fund. In 1926, $8500 was contributed and each player received a $100 watch.

The first batch of tickets for the 27,000 box seats and reserved grand stand seats for the three world series baseball games to be played in St. Louis Sunday, Monday and Tuesday were mailed out this afternoon and the remainder will be mailed tomorrow, it was announced today at the offices of the St. Louis National League Baseball Club.

Meanwhile, checks are being returned to 50,000 or more applicants whose orders, running upwards of $1,300,000, could not be filled because of the limited seating capacity. The last of the tickets and refunds, it is expected, will be in the mail tomorrow night.

Fan, 81, Gets Ticket.

Sam Breadon, president of the Cardinals' club, announced one exception to the rule of drawing by lot under which the ticket reservations were awarded. The exception was in favor of an 81-year-old baseball fan who wrote from Fresna, Cal., explaining that if he didn't get a ticket to one of the St. Louis world series games he never expected to see one. Breadon set aside a single ticket and the man telegraphed the necessary remittance.

Stock of the St. Louis National League Baseball Club, which is unlisted and seldom traded in, was quoted yesterday at $95 bid and $105 asked, well above the top of $80 at which shares changed hands when the Cardinals captured the world championship in 1926. Confidence in the stock, observers say, is based on the club's three-year record, the Cardinals have taken a world series in 1926, run second by a game and a half in the National League in 1927, and captured the league pennant this year.

Gerk Opposes Letting Fans Roost on Buildings to See Games.

Baseball fans who expect to see the world series by standing on roofs and sitting on chimneys of buildings surrounding Sportsman's Park will be disappointed, if Chief of Police Gerk has his way.

During the 1926 world series the unconventional positions occupied by such nonpaying fans thrilled some of the spectators inside the park, among them Graham McNamee, radio announcer, who told "the whole world" about it. Chief Gerk, fearing somebody may fall from a chimney or roof and get killed, today wrote to Director of Safety Brod, asking for an order prohibiting the use of buildings for such purposes.

"You Get the Girl—We'll Do the Rest"

SARGENT SILENT ON ACTIVITIES OF MRS. WILLEBRANDT

Attorney-General Refuses to Discuss His Order Forbidding Political Partisanship by Subordinates.

Post-Dispatch Bureau,
201-205 Kellogg Building.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Attorney-General Sargent refused yesterday to discuss his order of Sept. 1, 1926, forbidding any presidential appointee or any other unclassified employee of the Department of Justice "to display such obtrusive partisanship as to cause public scandal" or "to neglect his public duties" while engaged in a political campaign.

The order was discussed in a Post-Dispatch editorial last Friday, saying that if the order meant anything "President Coolidge and Mr. Sargent will dismiss Mrs. Willebrandt and others who are openly violating the rule."

Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, Assistant Attorney-General, has spoken repeatedly before large church gatherings against Gov. Smith, the Democratic presidential nominee, and Roscoe C. Patterson, District Attorney of the Western Missouri District, who is the Republican candidate for the Senate, has been active in his own behalf.

The editorial containing the text of the 1926 order was shown to the Attorney-General by his secretary. According to the secretary, Sargent read the editorial and said, "I have nothing to say on the subject."

His Customary Answer.

This is a stock phrase of the Attorney-General when confronted with a specific question. He has used it so often at his semiweekly press conferences that few correspondents now attend the conferences. Efforts to elicit further information bring the same reply. Except in rare instances it is impossible for a newspaper man to see Attorney-General Sargent alone. All newspaper contacts with him and the department must be made through the departmental publicity man.

The complete order as sent to all employes of the Department of Justice shows that Sargent added to the original order of the Civil Service Commission, which said: "No person in the executive Civil Service shall use his official authority or influence for the purpose of interfering with an election or affecting the results thereof. Persons who by the provisions of these rules are in the competitive classified service, while retaining the right to vote as they please and to express privately their opinions on all political subjects, shall take no active part in political management or in political campaigns."

What Sargent Provided.

Sargent amended the order as follows: "In addition, the following rule is hereby promulgated governing the political activity of presidential appointees and persons not in the classified service!

"No presidential appointee or other unclassified employe of the Department of Justice will hereafter be permitted (a) to hold a position as a member of any political committee that solicits funds; (b) to display such obtrusive partisanship as to cause public scandal; (c) to attempt to manipulate party primaries or conventions; (d) to use his position to bring about his selection as delegate to conventions; (e) to act as chairman of a political convention; (f) to assume active conduct of a political campaign; (g) to use his position to interfere with an election or to affect the result thereof; (h) to neglect his public duties."

Attaches of the department, speaking of the example presented by Patterson, stated that in the past District Attorneys who ran for office had been required to resign after they had been nominated. No order to this effect could be found nor could it be learned whether Patterson had offered his resignation. Officials who would naturally know stated that such a resignation had not come over their desks.

How Employes Are Affected.

In view of the present political activities of some of the officials higher up in the Department of Justice, Sargent's 1926 order offers an interesting contrast when it limits the political activities of unclassified laborers in the department. Following are a few of the many forms of political activity which have been held to the forbidden to employes amenable to the order:

(a) Service on political committees; (b) as delegates to political conventions; (c) as officer or representative of a political club convention or meeting; (d) activity at the polls; (e) publication of political articles; (f) editing of partisan newspaper; (g) distribution of political literature; (h) making political speeches; (i) service as checker, canvasser or inspector of elections, as ballot clerk or inspector, as judge of elections or member of election board; (j) candidacy for or holding elective office; (k) political management or leadership."

Plant to Cost $175,000 to Be Erected at Parks Airport.

Parks Aircraft Inc., a $2,000,000 concern to be located at Parks Airport, near East St. Louis, will begin production of a cabin monoplane about Jan. 1, according to an announcement made today by Russell E. Gardner Jr., president of the Gardner Motor Co. and chairman of the board of Parks Aircraft, Inc.

Announcement that a fourth airplane manufacturing company was to be established in the St. Louis district, with Gardner at its head, was made exclusively in the Post-Dispatch Sept. 6.

Construction of a modern factory, to cost $175,000, will be started at Parks Airport this week. The plant will cover an area 560 by 100 feet and will have a capacity of 200 planes a month. About 300 workmen will be employed, the majority being recruited from the Parks Air College and Mechanics School, which now have a enrollment of more than 200.

Two models of the monoplane, which so far has not been named, are under construction at the field and will be tested in flight about Nov. 1. Details of design for the new monoplane were supplied by Oliver L. Parks, vice-president and general manager of Parks' Airlines; Amos O. Payne, designer of the "Swallow," a commercial plane, and Richard F. Hardin, former naval officer and designer of the Douglas cruisers used by the Army round-the-world flyers.

1000 OHIO M. E. PASTORS PLEDGE SUPPORT TO HOOVER

Bishop Henderson's Telegram Praises Mrs. Willebrandt for Speeches in State.

By the Associated Press.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 2.—Support of more than 1000 Methodist Episcopal ministers in Ohio was pledged to Herbert Hoover in a telegram sent to the nominee yesterday by Bishop Theodore Henderson. At the same time he sent a message to Dr. Hubert Work, chairman of the Republican National Committee, expressing "appreciation for the timely and trenchant messages on law enforcement brought us by Mrs. Willebrandt."

The bishop, in both telegrams, denied Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrant, Assistant United States Attorney-General, in her speeches before the recent Ohio conference at Springfield or the Northeast conference at Lorain, had appealed to religious intolerance.

"In the name of Ohio Methodism," Bishop Henderson telegraphed to Hoover, "I desire to report that the services of Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt in Ohio have produced a profound impression on the moral forces of the entire State and will make a tremendous contribution to your victory in November. I assure you that in neither of her addresses has she appealed in the remotest way to religious intolerance or produced it.

"In Lorain last Sunday night, an influential Catholic attorney, listening to her address over the local radio, declared that his support of Gov. Smith was ended because of her arguments and the complete fairness with which she marshaled her facts.

"Gov. Smith's attack on Mrs. Willebrandt only proves how effectively she has pierced his armor. More than 1000 Methodist Episcopal ministers in Ohio pledge you their enthusiastic support because we believe you will courageously continue to enforce the noble experiment of the eighteenth amendment in a constructive fashion."

NEGRO BOY, HURT IN 'HOOKING' RIDE ON AUTOMOBILE, DIES

Andrew Washington's Death Brings Motor Car Fatalities Here to 135 for Year.

Andrew Washington, 12 years old, a Negro, of 2643 La Salle street, died last night of injuries suffered last Friday when he fell from an automobile on which he and his brother had "hooked" a ride. His skull was fractured.

The death brings the number of fatalities in automobile accidents to 135 for this year. The number last year for the corresponding period was 92.

Charles Artinger, 34 years old, a miller of New Athens, Ill., died today at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Belleville, of injuries suffered early Sunday when he lost control of his car on the highway two miles southeast of Belleville and plunged down an eight-foot embankment. The car overturned, pinning him beneath it.

KILLING BY BUS ACCIDENTAL

Coroner's Jury Gives Verdict in Death of Mrs. Louise Couch.

A verdict of accident was returned in East St. Louis yesterday by a Coroner's jury investigating the death of Mrs. Louise Couch, 47 years old, 511 Ohio avenue, East St. Louis, who was killed by a bus Saturday evening as she was crossing State street at Eighty-second street.

Kenneth R. Nelson, 22, Centralia, Ill., driver of the bus, testified he did not see Mrs. Couch until she was directly in front of the machine. He was released.

HELD FOR KILLING RECLUSE

Youth Said to Have Admitted He Shot and Robbed Man.

By the Associated Press.

SALINA, Kan., Oct. 2.—Jack Glynn, private detective of Leavenworth, Kan., made public yesterday a confession he said he has obtained from William Bascue, 19 years old, admitting the fatal shooting Sept. 21 of Charles W. (Pancy) Allen, 70 years old, a recluse truck gardener, on his small farm near Ellsworth, Kan.

Bascue took $8 from Allen's pockets after shooting him, according to the confession. Ellsworth police say the youth had admitted he killed the recluse for money.

Missouri Girl is a Winner

Every mother realizes how important it is to teach children good habits of conduct, but many of them fail to realize the importance of teaching their children good bowel habits until the poisons from decaying waste held too long in the system have begun to affect the child's health.

Watch your child, and at the first sign of constipation give her a little California Fig Syrup. Children love its rich, fruity taste, and it quickly drives away those distressing ailments such as headaches, bad breath, coated tongue, biliousness, feverishness, fretfulness, etc. It gives them a hearty appetite, regulates their stomach and bowels and gives tone and strength to these organs so they continue to act normally of their own accord. For over fifty years leading physicians have prescribed it for half-sick, bilious, constipated children. More than 4 million bottles used a year shows how mothers depend on it.

Mrs. E. Baron, 148 Washington St., St. Louis, says: "My daughter, Aline, is a prize winner for health now, but we had a lot of trouble with her before we found her trouble was constipation and began giving her California Fig Syrup. It fixed her up quick, gave her a good appetite, made her sleep fine and she's been gaining in weight right along since the first few days of taking it."

RETURN OF DEMOCRACY URGED BY GOV. RITCHIE

He Declares Men Oppose Dry Law Because It Restricts Liberty to Drink.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Gov. Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland in an address urging the "return of Democracy," broadcast from Station WMAL in Washington and 19 allied stations, last night urged the establishment of State rights as means of "keeping the government close to the people," and declared the fatal defect of the prohibition law is that it "restricts men's liberty of decision."

"The term state rights is not now a particularly well chosen one," Ritchie said. "Yet it is the term that has always been applied to those who take the side of the states against the advancing and encroaching federalism of any kind—the side of less government against more government.

"Today we are face to face with a development of relationship between the nation and the states which has been made at last acute by the constantly expanding growth of Federal power at the expense of the powers and duties reserved to the states. The struggle is now for state domain."

Injecting the question of State rights into the prohibition issue, Ritchie said:

"Men's grievance against prohibition is not that it restricts their drink, but that it restricts their liberty of decision to drink or not to drink. It invades a field in which men instinctively feel that their rights of self-government are sovereign.

"If the political mind and ingenuity of one State conceives of this or that possible change, it can put it to the test of experiment and the others can copy. If they do not all copy or cannot all agree that is their right and should be respected."

PORTES GIL ASKED TO BE LENIENT IN CHURCH POLICY

Bishop Requests That Priests in Mexico Be Allowed to Hold Services in Homes.

By the Associated Press.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 2.—Speaking without the authority of other prelates, Bishop Miguel De La Mora of San Luis Potosi has addressed an open letter to President-Elect Portes Gil expressing confidence that he may relieve the condition of the Mexican Catholics by enforcing the religious law without resorting to punishment or rigor.

The Bishop said that thus Portes Gil would support new policies outlined by President Calles in his recent message to Congress in which he "opened new horizons in our political life and gave rise to hopes of a prosperous Mexico, the sons of which would be linked by fraternal bonds in an atmosphere of liberty for all lawful inclinations and honest ambitions."

After defining the words "private" and "public," the Bishop concluded that the constitution did not forbid the practice of religious services within homes because they are private, and that neither were householders liable to arrest and punishment because they invited friends to attend such services. Consequently he asked that Catholics throughout the country be allowed to have priests conduct religious services within the homes.

The Bishop appealed to the President-elect to give serious consideration to a "sincere and respectful petition on behalf of concord and harmony in the Mexican family and to relieve the distressing situation of the Mexican Catholics."

AUTOS ARE CHIEF CAUSE OF ACCIDENTAL DEATHS IN U. S.

One of Four Fatalities in This Class Attributed to Motor Cars by Statistician.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—The automobile is the leading cause of fatal accidents in the United States, accounting for one out of every four accidental deaths, declares Dr. Louis I. Dublin, statistician of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.

Addressing the National Safety Congress today, he said: "Accidents of all kinds caused 95,500 deaths in the United States last year. The increase for 1927 over 1926 was 4 per cent and if this rate should be maintained in 1928 nearly 100,000 deaths from accidents would occur during the present year. About one death in six is attributed to accidental causes.

In 1927, for the first time, the accident death rate for 100,000 motor cars showed a decisive increase, rising to 100.5 for 23,000,000 automobiles, whereas before last year it had been decreasing.

"Of the 25,800 automobile fatalities in the United States, 65 per cent were those of pedestrians," Dublin said, and that only 13 per cent occurred in collisions between automobiles, 4 per cent in collisions between automobiles and railroad trans and 7 per cent in non-collision automobile accidents."

Accidents in the home—numbering from 23,000 to 25,000 each year—exceeded the total of industrial or occupational fatalities each year, Dublin said.

Many Factors Against Hoover In His Home State of California

Democrats Use Failure of Bean Market in War Days in Fight on Republican Candidate.

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 2. — This State which sent forth its adopted son as Republican color bearer is not necessarily unanimously for him, just as New York is not an indivisible unit behind its own Governor Smith.

It is a paradox in this season of paradoxes that certain elements of Hoover's own California have found more reasons that they consider sound for votina against him than have opposing groups in perhaps any other State. The verity of the situation is attested by Republican campaign leaders, but they declare the discordant forces to be small and misunderstanding minorities.

The Hoover managers are not alarmed; they speak of winning majorities ranging from 300,000 to 500,000 votes, and they say so with an air of certainty and finality. At headquarters both here and in San Francisco, spokesmen have a practice of saying that almost any calamity could befall the campaign and still not bring defeat. At the same time they concede Gov. Smith is likely to poll a surprisingly large vote in this State.

War-Time Bean Crop Recalled.

It is to a variety of sources that the Democrats look for Republican support. One of them dates back to the post-war days when the California bean grower suddenly found himself with a bumper crop and no market, a situation laid by some at the door of Herbert Hoover, who was then Food Administrator, dealing in foodstuffs on a worldwide scale for the relief of the Allies. The contention here, voiced also in Democratic circles, is that Hoover encouraged the bean growers to plant a record crop and then bought beans abroad instead of here.

Republican headquarters at San Francisco has taken cognizance of the story by publishing a pamphlet entitled "How the California Bean Story Became a Political Tear Bomb." It sets forth that Hoover obtained options on Oriental beans only when it appeared that rainy weather was about to destroy the California crop. The weather then turned favorable, the pamphlet recites, and then the situation was about to straighten itself out, the armistice was signed and Europe laid down an embargo against food importations, eliminating California's needed market.

Church and Liquor Issues.

In this State, as elsewhere in the Pacific States of Oregon and Washington, prohibition and religion are questions that are giving the voters and politicians something to talk about. The big cities of Los Angeles, San Francisco and San Diego are wet and have large Catholic populations, the northern bay city in particular.

The State's prohibition record, however, set as late as 1926, is dry by a small margin. Two years ago a proposal to repeal the State enforcement law was defeated, 565,875 to 502,258. It is the aim of the Democrats to make a clean sweep in San Francisco and combine it with a similar majority in heavy-voting Los Angeles to upset the markin expected to be accumulated by the Republicans in the dry rural counties.

All the forecasts take seriously into consideration the fact that the 10 counties, including Los Angeles, below the Tehachapi Mountain range have more votes than the 48 above that line. Los Angeles County alone has more than 800,000 registered voters, more than some groups of five or six states combined, and more than one-third of California's total vote.

Prohibition Vote Summed Up.

Republicans profess to have no fear on the score of prohibition and think they are materially strengthened by the fact that the electors of the Prohibition party in the State are also the Hoover electors. What that will mean in votes is in dispute. Prohibition presidential candidates polled 18,000 votes in the Coolidge-Davis-La Follette campaign; 25,000 in the Harding-Cox contest and 27,000 when Hughes opposed Wilson.

As for the Catholicism of Gov. Smith drawing votes from Republican sources, the Hoover people are not at all sure that it will happen. They take some satisfaction that Joseph Scott of Los Angeles, ranking lay representative of the Pope in California, and one of those who seconded Hoover's nomination at Kansas City, is actively supporting the G. O. P. candidate.

La Follette Vote in Dispute.

The La Follette vote of 424,000 in 1924 also is a factor in this campaign. The Democrats claim it for Smith almost solidly and the Republicans appropriate a good share of it, although admitting that it was largely a "protest" vote against Republicanism. In recent years only Wilson carried California for the Democrats when he wrested it from Hughes by 4000 votes. In the Republican split of 1912, Roosevelt won it with a majority of less than 200 votes over Wilson, Taft running third.

Despite all the talking in both camps, California has a sphinx in the person of William Gibbs McAdoo, Madison Square Garden foe of the present Democratic nominee. There have been stories circulated that McAdoo would break his silence at his Santa Barbara home and indorse Smith. But there has come no indication that he will quit the political retirement he chose when he eliminated hi self as a candidate many months ago.

Two weeks later he held up another pedestrian, robbing him of $60. He was identified in each case. The State plan to prosecute Morrison as a habitual criminal was abandoned.

"What makes you so tired, Mother?"

Nerve strain and fatigue are relieved by these properly designed shoes that prevent and correct foot troubles

ARE you tired, worn-out at the end of the day? Too tired for the theatre, for dancing, for anything except restless slumber? Perhaps improperly shaped shoes are causing the trouble. Foot-ailments do injure your entire system. They cause headache, nerve-strain, fatigue and other ailments even worse.

And foot-troubles usually are as unnecessary as they are undesirable. It isn't bad feet—it's bad shoes. Shoes that pinch or burn. Shoes that throw your weight forward on your instep. Shoes that bring on fallen arches and flat feet.

You can find in Ground Grippers the same relief from foot troubles that thousands of other men and women have found. These shoes are orthopedically correct. They are scientifically designed to help your feet. They prevent and correct foot ills caused by ordinary, faulty shoes.

1. The Flexible Arch, which allows the foot muscles to exercise and thus strengthen themselves with every step. This flexibility makes the shoe close-fitting and comfortable, easing the foot while assisting the arch to absorb the shocks of walking.

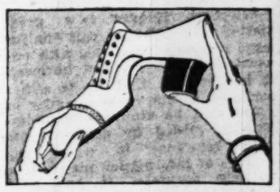

2. The Straight Inner Line, permitting the toes to function with a free, strong, gripping action.

3. The Patented Rotor Heel, which helps you toe straight ahead, the normal, natural way.

Back of every pair of Ground Grippers are twenty-five years of promises fulfilled. Back of every Ground Gripper claim are the testimonials of thousands of satisfied wearers.

Try Ground Grippers today. Notice how they ease your feet. How foot troubles dwindle and vanish.

At the nearest Ground Gripper store is a man who will understand your feet and your shoe problems. Give him the chance to help you.

REA PREFERS SMITH FOR THE PRESIDENCY

Former Railway Head Contrasts Qualifications of Nominees.

By BASIL MANLY,
A Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 2.—"Alfred E. Smith should command the support of American business men because he is an abler executive and will make a more efficient President of the United States than Hoover." Samuel Rea, former president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, declared today.

Frankly conceding that he would prefer Hoover as head of a great engineering project, as director of a relief expedition or as an efficiency expert, Rea takes the position that Smith's training and experience better fit him to meet the human problems that confront a President. Special interest attaches to this analysis of the records of the two presidential candidates by the dean of American railway executives because he knows both personally and expresses the highest admiration for the ability of each man in his own peculiar field. Rea's statement follows:

"I am supporting Alfred E. Smith for President because I am convinced that he meets the requirements that any prudent business man must establish in making his choice of the chief executive of this great republic.

Why He Prefers Smith.

"There are many positions, particularly those involving engineering ability or grasp of detail, for which I would unhesitatingly prefer Mr. Hoover, but there are certain qualities necessary for a President which it seems to me Gov. Smith possesses in a marked degree.

"I fully concede Mr. Hoover's extraordinary ability as engineer, organizer and efficiency expert and have long admired his great public services as administrator of relief funds and food supplies during the World War and his work as Secretary of Commerce.

"Nevertheless, a careful study of the records and methods of the two candidates convinces me that Gov. Smith will on the whole make the more efficient President of the United States. This conclusion is based not upon the personalities of the two candidates, but upon their capacities to meet the complex and difficult conditions that confront a President of the United States.

Qualities of a President.

"The qualities which, it seems to me, the chief executive of the nation should possess, are:

"1. Capacity to lead public opinion based on legislative and executive experience.

"2. Frankness and courage.

"3. Decision.

"4. Over and above all—common sense.

"An unbiased examination of the records of the two candidates leads inevitably to the conclusion that Gov. Smith has all of these qualities in an extraordinary measure.

"The ability of the New York Governor to mould public opinion and secure strong popular support for sound legislative proposals is impressive. His great success in securing reorganization of the inefficient State government in spite of a hostile Senate and Assembly was a demonstration of statesmanship of the highest order. Even Mr. Hoover's warmest supporters do not claim that he possesses this power of popular leadership in anything like the same degree.

A Contrast in Candor.

"Frankness and courage are likewise attributes that the American people should demand in every presidential candidate. Gov. Smith in his spech of acceptance has met every issue squarely. His bitterest enemies must admit his bravery and candor. Mr. Hoover, I regret to say, has chosen to cloak his attitude on some important questions in words of such ambiguity that his supporters are still in doubt as to where he stands.

"Decision also is necessary in a President because he is confronted constantly with great crises. He must weigh the issues and act decisively. This Gov. Smith has done throughout his career, winning thereby the praise of such stanch Republicans as Elihu Root and Charles Evans Hughes.

"Common sense is, after all, the essential quality in a President as in every other person holding a position of responsibility. It was the basis of the greatness of Washington and Lincoln and carried them serenely through crises that would have wrecked men of greater cleverness and broader education. They went to the heart of every question and founded their judgments upon fundamental principles. We can also say this with truth of Grover Cleveland who invariably took a common sense view on all questions.

Hoover and the Dry Law.

"Herbert Hoover is a great master of detail and can analyze large masses of statistics with unusual ability. Sometimes, however, it has seemed that he is either confused by the great quantity of detail that he attempts to assimilate or misled by some factors with reference to which the sources of information may not be entirely accurate. It has been stated, for example, that he played an important part in continuing the maintenance of the Jacksonville wage agreement which caused such disaster in the bituminous coal fields. If this be true, it must have resulted from a failure to grasp the fundamental conditions of that industry.

"While I respect the sincerity of Mr. Hoover's endorsement of the eighteenth amendment, it does not appear that he has squarely faced the facts of the situation. When, after nearly nine years' trial of a policy, we find conditions growing steadily worse and discover everywhere an extent of demoralization and corruption that is intolerable, common sense strongly suggests that we reconsider that policy and mark out a new course.

"That is what Gov. Smith is doing in urging the American people to modify their policy on this great question before corruption eats so deeply into the very vitals of the body politic that it can be removed only by the most drastic measures. On this issue I am whole-heartedly supporting him, confident that if elected he will be an advanced leader and a sound and successful executive."

New York Attorneys to Follow European Custom Next Saturday When Term Begins.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—For the first time in the history of the Catholic Church in this country, the mass of the Holy Ghost, known in Europe as the Red Mass, will be sung Saturday morning in St. Andrews Church to mark the opening of the fall term of the courts.

It long has been the custom of Catholic lawyers in Paris to attend the Red Mass once a year in St. Chapelle's and those of London in Westminster, and pray for divine guidance in their professional duties.

The mass at St. Andrew's is being instituted as an annual custom by the Catholic Lawyers' Guild which was founded at a retreat last May on the feast of St. Ives, the patron of the legal profession.

Cardinal Hayes will be present at the mass and will deliver an address. All the ministers of the celebration will be men who have been lawyers, and all the ushers and attendants at the service will be members of the bar.

BEAN CUT FROM BABY'S THROAT

Child From Steeleville, Mo., Recovering at St. Johns's Hospital.

Fay Cassidy, 14-months-old daughter of Mrs. Effie Cassidy of Steeleville, Mo., is recovering at St. John's Hospital from an operation performed Thursday to remove a bean which had lodged in her throat. She was rushed by automobile to the hospital, arriving there almost lifeless from strangulation.

The bronchoscope, because of the position of the bean, could not be used for its removal, and a surgical operation had to be performed.

COLUMBIA RADIO CHAIN SEEKS MODIFICATION OF ORDER

Appeals to Federal Radio Commission to Change Recent Ruling.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Modification of the order restricting chain broadcasting was sought yesterday by representatives of the Columbia Broadcasting Co. before the Federal Radio Commission. The commission's order prohibits the broadcasting of identical programs by stations on cleared channels except where those stations are separated by a distance of 300 miles. Station KMOX, St. Louis, would be affected.

Representatives of the Columbia chain asked the Commission to amend the regulation to apply only to stations on cleared channels and located less than 300 miles apart in the same zone.

The Commission has taken the Columbia proposal and protests of the National Broadcasting Co., which also operates a network, under advisement.

Five Held in Cleveland Bombing.

By the Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 2. — Police are holding five men as suspects in recent bombing cases here and threatening to hold them "until they can be convicted or chased out of town." Detective Inspector Cody caught the men in a round-up of gangsters yesterday after the bombing of the Clean Rite Dry Cleaning plant, the fifth in 10 days. The man had been arrested two months ago on the same charge, he said. One of the five suspects had on his person the written resignation of Louis Brown, president of the Clean Rite Co., from an organization of wholesale dry cleaners.' Brown told police his resignation probably was responsible for the bombing of his plant.

Building for the Future

There is Always a Reason for Supremacy

ON September 8th, 1913, fifteen years ago, when moving into this wonderful building we figured that our space would be adequate for 25 years or more. But, in the past 15 years our business multiplied four and a half times in volume. This spectacular growth, the result of our merchandising and value-giving policies, necessitated adding more space to properly serve the added thousands who, realizing the decided advantages of shopping here, choose this as their preferred store. We repeat there is always a reason for supremacy.

In 1920 we added two floors and May 1st of this year, we again secured four more floors which doubled our original space in this building. Hundreds of mechanics are now working here day and night to carry out our expansion program.

Good things will stand repeating often and so we again say when completed this will be one of the best appointed and most modernly equipped stores in the world.

Just as a gesture of what to expect when our expansion program is fully realized:

Visit our sixth floor and see the new art needlework, curtain and drapery department and gift shop.

Visit our seventh floor and see the new glass and chinaware section, not forgetting the new Crystal Room and Shop of Foreign Dinner Wares.

Visit our fifth floor and see the infants' wear section and the underwear, negligee and house dress sections, and there are many more interesting facts to be unfolded later—all part of our "Building for the Future" Expansion Program.

HAFEY'S EDGE OVER MEUSEL IS THE ONLY EXCEPTION

By J. Roy Stockton

of the Post-Dispatch Sport Staff.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Any tendency to grow over-confident in the face of the monotonous unanimity with which baseball experts are picking the Cardinals as outstanding favorites to win the world series is jolted by a glance at the batting averages, and Manager McKechnie, eager to offset nonchalant cockiness, would do well to make a survey of the figures just of today's practice session.

Yesterday the boys went through batting and fielding drill, limbered their muscles running around the Yankee Stadium, posed for the camera men and then went back to the hotel and read where 99 out of every 99 writers paraphrased the same thought—that the Cardinals ought to knock the Yankees out from their world title hopes in a row of games, perhaps four, but the most six.

"Cardinals favored to win series'." "Yankees badly crippled for diamond classic." "Breeze for Reds this sure."

That's what the sport pages told the Cardinals yesterday morning, last night and again this morning.

Will Go Down Fighting.

Even the Yankees themselves are inclined to agree with existing agreement as to the ominous outlook. They said they'd go down fighting and a few of them tried to perk up and say something that might be put down as indicative of a stiff upper lip. But it was an effort and Huggins' men appeared resigned to the acceptance of the losers' share of the world series spoils.

And the funny part of it is that the averages don't show that the Yankees are so hopeless or helpless. Taking the Cardinal batting order and comparing the figures with the marks of the Yankees who will play in corresponding positions we find that Chick Hafey is the only Red Bird who outbatted the Yankee who will play in the same part of the field for the American League champions. Chick has batted .340, while Bob Meusel, the Yankee left fielder, has an average of .302. In every other position except behind the plate, where Wilson and Bengough batted with .264, the Yankees have the edge.

Combs, if he plays, will have an advantage over Douthit, having a mark of .330 to Taylor's .299.

Lazerri's mark is .321, Lazzeri's .305; Gehrig's is .369 and Lindstrom's .324. Ruth, in right field, with .319, has outbatted Harry Heilmann, whose mark is .298, and with Ruth in right the Yankees have a batting edge, as Wattie has batted only .275. The catchers as mentioned before, are even and Koenig at shortstop with .310, has a 65-point edge over Maranville's .245 batting average.

Averages, of course, can be disregarded in figuring a world series but they certainly have been. History of world series shows that averages mean nothing when athletes meet on the diamond for the world series. Who, for instance, would have hazarded the guess that Tommy Thevenow would out-bat Babe Ruth in 1926. But Tommy did out hit the Bambino and all the other New York sluggers. The experts are not figuring this series on averages. They make the Cardinals the outstanding favorite because McKechnie's men won in a walking finish. They were challenged by the Reds, the Cubs and the Giants at different times and the contenders were at the head of the stretch every team in the division had a chance. But the Cardinals beat back the Cubs and the Reds and while they faltered against the Giants they found a stronger team at the finish and breezed through Philadelphia, Brooklyn and Boston to win the pennant. Five straight games taken in Philadelphia, three out of four in Brooklyn and three

HARRIS WILL NOT MANAGE SENATORS IN '29

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—"Bucky" Harris, for five years manager of the Washington Senators, will not pilot the team next year, Clark Griffith, owner of the club, announced today.

Griffith said that it had not been decided whether Harris would remain as a player on the team. No one has been selected to take his place, Griffith added. Joe Judge, veteran first baseman for the Senators has been mentioned often as a possible successor to Harris.

Harris became manager of the Washington club in 1924, won the American League pennant that year and beat the New York Giants in the world series. He repeated the next year in the American League but lost to Pittsburg in the world series.

This year the Senators were picked as contenders for the pennant, but were unable to hit their stride until late in the season. They finished in the first division after a long winning streak in August and September.

"Booed" During 1928.

Since the winning of the pennant in 1925, "Bucky's" popularity has gradually waned, Griffith Field has heard him booed many times during the season just closed.

In addition to winning the plaudits of the baseball multitudes, Harris stepped into Washington social circles and married one of the capital's society buds. His wedding to Miss Elizabeth Sutherland, daughter of Howard Sutherland, allied Property Custodian and former Senator from West Virginia, was attended by President and Mrs. Coolidge. One of the few times that the President has attended such a function. It was a social triumph for the former Pennsylvania mine boy.

$100,000 for Three Years.

Harris was reputed to be one of the highest salaried players in baseball. He had a three-year contract with the Washington club which was said to have aggregated him $100,000 for the three seasons.

Bucky was listed among the "modern" managers who did not require strict training rules from his players, maintaining that as long as they turned up on the field capable of playing their best baseball it was none of his business what they did between times. He did require absolute discipline on the playing field as was demonstrated when he benched the temperamental "Goose" Goslin, his leading hitter, following a disagreement.

CAPABLANCA LEADS U. S. STAR BY ONE POINT IN CHESS MEET

By the Associated Press.

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Oct. 2.—Three adjourned games were played off in the International Chess Masters' tournament yesterday. H. Steiner of New York, A. Steiner of Budapest, and Kmoch of Vienna were the winners. Marshall, the United States champion, by losing to A. Steiner, was left in second place, one full point behind Capablanca of Havana. Kmoch advanced to third place.

DE PALMA AND VAIL IN SPECIAL TITLE RACE

By the Associated Press.

TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 2.—Ralph De Palma and Ira Vail automobile racers, will compete in a special race at the Trenton Fair Grounds on Columbus day, Oct. 12, for the Eastern dirt track championship.

The race will be sponsored and supervised by the American Automobile Association and the winner will be officially recognized as the champion of the East.

The race will be staged in three heats of three miles each.

ESPINOSA WINS MATCH, 8 AND 7; LEO DIEGEL IS VICTOR, 9 AND 8

By the Associated Press.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 2.—Shooting exactly par golf over this extra tough Five Farms course, sturdy Al Espinosa of Chicago entered the second round of the National Professional Golf Association today by defeating Johnny Golden of Paterson, N. J., 8 up and 7 to play.

Espinosa's par 70 in the morning 18 holes left him 11 up, but Golden was playing so miraculously in the afternoon that he scored a 32 on the out nine par for which is 35, and carried the battle to the 29th green before the Chicagoan could end it. The result of the match again boomed the stock of Espinosa, who won the qualifying medal yesterday with a 142.

With a pulverizing run of five birdies an vdfie pars for the 10 holes required to complete his match in the afternoon, Leo Diegel of White Plains, N. Y., defeated Tony Manero, Elmsford, N. Y., 9 and 8. Diegel had been 3 up after the morning round.

Glenn Spencer, sensational young representative of the home sector, hailing from Garrison, Md., gained a place in the second round by eliminating Fred McDermott, Shelbyville, Ind., 8 and 7.

NAVY SQUAD GETS LONG, HARD WORKOUT FOLLOWING DEFEAT

By the Associated Press.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 2.—Coach Bill Ingram, head coach of the Navy's football forces, put his men through the toughest Monday session since the start of practice yesterday, following the defeat Saturday by Davis-Elkins, Giant killer from West Virginia.

Monday is usually devoted to light work, but Ingram, with Johnny Wilson, backfield coach, sent the squad through a hard afternoon's work. The line, which showed far from what the coaches thought it should Saturday in the season's opener, was given continual charges against the second stringers.

Perfection of the play which will be used against Notre Dame got chief attention, though Boston College, next opponent for the Middies, is not being taken lightly. The practice session showed a better spirit, according to the coaches, than it had heretofore.

Hoyt Is Likely to Give Cardinals Most Trouble, In Opinion of Alexander

By Grover Alexander
Pitcher, St. Louis Cardinals.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Everybody and his brother is predicting how this series is going to turn out and, while the breaks are likely to upset the dope in any short struggle like this seven-game affair, I guess one more guess, from an old campaigner, won't hurt.

The Cardinals are going into the series with the belief that we are going to win easily from the Yankees. We have beaten them before and we can beat them again and I personally do not expect it to take us seven games.

We felt right along that the Yankees would be the easier team to beat and the fact that they are going to be our opponents, adds to our confidence. Not that we are going into the series overconfident. Not at all. When I say we ought to win easily I do not mean that the Yankees are a push-over.

I would not be surprised to see the series end in five games and if Hoyt does not stop us we may make as clean a sweep as these same Yankees did in 1927 over the Pirates.

You can put one thing down and bet on it and that is if the series is a four-game or a five-game affair, we will be the one to do the winning. And I really believe the Yankees will be doing very well if they manage to win as many as two games.

McKechnie, of course, has the job of selecting the pitchers. But I believe Sherdel will pitch the opener and win and that after I pitch the second, Jess Haines will take the third and that Sherdel with an extra day of rest while we are traveling, will go back against the enemy in the fourth game. Of course that routine might be upset if we ran into an unexpected barrage of base hits.

As I said before, Hoyt, in my opinion, is the only Yankee pitcher who is likely to bother us. He has been through it all and knows what it is about. He is pretty sure to open the series and if he doesn't take his game, clear the track for a quick trip to the world title for the Cardinals.

Pipgras and Henry Johnson, of course, are unknown quantities to us, in that we have never faced them. But I don't expect them to give us any troubles.

LITTLE WORLD SERIES TEAMS ARE IDLE TODAY

By the Associated Press.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 2.

THE Little World Series contenders—Indianapolis of the American Association, and Rochester of the International League—took short workouts today at Washington Park, where the series, begun in Rochester last week, will be resumed tomorrow.

The teams reached here yesterday from Rochester, where the Indianapolis team won two games, lost one and tied for fourth.

The workout for Rochester today was the first opportunity of the Red Wings to try out the local field. Rains on two successive nights have softened the field.

DEFEATS EXCALIBUR BY LENGTH IN DRIVE

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—T. M. Cassidy's Indian Scout, son of Campfire, won the Meteor Handicap, six furlongs, second race on today's race card at Aqueduct. Indian Scout won by a length from Greentree Stable's Excalibur. Fine Champagne, owned by the Fal de Saint Phalle Stable, was third. Only four horses started.

Indian Scout and Excalibur broke fast with the latter, having his nose in front as the field reached the first turn. Excalibur led until the middle of the stretch where Indian Scout wore him down and won driving by a length. Excalibur was easily second, two lengths in advance of Fine Champagne. Wee Burn, the other starter, was outrun.

Indian Scout was ridden by J. Burke, who also rode the winner of the opening race. Indian Scout ran the six and one-half furlongs in 1:19 and paid 8 to 5. Excalibur was the favorite.

Fire Line Graduates.

John E. Madden's Fire Line, with J. Burke in the saddle, won the first race, a dash of five furlongs for maiden two-year-olds. Fire Line made all the pace and won in a drive by a half length from Eastland Farm's Donnatina. Mrs. Clyde Phillips' Sport was third.

Fire Line broke rapidly and assumed the lead at the first turn with Sport second and Donnatina third. As the field swung into the stretch, Donnatina came fast on the outside and was slowly wearing the winner down. Fire Line hung on long enough to win by half a length. Donnatina beat Sport by a length for the place.

Twelve starters faced the barrier. Fire Line won the five furlongs in 1:01 and paid 6 to 1.

"HOD" ELLER, REDS' STAR PITCHER IN '19 SERIES, CRITICALLY INJURED

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 2.—Horace (Hod) Eller, 32, Indianapolis city policeman, who pitched the Cincinnati Reds to two victories over the Chicago White Sox in the 1919 world series, is in the city hospital here with a possible fractured skull following an automobile accident Sunday in which he was thrown out on the pavement.

Examination by physicians immediately after the accident revealed no serious injuries. Another examination yesterday, however, showed a possible fractured skull and his condition was said to be critical.

straight in Boston.

Giants Had Same Chance.

It has been said that this was a great break for the Cardinals, to have all those games with the weak teams at the finish. But the Giants had the same opportunity. New York played Boston 22 times and Philadelphia 22 times. But whereas the Cardinals took 20 of the 22 from the Philadelphians and 18 of the 22 from the Braves, the Giants won only 17 from the Philadelphias and 16 from the Braves.

To offset this advantage, the Cardinals had of finishing against weaker opposition the Giants had the edge of playing in their own park, before sympathetic stands. But despite their own trick park and the cheers of the faithful fans, the Giants cracked in the stretch and lost three out of four to the Cubs, while the Cardinals, showing the courage of champions, accepted the Giants' challenge and put on extra speed in their stretch drive.

Thus the Cardinals have shown their courage and their skill. They won driving, with all their athletes in fine condition and that is why they are favored to beat the Yankees, who also won driving, but who were staggering at the finish, groggy as a result of pulled muscles, sore arms and tired limbs.

Cards More Experienced.

The same Cardinals, with changes in the personnel, of course, beat these same Yankees in 1926. But this year the Cardinals are more experienced. They have won more games in a tighter race. Their record in 1926 was one of the worst of a pennant winner, while their mark of this campaign was one of the best. And because of that and because the Yankees have lost Pennock and Wilcey Moore and because Lazzeri has a sore arm and because Babe Ruth's props are shaky and because Earl Combs has a damaged wrist and is out of the game, the Cardinals seemingly ought to make a runaway of the struggle.

Take a Pennock from any club and you just about ruin it. Take Haines or Sherdel from the Cardinals and they would be a push-over for any good club. If the Cardinals had lost either of their two great hurlers in midseason, they could not have won the pennant. But the Yankees, thanks to their great start and an inferiority complex that plagued the Athletics whenever they met the Yankees, did win a pennant after losing their greatest pitcher.

Neither manager has named the starting pitcher for the first game, but it wasn't necessary. The master minds of the grandstand, press box and of the street have done the picking and the decision is that Bill Sherdel and Waite Hoyt will do the pitching. Sherdel was the Cardinals' selection in 1926 and he is pretty sure to get the call again. With Pennock on the side lines Hoyt, of course, is Huggins' best bet.

Hoyt Must Carry Burden.

New York writers put the burden of the series on Hoyt. They say he will pitch the first game and will pitch the third, the trip to St. Louis giving the boys a day of rest after the second contest. Then, if the series is dragged out and it is necessary to return to New York, Hoyt will work again, the critics say. That's a pretty large order for the sturdy right-hander, after the arduous job of keepng the team at the top in the American League race.

Odds on the series are quoted freely, but it appears to be conversational betting, and nothing has been mentioned about any real money being laid on the table. It is explained that the Yankee backers are waiting for better odds. And smart gamblers, who know that anything can happen in a world series, where a Durst or a Thevenow is likely to outbat a Ruth or a Bottomley, will not lay any odds that would be even good, much less better.

The Cardinals held a meeting yesterday to vote on the division of their world series money and did a graceful thing in giving a full share to Carlisle Littlejohn. The right-handed pitcher was sent to Houston to make room on the roster for Earl Smith, but rejoined the Cardinals in New York recently. Clarence Mitchell, who joined the club June 4, was not eligible to ballot, but he was voted a full share, also. Half shares were voted to Secretary Clarence Lloyd, Catcher Earl Smith, Outfielder Ernesto Rudolpho Orsatti and Trainer "Doc" Weaver.

Alex Will Be Ready.

The Cardinals also voted to give $150 to Ray and Kenneth Sullivan, clubhouse boys, and to "Butch" Yatman, their mascot.

There will be workouts for the Cardinals at Yankee Stadium today and to keep their muscles in condition for the big series.

Grover Cleveland Alexander reported that he had contracted a severe cold in the head on the trip from Boston, but he was in uniform and said he'd be ready when needed.

Rabbit Maranville, who was called to Springfield, Mass., because of the illness of Mrs. Maranville's mother, rejoined the team yesterday, as did Jimmy Wilson, who was allowed to spend the week-end in Philadelphia.

Dazzy Vance Will See His First Game In a World Series

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.

CURIOSITY killed a cat and now it's got Dazzy Vance. He's going to see his first world's series. Dazzy of the Dodgers has been one of the major leagues' greatest pitchers for seven years but he's never seen a world's series game. He explains it this way:

"After the Giants nosed us out back in 1924 I vowed I'd never attend a world's series until I could pitch in one. But curiosity seems to have got the better of me, so I'm just going to remain around a while to see what the big series is like."

Barrett Says Cards Will Finish One, Two, Three For Ten Seasons More

By W. J. McGoogan

In the opinion of Charley Barrett, chief of the Cardinal scouts, the team has just begun to win National League pennants. Charley is enthusiastic about the outlook for many years to come.

"We will be one, two, three for the next 10 years at least," Charley declared this morning. "We have the men coming along who will keep us at the top, when the stars of the present team have faded."

"But, Charley," queried a friend, "How about the pitching? You know that Haines, Alexander and Mitchell are well along in years and Sherdel isn't so young any more. What have you got coming up in the way of replacements?"

"As to the first part of the question," answered Barrett, "I can't agree that Alexander and Haines are nearly through. A pitcher is never through until he loses his fast one. And a pitcher like Alexander will be great for four or five years as a relief man after he is through as a starter because Pete has a wonderful head on him.

Haines on the Rise.

"And Haines! Why he has just started. His fast ball is better that ever and his knuckle ball makes him a great pitcher. Sherdel will go along for some time.

"Then look what Bill Hallahan did in the game Sunday between Houston and Birmingham. He shut the Barons out with two hits, struck out 11 batters and didn't walk one! The last feat is the significant one. Hallahan is such a great natural pitcher that he doesn't even bother to pitch to a batter's weakness. All he has to do is get the ball over the plate with his stoff on it. Heretofore that is what Bill hasn't been able to do but apparently he is learning control. He will be a great pitcher for us, probably next year.

"So when the great ones of the present Cardinal outfit pass on we will have men like Hallahan to slip into the vacant places and keep our pitching staff at a high level.

"Then we have fine players for other positions 'down on the farms.' Who they are and what they can do will be shown when it is necessary."

Catching Material Hard to Find.

"How about catchers, Charley?" someone asked. "You know, the club has been skating on thin ice for several seasons behind the plate. What have you done to correct the condition and is there any hope of it being alleviated next year?"

"That's something I can't say," replied Barrett. "They are just not developing catchers any more. We could get a lot of them but they are no better than those we have now, so we are going to have to do the best we can with the material on hand."

Barrett has been scouting for big league clubs for about 20 years now, having spent all of that time with the Cardinals and the Browns with the exception of one year when he was with Detroit. Incidentally, during the year he was with the Tigers he discovered Bing Miller.

The fact that a great many of the players on the Cardinals and on their minor league clubs are with the St. Louis organization is due to the ability of Barrett, who is probably one of the best known men connected with baseball.

Western to Have Four Football Teams This Year

When Western Military Academy plays football here Saturday the event will take on the appearance of an invasion, for Coach Garetson of the Cadets has four games scheduled for the day and will bring with him a squad of 90 players. This group will comprise four distinct teams, two of which are to see action at Country Day in the morning, another at Principia in the afternoon and the fourth, the Prep League entry, is to oppose the Codasco eleven in the final game.

As the result of a record turnout of over 100 candidates, Garetson has decided to maintain four teams throughout the season, each to have its own schedule. The squads are classified according to weight and size, and the smaller gridders, of Classes B and C, will face Codasco teams of corresponding classes Saturday morning while the somewhat larger and heavier Class A aggregation meets Principia's Class A eleven in the afternoon.

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 2.—L. Theo Bellmont, director of athletics of the University of Texas for the last 15 years, was relieved of all connection with athletic affairs of the university, effective Dec. 1, by vote of the Board of Regents here last night. The action followed the recommendations of President H. Y. Benedict, made at the board's request following a year of probation on which Bellmont was placed as a result of controversies over athletic policies.

RUTH EXPECTS YANKS TO COME OUT OF SLUMP

By Babe Ruth.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—In doing the 1928 contenders in the world series the season's records mean little. In fact, the Yankees were staggering at the end of the race, while the National League clubs were playing their best ball of the season. In other words the Yankees, playing their worst ball of the year, will be called upon to go up against the National League club playing its best.

RUTH.

As I see it the defeat or victory of the Yankees in the series will be strictly up to ourselves.

If we can come out of our slump and play the sort of baseball we're capable of playing, then I believe we will be a little bit stronger than the Cardinals. If we don't shake out of it, we're likely to take it on the chin. The Yankee club of May and June was an unbeatable club. The Yankee club of September wasn't so hot.

A lot of people think that we will stagger through the world series like we did the last half of the season. Personally I don't believe we will. I've got a hunch we'll do the same thing in the world series, as we did against the Athletics. Players like Lazzeri, Combs, Meusel, Bengough and the rest are at their best when the going is toughest. One thing you don't need to worry about is the Yankee spirit of fight.

Wilson Leads Catchers.

Measured man for man, the contending clubs size up about equally on defensive strength. The Cardinals with Wilson, have a little edge behind the bat, I believe.

First base is well taken care of—both defensively and offensively. In all around play, I think I would give the edge to Gehrig, with Bottomley not far behind.

At second base Frisch gets the call. If he were in shape Tony Lazzeri would be right up there. Tony, at his best, has no superior in the business. But his bad arm makes him an uncertain quantity.

At shortstop there is no outstanding candidate. Class also is lacking at third. Dugan, if he is in there, is always a dangerous man in a world series.

In the outfield both the Cardinals and the Yankees have a well-balanced array. The Cardinals' outfield is one of the strongest defensive units in either league without a single weak spot in the trio.

I don't think I need comment on the Yankee outfield. We've played together through several seasons and we've managed to hang up a pretty good record both at bat and afield. I do want to say one thing about Earl Combs, however. To my mind Combs is one of the greatest centerfielders in the business. He's the type player who never quits, and never gives up. He's fast in handling balls and one of the best lead-off men in the big leagues today.

In world series play Earl Combs need not take off his hat to any outfielder in the business. He's there.

FIELDS BEATS THOMPSON IN ONE-SIDED BOUT

By the Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2. — A smiling, clean-cut youth of 21 who beat a man who beat a champion today was the newest ring sensation to rise out of the West.

The youth is Jackie Fields, tireless puncher from Los Angeles, and the 10-round beating he gave young Jack Thompson, Negro contender for the welterweight title, last night, may have placed him in line for a title bout soon.

Fields handed the Negro, conqueror of the champion Joe Dundee in a non-title fight, the worst beating of his career. Thompson has been matched for a title bout with Dundee in New York, Nov. 16, but Gig Rooney, Fields' manager, previously declared he had received a letter from Jess McCardle, New York matchmaker, indicating willingness to pit Fields instead of Thompson against the champion, provided Fields defeated the Negro contender.

Fields, weighing 145½ pounds to 144 for Thompson, pummeled his dusky opponent with a wilting body attack and short lefts and rights to the face to win seven rounds. Thompson's rallies in the sixth and seventh rounds gave him those sessions while the fifth was even.

It made 11 straight victories for Fields, five of them by knockouts.

The bout drew about 10,000 persons with gate receipts of $29,-539.70.

TOMMY LOUGHRAN WINS FROM JACK GROSS IN NON-TITLE FIGHT

By the Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 2.—Tommy Loughran of Philadelphia, world's light-heavyweight champion, won the decision over Jack Gross, heavyweight of Salem, N. J., in a slashing 10-round boxing bout at the National League ball park last night. Loughran's title was not at stake as he entered the ring weighing 185 pounds. Gross scaled 202 pounds.

It was Loughran's second appearance here since he won the 175-pound title in New York last October, and his first appearance as a heavyweight. The bout with Gross, rugged heavyweight contender, was considered by the champion to be a stepping stone in his efforts to reach the throne vacated recently by Gene Tunney.

OTTOMLEY AND HAFEY ARE ALWAYS DANGEROUS, M'GRAW WRITES

BE RUTH AND EHRIG TO HAVE WORTHY RIVALS IN BIG SERIES

By John J. McGraw
(Manager New York Giants.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—It is a different thing to put your finger dis- on the punch of the Yanks or of the Cardinals. Three months ago any student of baseball would have given the Yanks a decided advantage in this series on their punch. At that time they had the greatest driving machine in baseball.

But if it is true that Lazzeri is unable to give his best and that Combs may be out of the battle the matter of relative becomes a very open question. For example, there are no more dangerous batters in ball than Chick Hafey and Jim these will be stacked Ruth and Lou Gehrig, both loaded hitters. In a short the regular punch does not manifest itself. A reason that is that the pitchers center work on those men and make ably hard for them.

France's Newest World Champion

ANDRE ROUTIS, the game little featherweight, who beat the U. S. title holder, Canzoneri, last Friday. Floored in first round, battered for seven, Routis rallied to defeat his foe in the closing chapters. He fights Honey Boy Finnegan at Boston, Nov. 15, then returns to France.

ROUTIS WILL GO HOME AFTER HIS BOUT IN BOSTON

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Andre Routis will return to France bearing the first world pugilistic title held in the land of the fleur de lys since gorgeous Georges Carpentier went back eight years ago with the 175-pound crown after flattening old Battling Levinsky in four rounds. The new featherweight king will sail immediately for France after keeping his nonchampionship engagement against Honey Boy Finnegan at the opening of the new garden in Boston.

The date for the Finnegan fight has been advanced from Nov. 16 to Nov. 15 to permit Tex Rickard to attend both that bout and the Thompson-Dundee meeting in New York on the sixteenth, according to Joe Jacobs, Routis' manager. The new champion and other Jacobs' fighters, will remain two months in France, but Routis will defend his title only after returning to the United States.

RUTH HAS HIT 470 HOME RUNS IN BIG LEAGUE

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Babe Ruth's victory in the race for inter-league home run honors through the season just closed marked the ninth time in the last 11 seasons that the big Yankee slugger had finished either in a tie for or in full possession of first position. Back in the war year of 1918 when Ruth was blazing his home run trail, he piled up 11 early in the campaign, and then sat back while Tilly Walker of Philadelphia tied him. Cy Williams of the Phillies earned a draw at 41 in 1923.

Rajah Led in '22 and '25.

In 1922 when Babe spent 35 days under suspension Rogers Hornsby snatched away the crown with 42. Again in 1925 when Ruth was ill Hornsby mounted the crest with 39. Hornsby, Williams and Gehrig stand with Ruth as the only men who ever bettered 40 in a major league season, while the Bambino is all by himself in the 50-class and the 60. His grand total for his big league career is 470.

Ties 1920 Total.

Ruth's 1928 total of 54 marked his fourth season of 50 or more home runs, and while it fell some yards short of his 1927 record of 60, it enabled him to tie his own 1920 mark—his first Yankee season.

Year.	Ruth.	Rivals.
1918	11	Walker, Athletics, 11.
1919	29	Cravath, Phillies, 12.
1920	54	Sisler, Browns, 19.
1921	59	K. Williams, Browns, and Bob Meusel, 24.
1922	35	Hornsby, Cards, 42; Ken Williams, Browns, 39.
1923	41	Cy Williams, Phillies, 41.
1924	46	Hauser, Athletics, Fournier, Robins, 27.
1925	23	Hornsby, Cards, 39; Bob Meusel, 33.
1927	60	Gehrig, 46.

REBUILT GOPHER ELEVEN APPEARS A BONE-CRUSHER

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—Another bone-crushing machine which will gather devastating momentum as the season advances is Minnesota's threat to its Big Ten gridiron rivals this fall.

Gone are several of last year's stars, among them Herb Joesting, the pile-driving fullback who romped through, over and around the opposition, to make Minnesota one of the nation's most powerful efevens; but into their moleskins have stepped a new crop of ball luggers and linemen who promise to write another saga in football achievement for the maroon and old gold.

Coach "Doc" Spears, at times as glum as Bob uppke of Illinois, has met with several setbacks so far this season, the principal one being ineligibility of Harold Barnhardt, the chunky little half who was one of the best blocking backs in the Middle West in 1926 and 1927.

Nagurski a Sensation.

At Joesting's post, one of the best possibilities in years has sprung up—a brawny youth from the north wods, Bronko Nagurski, a converted tackle, who has been the sensation of the Gopher training camp. The "big nag" is fast, and to date Coach Spears has been unable to throw up a line big and fast enough to stop his rushes. Another good fullback possibility is a sophomore, Ed Westphal of Little Falls, who has 206 pounds of power and speed.

In Fred Hovde, understudy to Quarterback "Shorty" Almquist last year, Spears has a capable pivot man, but he is planning to use him as a signal-calling half to act as running mate to Art Pharmer, a veteran. Hovde and Pharmer have formed a reversible passing combination that has worked many successful aerial gains in practice. Several likely candidates are out for quarterback.

Good Reserves Lacking.

Unlike most conference teams, the Gophers appear to have a strong line, although reserve strength is puzzling Coach Spears. Tanner and Haycraft, who developed rapidly toward the end of the 1927 campaign, are back at the wings, while Capt. George Gibson has one guard position cinched. Gibson may be out of the game in two weeks, however, as he fractured a small bone in his left hand. Les Pulbrabek, a sub on last year's eleven, is one of the prospects for the other guard. The tackles may be a weak spot in the line, but there, too, Spears has plenty of good material. Wayne Kakela, a fast, shifty youth, looks best at center.

Coach Spears' biggest worry is that his men will be slow to round into form. The Gophers open their season Saturday against Creighton, after which they clash with six conference opponents and the Haskell Indians on successive weekends. They meet Purdue, Chicago and Indiana at home and Iowa, Northwestern and Wisconsin on foreign fields.

PAULINO UZCUDUN TO MEET VON PORAT IN NEW YORK ON NOV. 5

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Paulino Uzcudun, Spanish heavyweight, will head the next heavyweight boxing card at Madison Square Garden, Nov. 5, meeting Otto Von Porat of Chicago in the feature 10-rounder. On the same card Tiny Roebuck of Kansas City will make his Eastern debut against Arthur de Kuh and Con O'Kelley of Ireland will meet Al Friedman of Boston. The arrangements for the meeting were completed yesterday.

The Garden matchmaker, Tom McArdle, also announced yesterday that he had virtually completed the arrangements for another heavyweight carnival to take place Nov. 23 with Young Stribling of Georgia going against Napoleon Jack Dorval in the headliner. Stribling has not yet signed for the match but is expected to do so today.

Douthit Best Fielder of All—McKechnie; Psychology Big Factor, Says Huggins

By William McKechnie
Manager St. Louis Cardinals.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—For the benefit of the fans, I have discussed, more or less in detail, the pitchers who will start for the Cardinals in the world series and the infield that will support these pitchers.

Now for the outfield. There are those, I have often heard it said, that outfielders, because of the apparent simplicity of their duties, should "pay to get in the game." Well, that was fairly funny when it was first broadcast and got the laugh it deserved. As a matter of fact, every fan knows how important the outfield is.

McKECHNIE.

First of all, the outfielder must be hitters in addition to being able to catch a fly ball or a line drive. Then, they must be able to show some infield ability in stopping grount balls that get past the inner works. Above all, of course, they MUST hit. I never have known of a minor league outfielder being purchased just because he was a good fielder.

Charles (Chick) Hafey will be the left fielder. Hafey, a Berkeley (Cal.) boy, is one of the hardest hitters in baseball. Fast on his feet, he is a good judge of a fly ball or line drive and can hit any kind of pitching. He has a mark far above the .300 mark for the season. Two years ago, he suffered from sinus trouble and it was feared his career was over but he has recovered. Hafey has the greatest throwing arm in baseball—bar none. This goes for Bob Meusel or any player of any time.

Taylor Douthit will roam in center. Douthit also is a Californian. There is no greater fielder in baseball, today, than Douthit. He has been compared to Speaker, but, in my opinion, it should be the other way—Speaker, at his best should be compared with Douthit. Douthit, this year, broke all records for accepting outfield chances.

We will shift in right. If a southpaw is opposing us, Roscoe (Wattie) Holm, a great utility man, will operate. Holm, an Iowan, has done about everything on the team. He has played third base, in the outfield and has caught several games. He hits well and has proved himself on the defense. There is nothing snowy about Holm; he just attends to his knitting which is all that can be asked.

Should a right-hander oppose us, the berth will be in the capable hands of George Harper. Harper is a left-handed hitter of the line drive type. Not known especially as a "slugger" he now and then goes on a long hitting rampage as in a fairly recent game against the Giants, when he hit three homers in one game. With either Holm or Harper in action, we feel that Hafey and Douthit will have a good runningmate.

As reservists, there are Ray Blades, one of the Cardinal veterans in point of service, and Ernest Orsatti, recently recalled from Minneapolis. Should the occasion require it, I would have no hesitancy in assigning either or both of these fine players to outfield positions.

In analyzing the group, I feel that this important department is in capable hands.

LARGEST TICKET SALE IN HISTORY OF CHICAGO CITY SERIES REPORTED

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—A bit of winter-time spending money will be picked up by the Cubs and White Sox in their city championship series, which starts tomorrow at Comiskey Park.

The largest ticket sale in the history of the series is reported. Crowds of 40,000 or more are expected for each game.

Manager Lena Blackburne has announced he will start Alphonse Thomas in the opener, Manager Joe McCarthy has made no definite announcement, but intimates Percy "Pat" Malone will be his choice.

PAYNE STARTS TO TRAIN FOR MARATHON

By the Associated Press.

CLAREMORE, Ok., Oct. 2.—Andy Payne, winner of the transcontinental Bunion Derby, has recovered from the chills that forced his postponement of a race with El Ouafi, Olympic marathon ace, from Sept. 28 to Oct. 7, Dr. J. C. Bushyhead, Payne's physician, said here today.

Altrock Looks For Some Fine Football Work

By Nick Altrock

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Most every year a play comes up that has a big influence on the pennant. We all remember when Fred Merkle wouldn't go near second base because he was afraid there was a trap door there.

This season it happened when Hartnett blocked Reese going from third to home in the Cubs-Giants game. Gabby didn't have the ball but he gave Reese the big foot. Then Beck comes along with the ball and tags Reese seven or eight times like he was stamping a special delivery letter.

Manager McGraw protested that play because he claims the pedestrian has the right of way over Mack trucks.

Umpire Klem said that a catcher can go anywhere he wants except to the Prince of Wales' wedding.

That was a very important play and as a result we can look for some very fine football on the base lines.

When a man gets on base he is liable to have to steal second with the first baseman on his back and the outfield clinging to his ankles.

I am going to be very conservative about the serum. All I will claim in advance is that the American Leaguers will win.

Johnson Defeats Wiggins

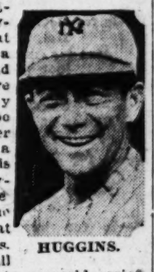

By the Associated Press.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 2.—Garfield Johnson, Pittsburg Negro, won a 10-round decision here last night over Chuck Wiggins of Indianapolis. Johnson weighed 180 and Wiggins 193.

By Miller Huggins
Manager New York Yankees.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Probably nowhere else in baseball does psychology play so important a part as in a world series. There's a reason for that.

During the regular season players realize that that they have a long grind and that any failure in the early games can be made up later on. Playing a world series is like risking a fortune on dice. There's just one throw—and that decides things. You can't call for a new deal in a world series, nor can you let tomorrow's energies make up for today's omissions.

HUGGINS.

A world series is a matter of touch and go—and the season's averages mean little. It has been the history of more than one world series that the .300 hitter was a flop while the .190 hitter arose to greatness. There has been more than one occasion in world series history where an outstanding pitcher flopped miserably, and an unsung youngster rose to greatness.

Players realize all this—and they are tense and excited and nervous. Even the most experienced world series players will tell you that the 24 hours before the series opens is the most trying time of their baseball career. For the inexperienced player, going into his first world series, the strain is just twice as great.

In every world series there's a psychological advantage in getting off to a flying start. The old theory that the team that won the first game would win the series has been exploded. A team can lose the first game and still come back to win. But winning that first one is a big step, just the same—for the minute the first game is won the burden of proof is thrown on the other fellow.

So far as the Yankees are concerned, we have a strange psychological condition to face. Our club has become so hampered by injuries and has been so harmed by accident, that most of my players have come to take a fatalistic attitude toward the season and the series. You know after injuries start coming and one man after another is forced from the lineup a man begins to think that maybe Fate is taking a hand, and has decided against him.

That's bad. And I know that feeling has existed on my ball club this year.

FOUR NEW PLAYS GIVEN BILLIKENS BY ANDERSON

By Gerald Holland

Having rested yesterday because of rain, the St. Louis University Billikens face the first of three lengthy scrimmages this afternoon. Coach Anderson has stated his intention of working the squad hard in preparation for the game with the Springfield Teachers after the poor showing against McKendree.

Springfield is usually regarded as a setup for the Billikens but unless the St. Louisans show marked improvement, the visitors will be favored to win. The Teachers blanked McKendree by a decisive score and the latter came close to holding the locals even.

Although the weather kept the squad indoors yesterday, Anderson gave the boys lots of work to do. After a blackboard demonstration, the Billiken coach handed out four new plays to be mastered.

A lot must be accomplished if St. Louis is to make a good record for the season. After Springfield, Nebraska Normal, a team that was scored on only once last season, will furnish the opposition for the Billikens. Then Rolla, Creighton, Detroit and Loyola will follow in order and if the locals were to duplicate last Saturday's performance they'd be lucky to take one out of the four.

However, the chance of the Billikens slipping to that extent is remote. The squad is sound physically and ripe for some choice comment from "Hunk" Anderson.

ROCKNE TO LEAD NOTRE DAME ELEVEN AGAINST WISCONSIN

ALL BIG TEN TEAMS TO PLAY NON-CONFERENCE TILTS THIS WEEK

Wyoming at Chicago.
Bradley at Illinois.
Creighton at Minnesota.
Wittenberg at Ohio State.
Ohio Wesleyan at Michigan.
Butler at Northwestern.
De Pauw at Purdue.
Monmouth at Iowa.
Oklahoma at Indiana.
Notre Dame at Wisconsin.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Oct. 2.—All teams in the Big Ten Conference will be in action this week-end, playing practice games with non-conference teams which is expected to put them in shape for the opening of the conference season a week later. The outstanding contests this week-end will be the Notre Dame-Wisconsin, Oklahoma-Indiana and Wyoming-Chicago games, although the remaining games will attract considerable attention, as fans are anxious to see what their favorites can do under actual fire. Reserve teams in the conference will also be in action during the week-end.

Chicago is expected to display a better brand of ball against Wyoming than they did last Saturday when they fell before South Carolina by a 6 to 0 count, when they failed to show either defensive or offensive strength. Capt. Weislow, tackle, may be unable to play against Wyoming, as he suffered a wrenched knee in the South Carolina game.

Zuppke Well Fixed in Reserves.

Coach Zuppke's Illini, doped as one of the strongest teams in the conference this season, should not have much trouble in winning over Bradley Polytechnic. Coach Zuppke has plenty of reserve material again this season and will substitute frequently in all games. Minnesota is expected to have many new players in the lineup when they face Creighton Saturday, and should emerge on the long end of the count, although the Gophers cannot be said to be long on reserve strength.

Wittenberg is not expected to prove a stumbling block for Ohio State as the Buckeyes should have a snappy team this season as Coach Dr. Wilce has many veterans from last season on hand and the experience gained last fall should prove valuable this season. Ohio Wesleyan usually has a strong team and Michigan will likely be compelled to go the limit if they succeed in shoving over a victory. Michigan lost a number of valuable players by graduation but Coach Elton Wieman has plenty of material which has shown rapid improvement in the workouts this season.

Butler Meets Purple Team.

Northwestern has an exceptionally heavy team this year the first string averaging close to 190 pounds which is considerable beef. In addition to weight, the team has been displaying speed, combined with aggressiveness and it would not be surprising if the Wildcats had something to say about the conference title this campaign. Butler must put up a snappy game to win Northwestern's opener. Purdue under the tutelage of James M. Phelan should win over DePauw while Monmouth is hardly expected to push Iowa to the limit, although both games should be interesting affairs.

Coach Pat Page has a snappy team at Indiana, so much so that the Hoosiers are considered as contenders with Ohio State, Minnesota, Illinois and Northwestern, for the championship. Indiana is well fortified with veterans and Coach Page also has considerable reserve strength. The game between Oklahoma and Indiana is expected to develop into a hard-fought affair.

Badgers Go Against Irish.

Wisconsin has taken on a stiff opponent to start the season and prospects are not a bit bright for the Badgers to open the year with a victory. Coach Knute Rockne of the Irish has another strong aggregation capable of furnishing plenty of competition for almost any team in the country. Wisconsin should gain plenty of experience during the game, however, which will likely come in handy during the conference schedule.

Due to a new ruling, reserve teams in the conference are now allowed to play games, the majority of games scheduled being with reserved teams of conference members. Undoubtedly there are many men who will be included in the lineups of the reserve teams early in the season who will show such outstanding ability that they will be moved to the first squad before the season is over.

SOONER SQUAD WORKS TO PERFECT DEFENSE

By the Associated Press.

NORMAN, Ok., Oct. 2.—With the curtain up on the last act of their drill for the season's opener with Indiana next Saturday the University of Oklahoma sooners had a last fling at offensive tactics here yesterday in scrimmage against a freshman crew. From now on, Coach Ad Lindsey said, attention will be devoted solely to defense.

TULSA, BROWNIE FARM, CAPTURES WESTERN TITLE

By the Associated Press.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok., Oct. 2.—The teasing shoots of old Rollie Naylor of Tulsa subdued the Oklahoma City Indians and brought the Western League championship series to a drab ending at Jack Holland's ball park, yesterday, with Tulsa winning, 5-0, for their second straight title.

Only once did a Redskin get as far as third and only thrice were the Oklahoma City boys able to push a runner to second. At only one time did the situation seem embarrassing to Naylor, but thereafter almost every pitch was within the long Tulsan's complete control.

Meanwhile, the bludgeons of Norman Sitts, Joe Munson and Powerhouse Red Bennett were doing their stuff and Manager Howard Gregory was summoning every available pitcher to the hill in an effort to stop the assault.

The Tulsa club is controlled by Phil DeC. Ball, owner of the St. Louis Browns, and is used as a "farm" for developing players who look promising.

FRENCH ADVANCE IN WEST COAST NET 'TOURNEY

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 2.—Three members of the championship French Davis cup team came to town yesterday to find little opposition fronting them in their first matches of the Pacific Southwest championships on the courts of the Los Angeles Tennis Club.

Each of the foreign cakqueeers, Henri Cochet, Christian Boussus and Pierre Landry, played one singles match and all won their contests with ease. Boussus and Landry went to their illustrious partner one better by playing a doubles match, taking that just as easily.

Cochet didn't extend himself to win over Edward Smith, Los Angeles player, 6—2, 6—2. Striking his shots he now and then made a spectacular get. His opponent considered of some ability, tried his best but he was up against a master of the court and was generous and did not try to kill is man off. Smith forced many of the games to deuce but Cochet's rifle-like accuracy was too much.

Boussus, 20-year-old southpaw, had P. R. Williams, Los Angeles, across the net and the result was 6—1, 6—1. Boussus played beautiful tennis and his deceptive elbows-at-body game was a puzzle for his opponent. Landry had a mild workout in winning from Mead Woodson, middle-aged Los Angeles man who was hopelessly outclassed, 6—1, 6—1. The French doubles combination defeated E. Smith and Joe Bixler, Los Angeles duo, 6—2, 6—3.

Cleveland Will Try for Third Win of Season

By Harold Tuthill.

Last week's results in the local high school practice football games indicate that Cleveland and Soldan must be seriously considered as contenders for the High School League championship. This week Roosevelt, the present champion, will be seen in action, opposing Principia at Principia, Friday afternoon.

Saturday, Cleveland will attempt to run its string of pre-season victories to three, against McBride, at McBride. Beaumont will strive to offset its 6 to 0 defeat at the hands of St. Charles by a victory over St. Louis University High School, Soldan will play Alton, Ill., at the Stadium.

In the two games played, Cleveland has not had its goal line crossed. The Carondelet school owns a 20 to 0 victory over Christian Brothers' College and a 6 to 0 win from the Principia Academy. Both games were featured by the wealth of reserve strength Cleveland owns. This was largely responsible for the defeat of Principia.

Soldan looked powerful when it took the measure of St. Louis University High School, the defending champions of the Preparatory School League. The score was 20 to 0. The West Enders suffered no injuries and will be in excellent condition to battle the Alton eleven.

While Beaumont suffered a reverse in its opening game, it does not mean that Beaumont is to be counted out as a contender for the local high school championship, for when the North Side team opposed St. Charles, Barnhouse and Weidner were not in condition and had scrimmaged but little. With these stars ready Beaumont ought to make things interesting for St. Louis University High School.

The question, how strong is Roosevelt, can be settled after Friday, when Roosevelt meets Principia. The enforced idleness of the champions last week was welcomed by the Roosevelt coaching staff, as Alex Monteith and Lee Savage, both veteran stars, were not in condition. It is highly probable that these two will be in the lineup against Principia, thus enabling Roosevelt to go on the field with all its strength.

DARTMOUTH STAR SIGNS TO PLAY "PRO" HOCKEY

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Professional hockey yesterday claimed Myles Lane, all-around Dartmouth athlete and one of the few college puck chasers considered proficient enough to play league hockey.

Lane signed a contract to play defense this season for the New York Rangers, world's professional champions. At Dartmouth, where Lane is now an assistant football coach, the Melrose, Mass., star last season captained the hockey team, led the Eastern football high scorers with a total of 125 points, and batted an even .400 on the baseball team.

Lane is the first American College player to enter the National League hockey ranks where Canadians or Canadian-bred skaters provide most of the material. He intends to play professional baseball next spring.

WRAY'S COLUMN

Again, We Repeat.

THERE is no 2 to 1 shot in baseball. Yet, to read reports of the experts' views on the coming world series, one would believe the Yanks were a 5 to 1 shot and the Cards 1 to 5.

Men grown gray trying to outguess the vagaries of the game have declared the Cardinals ought to win in four straight games, or that 3 to 1 against the New York club is too short a price.

A world champion team, using its ace pitcher, pitted against the last place club using a rookie, is not better than a 1 to 2 shot, in this peculiar combination of skill and Lady Luck called Baseball.

We have in the 1928 series two teams that know how to fight; both proved their gameness and finishing qualities in the recent pennant races. The Yanks still have about 12 points the better of the hitting, while the Cards have a shade in fielding. The pitching gives the Cardinals the best of the breaks numerically and in first and second string aid.

But that is what is known as "paper talk." The "breaks" can spill it utterly.

Cards Odds 7 to 5, On.

The Yanks have two powerful hurlers in Pipgras and Hoyt. On their home grounds it is easily conceivable that they might get away with a victory each, sending the Cardinals West two down and only three to go, on their home grounds.

The Yanks could then take a chance with their second string men for three successive days, saving the aces for home ground contests.

Old Man Zachary perked up quite helpfully, before the season closed, and Heimach and Johnson might get by, between them.

As for the Cardinals, all has not been so well with them in the late days of the season. Sherdel's arm became sore, Haines was rudely treated. Alexander is not the Old Pete of two years ago, although good. Rhem has seldom been a pinch hitter and will hardly start a game; and Mitchell—well, age is taking its toll there, too.

The pitching is good, but not iron clad. It must be remembered that the Yanks beat Sherdel twice in the 1926 series, although it is true there is no Pennock to hold down the Cardinals.

When it comes to risking the family plate by paying 2 to 1 odds against Ruth, Gehrig, Meusel and the other ball murderers, just don't do it.

The odds are not in the books. But the Cards properly are favorites—about 7 to 5 on.

Oh, Sugar!

TOM ANDREWS joins the ranks of those who believe the leopard can change his spots. Of Young Stribling, as a rebuilt ring championship prospect, he writes "mighty sweet."

William has always looked that part. Adonis was just an onion, beside him. If looks and grace in boxing mattered, Stribling would have shoved Jack Dempsey into the second division.

Like Al Reich, Wayne Munn and other pulchritudinous lemons, Stribling's looks won him few friends, when it came to fighting. When the battle grew hot, their feet grew cold. Their style cramped. Another day, another fight, seemed their philosophy. And they played the cards close to the vest.

But today Stribling looks "mighty sweet." The leopard has lost his spots. Behold a bulldog, where once was a hare. Or, so we are told.

Slight-of-hand, we call it. Tex Rickard's wizardry is another way of putting it. And we note that Tex has signed Stribling for four fights, with title eligibles. It is less than two winters ago that Tex took one look at Stribling, and then opened the gate.

Nothing is impossible—except to change Nature. You can camouflage but not alter that Dame.

It remains to be seen whether the sweet Mr. Stribling of today has really changed his nature, or whether he has merely been camouflaging himself, all these years.

MANGUNA TO MEET KAISER HERE MONDAY

Milton Manguna, New Orleans featherweight, will oppose Peewee Kaiser in the 10-round bout which will feature the Fred W. Stockham Post's boxing card next Monday night at the Coliseum.

Manguna, who for the past year has been making his headquarters in Little Rock, Ark., was signed last night by Matchmaker Jack Tippett, and the Southern boxer will come to St. Louis within the next two or three days. He will go through several workouts in local gymnasiums.

Will Be Third Meeting.

The bout Monday night will be the third meeting of Kaiser and Manguna. Their first fight, at Little Rock about a year ago, went to Manguna on a decision. In a return bout at the Coliseum last winter, Kaiser was awarded the bout in the fifth round when Manguna's claim of a foul was not allowed. Until the blow in question, Manguna had been waging a good fight, and the commission, after an investigation, awarded him his full purse, with the qualification that he fight Kaiser here again.

Manguna Has Good Record.

Since his last appearance here, Manguna has won about 10 contests. Last week he defeated Johnny Helstein, former St. Louis feather, in a return bout.

Matchmaker Tippett plans to book three more 10-round bouts. Among the fighters under consideration for these events are: Irish Kennedy, St. Paul welterweight; Lou Terry, local lightweight, and Tom Pivac, local light-heavyweight. Tippett plans to match Kennedy with either Dwight Fryer of Little Rock, or Moan Baumgartner of Fort Wayne, Ind., while Tommy Quinn of Brooklyn, N. Y., will probably be paired with Terry. Pivac's prospective opponent is Jerry Sullivan of Chicago.

Britton Beats Indian

ST OF MAE WEST'S NEW PLAY ARRESTED

...man Playwright Also Is ...held on Charge "The Pleas... ...ure Man" Is Obscene.

...Special Dispatch From the New ...k Bureau of the Post-Dispatch. ...EW YORK, Oct 2.—A squad ...detectives under Deputy Chief ...rector Hilan attended the ...ning of Mae West's new ...y "The Pleasure Man," at the ...ayhouse Theater last night, and ...the final curtain arrested 61 ...ons, including the entire cast, ...anagers, hands and wardrobe at... ...ants and took them to West ...Seventh street station, where ...were booked on a charge of ...ticipating in an obscene play. ...At the same time, two detectives ...to Miss West's dressing room ...the Royale Theater, where she is starring in "Diamond Lil," another of her plays, and took her to the police station.

A large audience had gathered for the opening of "The Pleasure Man," the reputation of which had preceded it into town from its tryout performances in the Bronx and Queens during the last two weeks. It was a crowd motivated chiefly by curiosity as to the nature of what had been said to be Miss West's most daring venture. They remembered that she had spent 10 days on Welfare Island in April, 1927, after she had been convicted in connection with her play, "Sex."

"The Pleasure Man" is laid in a small-town vaudeville theater. The action revolves around the amorous activities of a vaudeville headliner who makes advances to every young girl he meets, and who is finally murdered, in an unusual way, by the brother of one of the girls.

The background for this action is abnormality.

After the performance, a crowd of about 2000 gathered in the stage-door alley to watch the cast being loaded into three patrol wagons by police reserves.

In the station house some of them tried to laugh it off. Some of them expressed anger at police. There were 11 in the cast. They seemed to take the arrest hardest.

Mae West, and the others, pleaded not guilty of participating in an obscene play, and had their cases adjourned today until Thursday. The entire cast is at liberty under bonds.

FALL TIME AT EIGHTH & LOCUST

The last hot days of summer are shortened by the quicker autumn twilight . . . straw hats that survived ninth-inning rallies give way to felt . . . Fall time brings faster tempo to the old routine, as play days yield to school days, and work days lose their drowsiness again . . .

Now business needs finance, and the evidence is plain. Inside the bank little groups are gathered around desks . . . planning . . . planning.

A manufacturer wishes to enlarge his plant and pay for it out of the profits of the next ten years. We suggest a bond issue, have the bonds printed, buy them from him and sell them to investors.

An office boy wants to open a savings account with a dollar. We can handle that transaction too.

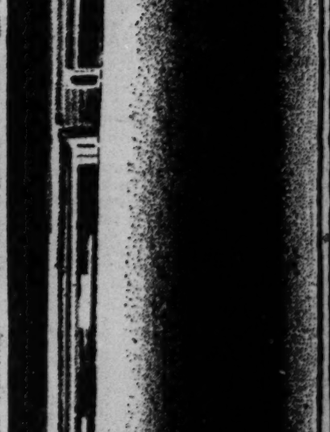

The Real Estate Department rents a 14-room house to some new arrivals in the city, who also rent a $5-a-year safe deposit box while they are in the building. They are just beginning to find the extent of our service.

Larger quarters are being prepared for the Trust Department in the east wing of the balcony. "The Safe Executor" is having the busiest year of its existence, and needs more space in which to work.

The congregation of a church, needing a new building, decides to reject the old slow and haphazard methods of money raising. They borrow from us on a first mortgage and build at once.

A widow buys a $500 First Mortgage Note. She has made a profitable investment, and, indirectly, helped to build a church.

Business needs finance, and the evidence is plain. Frost kills summer foliage, and men see farther through the forests once again. Inside the bank, groups are gathered around desks . . . planning . . . lines form at receiving tellers' windows . . . new customers come in for information, advice, service . . . old customers come back for more . . . and "Mercantile Service" speeds up automatically, when Fall time comes to Eighth and Locust Streets again.

TELLS HOW THE CHINESE TREAT MANY FORMS OF RHEUMATISM

Weldona Man Gives Interesting Talk on Various Forms of Rheumatic Conditions

"In this 24-page, fully illustrated book which I am giving out you will find a lot of valuable knowledge about rheumatism," so said the Weldona man who is meeting the public at a local drug store. "It tells you where the term rheumatism comes from—Why the condition is called rheumatism—Why cold and dampness tends to cause rheumatism. The Chinese treatment of rheumatism—and also the germ theory of rheumatism as well as many other theories. How bad teeth cause rheumatism, and the factor of sore throat and infected tonsils. In fact, many people tell me this 24-page book is a bundle of facts worth a bushel of dollars.

"Now I do not claim that Weldona is a preparation recommended for every ill—Weldona is only recommended for rheumatism and only that form of rheumatism that is chronic—where there is a marked stiffness and pain of long duration. For instance—Take the man and woman who hardly knows a day without pain and misery. Their hands and fingers are stiff and sore, often it is impossible to bend the fingers in the morning. The knees are often stiff and sore and creak like a dry hinge. To go up or down stairs seems torture and considerable difficulty is experienced in getting on a street car. Then again there is rheumatic neuritis—usually the shoulder and arm are afflicted. It is hard to put on a coat, or get the hand to the head to comb the hair. These are the cases which I have seen respond to Weldona.

"I am satisfied that I can prove Weldona has actually conquered rheumatism. The mass of evidence is sufficient to convince the most unreasonable skeptic—and I wish to say that no sufferer from rheumatism should fail to get this 24-page book which is free of charge.

"I am at Walgreen's Drug Store, 514 Washington Ave., every day to explain more about Weldona and give out the free books. You are not asked to buy anything—simply ask for the Weldona representative and get your free book."

M. H. CAHILL MADE 'KATY' CHAIRMAN

Succeeds L. F. Loree, Who Was Ordered by Commerce Commission to Resign.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—M. H. Cahill, formerly a vice president of the Seaboard Air Line, was elected yesterday a director and chairman of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad, succeeding Leonor F. Loree.

The Interstate Commerce Commission recently revoked its order permitting Loree to hold the directorship, ruling that it was against public interest while he continued as a director and chairman of the Kansas City Southern.

The commission previously had rejected Loree's plan of merging the two railroads and the St. Louis Southwestern, with the Kansas City Southern as a nucleus. Loree has declared that he will continue his efforts to combine the railroads, despite the adverse decisions of the commission.

Cahill was vice president in charge of operations of the seaboard with headquarters in Savannah, Ga., until last May 17.

DAVID A. BALL, FORMER LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR, DIES

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

LOUISIANA, Mo., Oct. 2.—David A. Ball, former Lieutenant-Governor of Missouri, died in the Pike County Hospital last night after an operation. He became ill about a month ago and two weeks ago was removed from his home here to the hospital.

He underwent a minor operation shortly after he entered the hospital and apparently was getting along well. However, in his weakened condition he was unable to rally from the major operation which followed.

Mr. Ball was born in Lincoln County, Mo., June 18, 1851, and was reared on a farm in that county. In 1870 he came to Louisiana and has since made his home here. In 1908 he was a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor. He carried 82 of the 114 counties in the State, but was defeated. He was Lieutenant-Governor of Missouri after the death of Governor Marmaduke in 1887. He was associated with Champ Clark in the practice of law and made many political campaigns with him. He is survived by his widow whom he married about a year ago and two brothers who live in Montgomery County, Mo.

The funeral will be held at 2:30 tomorrow afternoon.

GENERAL ALLENBY VISITS U. S.

British "Crusader" to Attend Legion Convention in San Antonio.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Field Marshal Sir Edmund Allenby, so-called last Crusader, who conquered the Turks in Palestine and Egypt for the British, was welcomed on his arrival today for the American Legion convention in San Antonio.

Arriving on the liner Majestic with Lady Allenby, the General received an official salute of 17 guns from the army reservation on Governor's Island as the city's reception boat Macom carried him from the liner to the Battery at the southern tip of Manhattan Island. There he was received by Sir Henry Gloster Armstrong, British Consul General, and a score of other prominent men and women representing the city, the British Empire and the American Legion. Lord and Lady Allenby were invited to be the guests of Charles H. Crane, former Minister to China, before leaving the latter part of the week for San Antonio.

In an interview the General praised the work of the American Red Cross in Palestine and spoke of the growing tendency toward "open diplomacy" among nations, but saw no sign for greater disarmament at present.

Reserve Officers Ineligible as Electors.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Constitutional provisions make ineligible as presidential electors men enrolled in the Officers' Reserve Corps, James Francis Burke, counsel for the Republican National Committee, holds in an opinion sent to party leaders in several states in response to inquirers. Burke said today that persons holding "offices of profit or trust," under the Federal Government could not serve as electors and that commissions in the Reserve Corps were "offices of profit or trust." He added that in the states where Reserve officers have been selected as Republican electors there is ample time for new electors to file.

By the Associated Press.

PAWHUSKA, Ok., Oct. 2.—Retrial of W. K. Hale is charged specifically with the murder of Henry Roan, an Osage Indian, upon whose life he carried a $25,000 insurance policy. BORAH DENOUNCES SMITH'S LINKING HOOVER WITH OIL

Senator Declares It Is No More Justified Than Blaming the Governor for Tammany Graft.

CONDEMNS FALL AND DAUGHERTY

Declares G. O. P. Elected "Clean Ticket" in 1924 and Will Elect Another This Year.

By the Associated Press.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 2.—Senator William E. Borah, in a campaign speech here last night, said Gov. Smith's criticism of Herbert Hoover for acts of fellow Cabinet members was no more justified than to blame Smith for the "millions" grafted by Tammany Hall.

Before a crowd that filled the Municipal Auditorium and speaking over a radio chain of 40 stations, the Idaho Senator took the Democratic presidential nominee to task for his recent references to Hoover and the oil scandal.

"The logic of Gov. Smith's contention was that you should condemn Secretary Hoover because he was a fellow member with the Cabinet officer who betrayed his country and sold his birthright for a mess of pottage," said Senator Borah.

"I do not desire, even by inference, to be understood as excusing or apologizing for those who proved recreant to every sense of decency and righteousness, but I propose to defend Secretary Hoover against these imputations, and I propose to invoke the precept and example of Gov. Smith in doing so.

Won't Condemned Tammany.

"Is the Governor willing to accept the rule which he invokes and condemn the voters of this country according to the rule which he lays down? Does he want the voters in this campaign to condemn individuals who happened to be members of a political party, or an organization, within which are to be found individual crooks? Is he quite willing to be guilded by this rule of vicarious responsibility?

"Gov. Smith has been a member of Tammany Hall for 30-odd years. He has been in the closest relationship with the members. He has been one of the leaders. Is he responsible for the stealings and extortions of Croker? Did he ever condemn them? Is he to be judged and measured in this campaign by speculations and the persistent and unconscionable grafting of Murphy? Did he ever condemn them or censure?

"Is the Governor willing to assume responsibility for the degradation of the organization of which he was a leader? This is the organization which the Governor proposes to remain a member of as President of the United States. I have not heard that Mr. Smith ever proposes to take either Murphy or Daugherty as his associates in Washington.

"He has not condemned Tammany. He has not condemned his associates; on the contrary, not more than July 4, he eulogized Tammany Hall as an eleemosynary institution.

"Will Elect Clean Ticket."

"In the campaign of 1924, 15,000,000 votes were cast for Coolidge. This vote constitutes the Republican party. At least, 15,700,000 of them are perfectly clean and perfectly patriotic citizens. This is the Republican party for which I speak tonight. That is the Republican party that nominated and elected a clean ticket in 1924. That is the Republican party that has nominated and will elect a clean ticket in 1928.

"Let the miserable individuals who betrayed their party and their country pass on to the condemnation which awaits them. The great party of Lincoln, made up of millions of clean men and women will continue to fight for principles and the principles which have made this country great and powerful."

The Senator declared Hoover was in favor of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Waterways project, of value to the Northwest he noted, and also set him down as definitely opposed to repeal of the prohibition act, which Borah said Tammany Hall, rather than the Democratic party, wanted "nullified."

Hoover as Champion of Farmer.

Borah said Hoover was a champion of the farmer. Hoover's work as Administrator during the flood was praised by the Senator, who said that any statement that Hoover was not then working in the interests of the farmers was a gross libel."

The Senator defied "any man living to tell what Gov. Smith's position is "on the farm problem," except "that if elected he will appoint a commission to study the problem."

Discussing prohibition, he said delegates to the party conventions at Houston and Kansas City had declared for enforcement of the law, and so had Hoover, but that "Tammany through its spokesman, has put the liquor issue into the campaign." The vote of the women, he predicted, would keep the prohibition amendment in force.

SENATOR EDGE CRITICISES SMITH'S WET PROPOSALS

Assails Governor's Suggestions in Milwaukee Speech as "Mere Gestures, Misleading If Not Deceptive."

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Gov. Smith's Milwaukee speech on the liquor question is strongly criticised in a statement by Senator Walter E. Edge of New Jersey, one of the most prominent wets of the Republican party. He says that Smith's proposals are "mere gestures, misleading if not deceptive." He declares that Gov. Smith's own party will not follow his lead and that "it is almost political dishonesty to appeal for the wet vote through a presidential candidate's personal views unsupported and repudiated in advance by his own party."

Edge deplores making the prohibition question a partisan issue, and held that neither party could consider the solution its own property.

He accuses the Democrats of putting forward prohibition to obscure other national problems, but argues that the achievements of the Coolidge administration can not be "thus side-tracked." In Edge's view, thousands of wets will vote for Hoover.

"Misleading, If Not Deceptive."

"Viewed from the standpoint of practical results, Gov. Smith's proposals in his Milwaukee speech for relief from the evils which have followed the prohibition experiment are mere gestures—misleading, if not, in fact, deceptive," Edge says. "They offer no real solution of the problem.

"As one who voted against the Volstead act, believing it an unworkable method of enforcing the eighteenth amendment and unwarranted by its terms, I have no hesitation in voicing this criticism.

"The Democratic nominee's suggestions for revision, particularly his plan to divide the nation into wet and dry districts, would make the situation worse than today. Most of us are convinced we have enough difficulty already. Even if practical, the proposal is meaningless, for the perfectly plain and obvious reason that his own party refuses in advance to follow his lead.

Smith's Position Repudiated.

"A solution cannot be found by making the country legally half wet and half dry any more than half slave and half free. Many Democratic nominees for both the Senate and House, representing all sections of the country, have publicly repudiated their leader's position on this question and pledged their constituents to oppose his plans, whatever form they may take. Therefore, his election can be no referendum on this subject. My 10 years' experience has convinced me that any change will be the result of calm determination by the army of citizens, neither identified with the extreme wet or the extreme dry element.

"Any movement led by a representative of either faction will meet too much determined and even bitter opposition to receive the consideration necessary to achieve constructive results.

"Gov. Smith frankly admits that the President has nothing to do with it. Congress and Congress alone has the only authority to revise or amend the existing laws or to provide for a resubmission of the eighteenth amendment. In fact, an amendment to the eighteenth amendment, if submitted as he proposes, must be exclusively the work of Congress without the President even having the power to approve or veto."

MAHARANI OF COOCH BEHAR RIDES TO HOUNDS IN ENGLAND

Widow of Maharajah, With Whom She Eloped, Known as India's Most Beautiful Princess.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—English society claims few more fascinating or dashing members than the Maharani of Cooch Behar, who is known as India's most beautiful Princess. She has taken a hunting-box at Melton-Mowbray, where the Prince of Wales rides, and is riding to hounds this season.

If one were seeking an up-to-date heroine for an Indian novel, she could be found in this lithe, bobbed-haired woman, who has defied all the rules of the Orient for the repression of women.

The Maharani is the widow of the Maharajah of Cooch Behar, who died young, and is the mother of the small heir to the throne. She is daughter of the Gaekwar of Baroda. America will remember her brother, the late Prince Jai Singh, who became prominent at Harvard a few years ago by means of a Monte Cristo income and an inclination to spend it.

The Princess provided her romantic land with one love story it won't forget soon. When she gave her affections to the youthful Maharajah of Cooch Behar, who ruled a rich state in Bengal, the dignified gaekwar forbade the marriage. So she eloped. The gaekwar naturally was ruffled, and a coolness sprang up betwen him and his daughter. It was some three years before they "made it up." The reconciliation took place during a conference of 40 of India's greatest princes among whom the gaekwar was one of the most powerful.

DE RIVERA AND KING AT ODDS

Alfonso Said to Have Taken Side of Army Against Dictator.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—Dispatches to the Daily Mail from the Spanish frontier say that there are many signs that Premier Prima de Rivera may be replaced on consequence of the hostility toward him of King Alfonso and the army. It is said that after the King's return from Sweden and England, Rivera asked him to punish those who had made hostile statements about the dictatorship by expulsion, imprisonment and fines. The King is reported to have refused and to have taken sides with the army against the dictator. Alfonso is reported to have said in Sweden that he never wanted the dictatorship established, but that it was forced upon him.

Conservative Cabinet in Sweden.

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 2.—A Conservative Cabinet has been formed in Sweden under the leadership of ex-Premier Arvid Lindman, to succeed that of Premier Ekman, recently resigned. Another former Premier, Ernst Trygger, will be Minister of Foreign Affairs.

NORRIS WON'T TAKE STUMP FOR SMITH

Nebraskan Says He Will Speak for Mixed List of Senatorial Nominees.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Senator George Norris of Nebraska today denied a published report that he had decided to take the stump for Gov. Smith of New York.

The Nebraska Republican independent declared that in going into Minnesota, North Dakota, Montana, Washington and Nebraska he would not take sides in the national campaign in favor of either presidential candidate, but would restrict himself to a discussion of the attitude on national questions of the senatorial candidates whose re-election he will urge.

Declaring that he would support Shipstead in Minnesota, running on the Farmer-Labor ticket, Wheeler in Montana and Dill in Washington, running on the Democratic ticket, and Frazier in North Dakota, LaFollette in Wisconsin and Howell in Nebraska, running on the Republican ticket, Norris asserted. "I am not going to mix up the discussion with anything except the records of the senatorial candidates."

"Incidentally, when Mr. Hoover made his speech of acceptance, I commented on it—what I believe to be fair," the Senator continued. "I didn't like it. He was silent on what I believe to be important issues. When Smith made his speeches at Omaha and Denver on water power and farm relief I commented on them, praising him in both instances, because I believed he had come across on those propositions. Anybody can draw any conclusion from those comments that he wants to, but I am not going to take up the presidential candidates in this campaign."

NO WINE FOR AMERICAN GUESTS

By the Associated Press.

TORONTO, Oct. 2.—Members of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Massachusetts will be unable to drink toasts to the King and the President in port wine tonight. Sir Henry Drayton, chairman of the Ontario Liquor Control Board, which has charge of the sale of liquors in Government stores originally had decided to give permission for the use of wine at a banquet to be tendered the visitors by local officials Later after a conference between Sir Henry and members of the Provincial Government he withdrew permission. G. Howard Ferguson, Premier of Ontario, explained the withdrawal in the following statement: "No such permits have ever been granted to any such function in the Province, and it is felt that these men, coming from Massachusetts, would not expect that a precedent would be created by giving them any special consideration. When it was pointed out that at all the banquets here, even at that tendered to the Prince of Wales, were were able to drink the toast only in ginger ale, it was felt that our guests here would readily appreciate the situation and would not want to do otherwise."

INCREASED G. O. P. MAJORITY LIKELY IN 15TH DISTRICT

COOLIDGE'S MARGIN IN 1924 WAS 5434

This Republican Lead Is Expected to Be Advanced to 9000 in November, Observer Learns.

By CURTIS A. BETTS,
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JOPLIN, Mo., Oct. 2. — While Jasper County is the seat of the strongest anti-Smith sentiment in the Fifteenth Congressional district, the remaining counties with possibly one exception, are looked upon as probable contributors to the increased Republican majority that Republican and Democratic leaders of the district virtually agree is to be expected this year.

Unusual interest in politics exists throughout the district, and from available sources of information, it appears to be redounding to the benefit of Herbert Hoover and the Republican ticket.

In 1924 the total Republican and Democratic primary vote of the district was 32,180, of which 14,548 were in the Republican primary and 17,632 in the Democratic primary. In the 1928 primary the total vote was 36,086, of which 18,674 were in the Republican primary and 17,412 in the Democratic primary. This shows a Republican gain of 4126 for this year, and a Democratic loss of 220.

G. O. P. Victory in 1924.

The primary vote is not a certain index of the way the district will go in the election, but in view of existing conditions it is to be noted that, notwithstanding the lower primary vote in 1924, the Republicans carried the district in the general election by 5434.

The counties comprising the district are Barry, Barton, Jasper, Lawrence, McDonald, Newton and Vernon — generally speaking, the counties of the extreme southwestern corner of the State. The primary figures for Jasper County show the greatest divergence from the figures of four years ago, the Republicans increasing their vote 2206 and the Democrats increasing theirs only 388. Barry County showed a Republican increase of 872 and a Democratic loss of 497; Barton, normally a close county with slight Republican leanings, a Republican decrease of 134 and a Democratic decrease of 219; Lawrence, a Republican increase of 667 and a Democratic increase of 130; McDonald, a Republican increase of 26 and a Democratic decrease of 83; Newton, a Republican increase of 501 and a Democratic decrease of 597; Vernon, a Republican decrease of 12 and a Democratic increase of 658.

Vernon County Democratic.

While Vernon County figures, on their face, would seem to indicate a strong Democratic gain, a condition opposite to that shown for other counties of the district, they are to some extent at least, accounted for by a local race for the Democratic nomination for Prosecuting Attorney. The county always is certainly Democratic in the general election, and local contests are fought out in the Democratic primary, rather than in the general election. This year the fight developed around the Nevada State Hospital scandal of a year or so ago, when irregularities in the office of Luther Wilson, a Baker appointee, sometimes Democrat and sometimes Republican, were reported by examiners from the State Auditor's office.

Wilson was not prosecuted and he and his friends rallied all the support they could for the renomination of the present prosecuting attorney. The fight was a hard one and Wilson's friend lost by a few votes.

9000 Hoover Margin Likely.

In the district as a whole, the anti-Catholic and dry opposition to Smith is expected to mean that the Republican majority in the district will be increased from the 1924 figure of 5434 to at least 9000 for Hoover this year. All of the counties except Vernon are expected to show Hoover majorities, as they showed Republican majorities in 1924, with Vernon giving Smith a smaller lead. Barton and McDonald are considered fairly close, the proportion of Republicans who will support Smith being considered higher there than in the other counties. There will be some Republican losses to Smith in all the counties, but Democratic leaders concede this drain will not be nearly as heavy as the Democratic losses to Hoover. Smith will gain some Republicans on the wet issue and also on the farm relief issue.

Joseph J. Manlove, who always runs far ahead of the remainder of the Republican ticket in the district, was renominated for Congress by the Republicans. His majority in 1926 was about 7000, and this year is likely to reach 10,000.

HOOVER REVISES SPEAKING DATES FOR THE EAST

New York City Address to Be Delivered Oct. 22, After His Appearance in Boston, Oct. 15.

PLANS FOR THIRD TALK OCT. 26 OR 27

Will Make Radio Appeal to Voters From Home in California — Shortens Elizabethton Address.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Herbert Hoover has found it necessary to revise his whole Eastern speaking schedule because of the fact that Oct. 13 is registration day in New York City, and consequently it would not be feasible for him to make an address in that city at that time as had been planned.

His New York address, in which he will discuss business conditions and international trade, will be made on Oct 22 at Madison Square Garden and his Boston speech on Oct. 15. Tariff is to form the keynote of his Boston speech, which will be delivered in Mechanics' Hall at 8 o'clock, Eastern standard time. Both speeches will be broadcast over a nation-wide hookup.

Besides these two addresses in the East, Hoover probably will make another on Oct. 26 or 27, at some place yet to be selected.

This schedule provides for one address a week during the five remaining weeks of the campaign, exclusive of the final appeal he will make to the voters in a radio talk from his California home on the night of Nov. 5. One of these speeches will be delivered in some Midwestern city during his trip across the continent.

Confers With Party Leaders.

The Republican presidential candidate was late in getting to his office today, remaining at home for several hours to clean up a number of odds and ends of campaign details there free from the pressure of conferences which are inevitable when he is in his office. He conferred with a number of party leaders during the forenoon and had as his luncheon guest at his home Robert R. McCormick, publisher of the Chicago Tribune.

Tomorrow the candidate will visit the State Department to receive from the Spanish Ambassador the cup donated by the King of Spain for the forthcoming yacht races at Long Beach, Cal. The nominee was designated by Gov. Young of California to receive the cup on behalf of that State. Secretary Kellogg will attend the presentation.

With a succession of speeches crowding upon him in a fairly limited space of time, Hoover is changing his policy about preparing them well in advance. His Elizabethton (Tenn.) speech of next Saturday is being shortened and will not be ready for advance distribution until Thursday. On his visit to Tennessee he will speak at the Soldiers' Home on the outskirts of Johnson City.

Slemp to Report on Virginia.

At the same time Hoover is making ready the text of the address which he is to deliver to the veterans at the Johnson City Soldiers' Home on the same day and this talk will be much longer than was at first expected to would be. It probably will deal with veterans' relief and kindred subjects.

While work on these addresses is taking up much of the nominee's time he also is devoting considerable of it to details of the conduct of the campaign in the states which generally have been listed as doubtful, and also to the situation in the Southern states. On his engagement list today was C. Bascom Slemp, National Committeeman for Virginia, who is in charge of the campaign there.

This State has been separated from those of the old South in which Horace A. Mann is director of the Republican forces. Slemp has a free hand to press the campaign for the Hoover-Curtis ticket. The former secretary to President Coolidge is optimistic about the outlook there and particularly about the strength he says has developed for the Republican candidate among the women.

Another Religious Incident.

Undoubtedly the recent letter which was sent out over the signature of Mrs. Willie W. Caldwell, National Committeewoman for Virginia, calling upon the women to save the country from being "Romanized" will form one subject matter for discussion between Hoover and Slemp. Scarcely had Hoover finished repudiating that letter before another incident of the same kind cropped up in another Southern State.

This is the action of Oliver D. Streett, Republican National Committeeman and State Chairman for Alabama, in sending out a pamphlet entitled "Gov. Smith's membership in the Catholic Church and its proper place in the campaign." Hoover has taken no action respecting the circulation of this document as Chairman Work of the Republican National Committee, had sent a telegram of protest to Streett before the matter was called to the attention of the candidate.

On Hoover's behalf, however, it was stated at his headquarters that he stood squarely on his statement of last Saturday that he wanted no support on the basis of religion. The candidate has stated and reiterated that the religious question is not an issue in this campaign.

Scientists Work as Stokers On Byrd's Supply Ship

Capt. McKinley, Former St. Louisan, Among Those to Volunteer for Duty to Relieve Men in Engine Room.

By JOE DEGANAHL.

Copyright, 1928, by the Post-Dispatch and New York Times.

ON BOARD THE S. S. ELEANOR BOLLING, Oct. 2 (by wireless). —The Eleanor Bolling, supply ship of the Byrd Antarctic Expedition, passed Navassa Island, the last of the West Indies, on its course to Panama and the Antarctic shortly after noon yesterday.

She will arrive in Colon Thursday night, and after putting on 200 tons of coal will start on the 7000-mile voyage, to Dunedin, New Zealand.

Adventure which crowded the 3-day trip from New York to Hampton Roads has been missing on the second leg of the voyage.

Captured by a coast guard cutter which had mistaken the Eleanor Bolling for a liquor runner, a breakdown and an all-night fight against an 80 miles per hour hurricane inside the Virginia Capes gave the green crew more thrills on the first three days than they had expected on the whole trip to Dunedin.

Experience Proves Valuable.

The experience proved to be valuable, however, for it enabled Capt. Gustave V. Brown to know his men under pressure and to learn the defects of the ship. Repairs in the engine room and the addition of two experienced firemen to the crew at Norfolk doubled the speed of the ship. She has been making eight knots since she cleared Cape Henry, Va., Tuesday night. As it is vital to the success of the expedition that the supply ship reach the ice barrier surrounding the Antarctic continent early in December, Capt. Brown and Chief Engineer Frank McPherson, have been pushing the ship to the limit.

The strain on green hands in the fire room and engine room has been terrific since the ship entered the tropics, but the men, many of whom have never been to sea before, have stuck to their posts. A call for volunteers to act as coal passers and relieve the firemen of some of their routine work brought out all members of the scientific department.

Ex-St. Louisan Aids Firemen.

Capt. A. C. McKinley, a former St. Louisan, aerial photographer of the expedition, who had never been in a fireroom until he volunteered to help keep steam up while the ship was being buffed about in the hurricane last week, volunteered his services again when he learned that the regular fireroom watch was played out from the heat.

Jack S. O'Brien, who will be a member of the geographical staff when the expedition goes ashore, also has been standing a watch in the fireroom, though he has not been hardened to the task. Arnold H. Clarke, the only fireman signed at New York who was not relieved by a professional fireman at Norfolk, has not missed a watch at the boiler despite the constantly increasing heat.

Prof. L. M. Gould, the University of Michigan geologist of the expedition, volunteered for work in the fireroom but was not needed, so was changed into the deck department as a boatswain.

Professor Assistant Steward.

William C. Haynes, meteorologist, has been acting as assistant steward. He and Sidney Greason, steward, and George Tennant, chief cook, have been working from 12 to 15 hours a day.

Harry R. King, first mate, and the other members of the deck department, have been busy 12 hours a day finishing odds and ends which were left undone when the ship was rushed out of the shipyard at Brooklyn on her 13,000-mile journey.

Relief from the long hard days under the tropical sun has come in the evening when all hands have moved from the forecastle and the cabins amidships to under an immense tarpaulin, which has been stretched as an awning over the forward hatch.

Byrd Says Good-By to Children, Leaves Boston to Board Ship.

By the Associated Press.

BOSTON, Oct. 2.—Commander Richard E. Byrd, bound for two years' exploration in the Antarctic, bade farewell to his four children yesterday and left Boston at 3:20 p. m., on the Wolvering Express for San Pedro, whence he will depart on the whaler Larsen on Oct. 6. He expressed his gratitude to the people of Boston for the support they had given to his expedition.

"Ever since I have lived in Boston," he added, "people have made me feel at home. I shall look forward to coming back here in 1930. I think that Bostonians are more like Virginians than any people I have met." He is a native of Virginia.

ABORIGINES IN AUSTRALIA USE BOOMERANGS AGAINST WHITES

By the Associated Press.

ADELAIDE, Australia, Oct. 2.—Fierce fighting between settlers and aborigines in the far northwest corner of South Australia in which the aborigines used boomerangs with deadly effect has given rise to anxiety such as American pioneers knew in the days of Indian troubles.

Seventeen aborigines were killed in one fight, following the murder of William Brookes, a gold prospector. Settlers are afraid to leave their homes unguarded. Women are arming as well as men.

WORK GIVES TEXT OF ORDER TO DROP RELIGION AS ISSUE

G. O. P. Chairman Makes His Telegram Public After Alabama Worker Denies Receiving It.

HE DEEPLY REGRETS ANTI-CATHOLIC PLEA

Committeeman, However, Persists in Declaring Roman Church Very Live and Vital Issue.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Chairman Work of the Republican National Committee made public late last night the text of a telegram he sent on Sept. 29 to Oliver D. Street, National Committeeman for Alabama, in which he expressed disapproval of Street's issuance of a circular attacking Gov. Alfred E. Smith, Democratic nominee, because of his membership in the Roman Catholic Church.

The telegram was not made public until after Chairman Work had been informed that Street had been quoted as denying that he had received such a message from the Republican National Chairman.

Previously Chairman Work had said that he sent a telegram to Street condemning the dragging into the political campaign of the religious issue, but he refused to make the communication public at that time.

Street, in addition to being National Committeeman for his State, is also State Republican campaign chairman.

The telegram of Chairman Work follows:

"A circular has reached me purporting to have been written by you, subject: 'Governor Smith's Membership in the Roman Catholic Church and Its Proper Place as an Issue in the Campaign.'

"I regret exceedingly that any of our party officials should bring the religious question into a partisan campaign. Invite your attention to a letter from me to all national committeemen, dated June 29, in which I said: 'The campaign policy we propose to follow will be informative and constructive only. The promptings of the conscience and personal liberty within the law are not proper subjects for political debate.'

"I am sure you will observe suggestion in future."

Terms Catholic Church "a Very Live and Vital Issue."

By the Associated Press.

GUNTERSVILLE, Ala., Oct. 2.—Oliver D. Street, Republican National Committeeman for Alabama and chairman of the State Republican Campaign Committee, said yesterday he had distributed 200,000 copies of a circular declaring that the Catholic Church is a "very live and vital issue" in the presidential campaign.

Street's statement was made when he was asked regarding reports that Chairman Work of the Republican National Committee, had sent him a telegram condemning distribution of campaign material dealing with religion and with Gov. Smith's membership in the Catholic Church.

The circular, which is several thousand words in length, quotes a letter from Street to the Birmingham News, which that paper refused to publish, explaining that it violated its policy of not printing letters dealing with religious issue into the campaign. It accuses the News of injecting the religious issue into the campaign and of opposing Gov. Smith's nomination for the presidency four years ago because of his religion. The circular, which is headed, "Governor Smith's membership in the Roman Catholic Church and its proper place in this campaign," adds:

"I think the Catholic Church and Gov. Smith's membership in it legitimately enter into this campaign as a very live and vital issue, but in saying so, I do not mean that the religious beliefs and practices of the Roman Catholic Church or of Gov. Smith are involved.

Conception of Roman Principles.

"The Roman Catholic Church traditionally and historically has always stood and does now stand for certain political, civil and social principles. It has always and does now boldly and defiantly proclaim its belief in and advocacy of those principles and its purpose never to cease the fight for them until they are brought to full triumph.

"Among these purely political principles for which every Bishop of Rome (i. e. the Pope) has declared that the Roman Catholic Church stands are:

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Negroes and the Campaign.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

SPECIAL attention has been called to the fact that in the Negro wards of the city there has been a decided drop in the registration contrary to what might have been expected, since in the Twelfth Congressional District they have a member of their race nominated for Congress and several candidates for the State Legislature.

To those of us who are especially interested in having the Negro exercise this right of citizenship it is a great disappointment because of the untold misery he has suffered in consequence of this right having been denied and abridged. But, after all, may not this apathy on the part of the masses of the black people be accounted for in that they have no hope for the improvement of their condition in the success of either the Republicans or the Democrats in November?

In the platform of both of the major parties his cause has been ignored, nothing to arouse his enthusiasm has been said by either of the candidates, both are out for the electoral vote of the South. The paramount issue of that section, now as it has been for the last 100 years, is how to enslave and exploit black labor, and it is obvious to the average Negro that neither the courageous Al Smith nor Herbert Hoover, notwithstanding his Quaker origin, is going to say or do anything which might alienate that vote.—

The religious fervor with which both parties commit themselves to the enforcement of the Constitution of the United States in the light of their past record cannot but help excite our laughter, though tragic in its consequence.

ROBERT N. OWENS.

Systematic Slaughterers Wanted.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

CATERPILLARS everywhere and not enough sparrows to go 'round. Here's a suggestion: Let parents offer the children so much a dozen, or a can-ful, to pick 'em off and kill them.

I went out to sweep my walk this morning and I killed close to 100 on our four trees and the telephone pole.

They are just thick everywhere, and a systematic slaughter of them and the webs containing next year's family would help a lot toward relieving the situation. Let's all get busy—right now.

TREE WORSHIPER.

The 1892 Campaign.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

TALKING about myths, I see you fall for the old one that the hard times of the nineties began in Cleveland's second term.

I was at both conventions in 1892 and at St. Louis I stated that Cleveland would be elected because of the resentment of the unemployed and the failing little business men at the hard times existing and the fact that times were getting harder.

At Minneapolis the Republican convention was a continual dirge. The local chorus of some 1100 whooped things up for a day and then quit. After that the delegates would meet and adjourn awaiting an answer to a cablegram sent James G. Blaine at Paris, asking him to accept the nomination for President.

Blaine refused and there was nothing else to do but nominate Harrison for the second time. A funereal air prevailed at all sessions. Everyone knew Harrison was being put up for slaughter because of the resentment of the people at the developing hard times, which development began along in the latter part of 1891 and was reaching its apex at the convention met.

Any correspondent present knows the above to be facts, yet the myth that Cleveland caused the hard times of the nineties is still going strong. One thing you've got to hand to the Republicans—they're the best equipped liars in politics, have the biggest gall, can get away with murder and come out "cleaner than a hound's tooth." OWEN O'KEEFE.

The Registration Law.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

FORMERLY the moving period started May 1; today it is from Sept. 1 to Nov. 1. Our present registration requires that you must be a resident of the city 60 days prior to election. This part of the law operates to deprive a great many voters of their right of suffrage. Would it not be better to make a law more elastic to meet the situation of this kind, and change it so that those who have moved within a few weeks prior to election would be enabled to vote? The original intent and purpose of the law would be preserved, and a hardship to the voters would be overcome. Would it not be possible if a method could be found which would enable the voter to have a proper affidavit signed by three reputable citizens, who would be willing to state that they had knowledge of the change of residence, which could be filed with the Board of Election Commissioners and the vote preserved?

EUGENE J. ALTHEIMER.

(As repeatedly told in the Post-Dispatch, any voter who moves before Oct. 27 can get a transfer by applying at the Election Board office; one who moves too late for transfer can vote where registered.—Editor's note.)

POLITICS IN PROHIBITION.

The contention of a host of prohibition advocates, speaking for the churches, that prohibition is a moral not a political issue, is absurd. That the issue has a moral aspect is true, as Gov. Smith said, because its effects have contributed greatly to drunkenness, lawlessness, official corruption and other immoralities. But it is a political issue of the first magnitude.

If an issue which has forced an amendment to the Constitution, changing the whole structure and vitally affecting the rights of the states and the rights and liberties of citizens, is not a political issue, we do not know what a political issue is.

If an issue which prompted the Anti-Saloon League to spend millions of dollars to elect candidates to Congress pledged to support prohibition legislation and members of state legislatures pledged to ratify the eighteenth amendment and to pass drastic state prohibition legislation, is not a political issue, there is no such thing as a political issue.

The Anti-Saloon League maintains an expensive lobby in Washington to control the action of Congress on prohibition legislation. Has this nothing to do with politics and government?

Congress passed a drastic prohibition enforcement act, which affects the conduct of every American citizen and renders him liable to severe penalties for any infraction of the law. Surely there is a political issue in that law.

Congress has been induced to appropriate millions of dollars annually for the special enforcement of Federal prohibition laws, to maintain Federal agents and police officers in every state in the Union. That certainly is political action of the most drastic kind.

The prohibition enforcement laws have been the cause of widespread official corruption. Is there not something of a political nature affecting the whole country in that?

The prohibition laws have caused widespread disrespect for law, and lawlessness in elements of the American people hitherto law abiding and ardent supporters of law. Is not government vitally affected by this condition?

Churches proclaiming that prohibition is a moral issue, are going into politics to elect a President and a Congress which will maintain and enforce the prohibition laws. By their action they make prohibition a political issue.

By its nature and effects prohibition is a political issue of the greatest importance, vital to the stability of the republic as it was founded and to the welfare of the American people. It involves the very life of American principles embodied in the Constitution. It is destructive of local self-government. It is destructive of the reserved rights of the states and the liberty of the individual. It has caused social and official conditions which are rapidly becoming intolerable.

The issue has been made by the Republican and Democratic candidates for the presidency. Mr. Hoover is for Federal prohibition, and Gov. Smith for a change, restoring the rights of the states and local self-government. The result of the election will have a tremendous effect on the political action of the Government. That effect cannot be ignored by voters.

A HOLY MOSES?

Senator Moses of New Hampshire, Mr. Hoover's Eastern campaign manager, is discussing Gov. Smith's Western tour, particularly the Milwaukee speech:

> He promises to support the eighteenth amendment and the enforcement statutes. The support he would give them is to put them in prison under a sentence of death and to feed them with prison rations while awaiting execution.

Mr. Moses once described prohibition as "a jackass law."

WHY WE ARE INTERESTED IN NICARAGUA.

Some light on the Nicaraguan question is furnished by the People's Lobby of Washington which has unearthed a speech made by Diego Chamorro. In December, 1922, Chamorro, then President of Nicaragua, in a message to the National Congress, enumerated some of the concessions "granted to foreign companies chiefly American." These are some of the items he listed:

Exclusive right of navigation on the Escondido River lying in fertile banana regions. Money was paid for this concession, but it never reached the treasury.

Timber rights in an 8000 square mile zone on the northeast coast, with other privileges which placed that area under American exploitation.

In the region of Laguna de Perlas, the Atlantic Fruit Co. was ceded lands for the exploitation of the banana business.

Another American company was given mining concessions in Cape Gracias a Dios, Matagalpa and Nueva Segovia, constituting one-third of Nicaragua's area.

The Central American Commercial Co. bought for $100,000 valuable rights at Corinto, including construction of a dock and collection of port duties for 50 years. This concession had been transferred to General Zelaya gratuitously and he received the $100,000.

An American company was granted exclusive right for the manufacture of ice in the whole republic for 50 years.

This helps to make clearer the extraordinary interest which our State Department has evinced in the Central American republic.

The Cardinals are described as having taken their victory quietly when the flash came that they had won the pennant. They probably had uneasy visions of "Babe" Ruth coming up to bat.

HARD-BOILED ALBANIA.

One of the first acts of Albania's new king was to hang 11 conspirators in the market place of the town of Durazzo. Two hundred suspected conspirators were imprisoned and martial law was declared.

We do not know how Albania fared as a republic, but certainly the new kingdom must justify its most brutal expectations. Perhaps Zogu is merely carrying out a platform plank promising that he would reverse the milk-and-water policy of William of Wied and restore Albania's old and bloody status as the gangster of Europe.

Without doubt this feud-ridden little country is committed to a diet of red meat.

If Mrs. Willebrandt becomes a Federal Judge, we will know what Salem was like in the time of Cotton Mather.

THE WORLD SERIES.

Two years ago, when the Cardinals beat the Yankees in the world series, the New York team was at the top of its strength. Nevertheless, the Cardinals outgamed it, though they probably were held in contempt by the proud American Leaguers, and "Babe" Ruth openly said during the series that they were a joke. He has since expressed hope that the Cardinals would win the National League pennant, in order that the Yankees might meet them again. "We have a score to settle with that club," he said.

It detracts somewhat from interest in the series to have the Cardinals in perfect condition and the Yankees crippled. Good sportsmanship would prefer to have Pennock in form, Combs, Lazzeri, Dugan and Ruth themselves, and the Yankees as powerful as they were in 1926. This is a very interesting question, whether the Yankees or the Cardinals are the greatest baseball team of the present decade. On the outcome of the series between them when neither had an alibi the Cardinals are the greater team. Nevertheless, many experts, including McGraw, do not accord the Cardinals this distinction. They ascribe their victory over the Yankees in 1926 to the gameness of the team, which beat in a series by sheer grit and determination a team that would have taken the pennant away from it had they been in the same league. Under the circumstances it will not be possible to determine if that is true. Perhaps it is not true, and the Cardinals are the stronger team. The series between them this year will hardly decide the question. If the Yankees win they will have each won a series; if the Cardinals win, they will have beaten only a crippled team.

However, the misfortunes of the Yankees will in no wise impair the games in St. Louis as a major event or lessen the affection in which the Cardinals are held in the Mississippi Valley. Those admirers will come from a wide area not to see the games merely, but to applaud the men whose mettle has brought two of these series to St. Louis in three years.

WHAT A BANKER THINKS.

"The most constructive banking development in 50 years," says Mr. W. B. Cowen on the fiftieth anniversary of his connection with the National Bank of Commerce in St. Louis, "is the Federal reserve banking system. We could not have gone through the war without it."

The Democrats gave the country the Federal reserve banking system. Yet a widespread feeling among business men, including bankers, that Democratic rule is bad for business, is the greatest factor in the presidential campaign.

TRIAL BY JURY.

At a time when many people in the United States have lost faith in trial by jury, Japan has just introduced it. Most imitative of the eastern nations, and certainly not without discriminating judgment, Japan has adopted this practice after thorough investigation in all the principal western countries, including our own.

Perhaps her decision will strengthen our own waning faith in one of the principal guarantees of Magna Charta. The alternative to trial by jury is trial by judge. The tyrannies of this practice were so pronounced that when man finally won the right to be tried by a jury of his peers it was accounted a priceless victory for human rights. The founders of our own republic thought so much of it that they devoted the sixth and seventh articles of the bill of rights to it.

It is unquestionable that what happened in the trials of Fall and Doheney, as well as the acquittal of Sinclair, has weakened the faith of the people of the United States in the efficacy of this old and dearly-bought principle of justice. Nevertheless, it would be an anomaly, and a most serious one, if at a time when an eclectic civilization like that of Japan is taking it over we should discard it.

SHE "WILLEBRANDTS" NO MORE.

When last heard from, fully a week ago, Mrs. Willebrandt intended to go right on filling her speaking engagements, and she had no explanation or apology to offer anyone for anything she had said. But she has disappeared from the first page and all the other pages, and a vast and soothing silence has displaced the tumult and the shouting. We do not imply that the amiable Dr. Work has "muzzled" Mrs. Willebrandt, as was so earnestly advised, but something equally effective has been applied. And this phenomenon, if it may be so catalogued, verifies the tradition that the Republicans are good politicians. They may make a mistake now and then, but they don't persist in blundering. Wherefore, the lady has ceased from "Willebrandting."

ANOTHER CROP SURPLUS.

While the United States is trying to devise a solution of the farmer's problem, another surplus is vexing the grape growers of California.

The success of that business is the wine grape, of which some 500,000 tons have been grown this year. Since prohibition the industry has increased 200 per cent. Result: the market is declining. Winemaking is widespread all over the United States, but it does not keep pace with the growing of wine grapes. Consequently, the California Vineyardists' Association, which has as its object setting up some artificial obstacle to the law of supply and demand, has just been organized.

Indeed, California is in something of a dilemma. Mr. Hoover, a Californian, is a candidate for President. It is commonly supposed that if he is elected the fury of the law will be let loose upon all those who violate prohibition, which would, of course, further restrict the already inadequate market for the wine grapes of California. Nobody doubts that Mr. Hoover will carry the state, but that doesn't cheer a meeting of the California Vineyardists' Association.

The only thing that could cheer one of those meetings would be news that all wine grape crops had failed except California's.

WHEN HORNSBY STRUCK OUT.

In the quiet satisfaction to which the first ecstasy of victory has simmered down St. Louis may pause to gaze approvingly at one of our "old lost stars" who is again in ascendance. We refer to Rogers Hornsby's feat in regaining the batting leadership of the National League which he held so continuously while wearing a Cardinal uniform. Congratulations are due. But we should like to make special mention of the occasion in that 15-inning game when, with the winning run camping on second base, the mighty Hornsby struck out, even as did Casey of the immortal ballad. Have we no poet to put that noble failure "forever in song?"

"YOU MAY CONTRIBUTE THIS YEAR."

Hoover's Farm Record

Moline farm leader, quoting from Republican candidate's statements, places upon him responsibility for beating down farm prices in the war period; charges Hoover, as the chief agricultural adviser of Harding and Coolidge, with blocking remedial legislation.

From a radio address by George N. Peek, President American Council of Agriculture.

THE primary cause of the collapse of agriculture is that, due to national legislation in the interests of industry and labor, these groups since the war have been able to resist deflation, while the price of the farmers' major cash products immediately declined to world's levels due to the refusal of the Harding and Coolidge administrations to intervene on behalf of agriculture. Thus we have had for eight years the spectacle of industry and labor operating on one economic level, and agriculture, one-third of our population, operating on another and lower economic level. The result is that the farmer has been buying dear and selling cheap; thus rapidly exhausting the accumulated resources of the generations which preceded him.

It is necessary definitely to fix responsibility for this situation in order that the public may appraise and hold to account those who are to blame for the plight of agriculture.

During the war and immediately thereafter, farm prices were held down by Herbert Hoover, the United States Food Administrator. In the case of wheat the price was held approximately to the minimum named by Congress.

Many charges and counter-charges in connection with this activity have been made by individuals interested in Mr. Hoover's candidacy. I shall now remove all doubt on this question by quoting unquestioned authorities definitely fixing responsibility where it belongs:

On May 1, 1918, Mr. Hoover said, in a public address:

> I agree with the contention of some farmers that they would be getting $5 and perhaps $10 a bushel for their wheat if it had not been for the restraints imposed by the Government.

In the spring of 1919, Julius Barnes, who had been at the head of the United States Grain Corporation, a creation of the Food Administration, said:

> For two years it has not been a question of holding the price of wheat at the guaranteed level so much as preventing it from soaring above that fair price level.

Early in April, 1919—five months after the armistice—Mr. Hoover sent a momentous cablegram from Europe, which clearly showed that his effort following the war was to hold farm prices down. In this message he said:

> . . . Referring to the necessity of maintaining control of wheat, in order to prevent higher prices before next harvest . . . Early in March . . . the War Trade Board freed the exportation of pork products . . . The price rose rapidly . . . In the month of March alone . . . we shall kill about one million pounds of inspected and country slaughtered hogs and the increased price will be fully 1½ cents net. This action was taken against the protest of my entire staff and myself . . . If the control of wheat were removed during the next two or three months in the face of the world situation, prices in this commodity would advance materially beyond the present level . . . I wish to repeat that unless some superior force intervenes, we intend to hold the price of wheat to the figures it has stood during the entire war under congressional guarantee.

The full text of this cable is available. It was addressed to me through Mr. Hoover's New York office and is in my possession

Do you know of any better authority on this question than Mr. Hoover and Mr. Barnes? The question that we are disposing of now is, who held down farm prices during and immediately after the war? Mr. Hoover's supporters have been disclaiming responsibility for him and have sought to place it elsewhere. This is a fraud. Mr. Hoover by his silence has been a party to this misrepresentation, both as to the war period and in 1919. This is fraud.

In connection with the war price of wheat, Mr. Hoover's political and paid propagandists have been busy defending him against a charge which never has been made. They say that Mr. Hoover did not fix the war price of wheat; I say that no responsible person has ever charged that Mr. Hoover did. Congress established and guaranteed the farmer a minimum price for his wheat. But we do charge, and Mr. Hoover and his friends have never even attempted to deny the charge, that Mr. Hoover, through the manipulation of his Grain Corporation, held down the price of wheat approximately to that minimum figure—a procedure which had not been intended by Congress and which the Congress did not authorize. That is the charge which Mr. Hoover and Mr. Barnes concede in their statements which I have just quoted.

Now as to Mr. Hoover's post-war record: From 1921 until he left the Cabinet only a few weeks ago, Mr. Hoover has been the chief agricultural adviser of the last two administrations. Therefore, he has a greater responsibility for the continuing depression in agriculture than any other one man in the nation. This depression since 1920 has resulted in the closing of 4000 banks, mostly in the rural districts; an average annual total of 21,250 business failures—compared with the average annual total of 15,172 during the five years immediately preceding the war, and farm bankruptcies without precedent during the history of the nation.

During this eight-year period Mr. Hoover has brought forward no constructive program for agriculture, although the economics of the situation were discussed with him in January, 1922. That is not all—he has prevented the adoption of sound legislation urged by farm organizations, and twice passed by Congress by a bi-partisan vote, the last time by more than a two-thirds vote in the Senate and lacking only 26 votes of a two-thirds vote in the House of Representatives. After this record during the war and since, from 1917 to campaign time in 1928, Mr. and Mrs. Farmer, do you want more of Mr. Hoover? For anyone to call Mr. Hoover a friend of the farmer in the face of this record is fraud.

JOHN G. NEIHARDT

Edna Millay's Latest

THE BUCK IN THE SNOW AND OTHER POEMS. By Edna St. Vincent Millay. (Harper's.)

IT IS almost certain that various critics will say of this latest collection of verse by Edna Millay that it "marks a distinct advance over her previous volumes." Cliche criticism is to be expected when a vogue has developed great impetus. But the statement will not be true, and it is doubtful if any of this exquisite lyric poet's genuine admirers, who are capable of independent judgment, will think anything of the sort.

Edna Millay has undoubtedly written some of the finest lyrics of our time, and she has richly deserved the high praise she has received; but there is nothing in this latest collection that is comparable with her best. Had "The Buck in the Snow and Other Poems" appeared in 1917 instead of "Renascence and Other Poems," there would have been no Millay vogue. Exuberant youth and the chanting lure have not inspired the poems in this volume. That time is past, and what we have now, apparently, is a mature woman acquainted with the mood of disillusionment, a woman perplexed and hurt by life. Here, though she sings with a technique that reveals the old skill, she does not really feel like singing. A Dionysian ecstacy was her great gift, and she is no longer ecstatic.

But Edna Millay is a fine craftsman, and in moments when an intellectual consideration of human ills or some great wrong has stirred her emotionally, she can rise to noble heights. The following sonnets are typical:

SONNET.

Life, were thy pains as are the pains of hell,
So hardly to be borne, yet to be borne,
And all thy boughs more grim with wasp and thorn
Than armored bough stood ever; too chill to spell
With the warm tongue, and sharp with broken shell
Thy ways, whereby in wincing haste forlorn
The desperate foot must travel, blind and torn,
Yet must I cry—So be it; it is well.
Fair to me thy vineyards, nor less fair
Than the sweet heaven my fathers hoped to gain;
So bright this earthly blossom spiked with care,
This harvest hung behind the boughs of pain,
Needs must I gather, guessing by the stain
I bleed, but know not wherefore, know not where.

SONNET TO GATH.

Country of hunchbacks!—where the strong, straight spine,
Jeered at by crooked children, makes his way
Through by-streets at the kindest hour of day,
Till he deplore his stature, and incline
To measure manhood with a gibbous line;
Till out of loneliness, being flawed with clay,
He stoop into his neighbor's house and say,
"Your roof is low for me—the fault is mine."
Dust in an urn long since, dispersed and dead
Is great Apollo; and the happier he;
Since who amongst you all would lift a head
At a god's radiance on the mean door-tree,
Saving to run and hide your dates and bread,
And cluck your children in about your knee?

TO JESUS ON HIS BIRTHDAY.

For this your mother sweated in the cold,
For this you bled upon the bitter tree;
A yard of tinsel ribbon bought and sold;
A paper wreath, a day at home for me.
The merry bells ring out, the people kneel;
Up goes the man of God before the crowd;
With voice of honey and with eyes of steel
He drones your humble gospel to the proud.
Nobody listens. Less than wind that blows
Are all your words to us you died to save.
O Prince of Peace! O Sharon's dewy Rose!
How mute you lie within your vaulted grave.
The stone the angel rolled away with tears
Is back upon your mouth these thousand years.

WHEN THE TURTLES SING. By Don Marquis. (Doubleday, Doran.)

A story well told is always to be expected from Don Marquis and most of those in this volume are good stories, too. That delightful romancer, the Old Soak, narrates three of them, and mingles his vast store of Scriptural misquotations with his wide knowledge of neighborhood gossip. The title piece, "When the Turtles Sing," gets its name from the Song of Solomon, and deals with a merry old codger who reigned as a "peetryarch" over the Tucker tribe in the midst of a swamp. One of the best stories is "The Tablecloth Millionaire," written in the best O. Henry tradition. F. G.

CITY PRECINCTS TO BE INCREASED BY SEVEN

Heavy Registration Makes Addition Necessary — Total Will Be 670.

There will be 670 voting precincts in St. Louis for the presidential election in November, an increase of seven over the present number. The Election Board decided on the increase because of the heavy registration which made the number of voters in five precincts too large. The board regards 500 voters as the proper number to a precinct, but the average is somewhat in excess of this.

The present Tenth Precinct of the Twenty-fourth Ward, with 1944 voters, will be divided into four precincts, and four others will be cut in two.

The Republican City Committee last night discussed at a meeting what it regarded as unfair treatment of its party by the bi-partisan Election Board in the appointment of some precinct poll officials. The objection of Committeeman Polito of the Fourth Ward was related, that many of the Republican precinct officials in that ward resided in other parts of the city, whereas the Democratic officials lived in the ward and were familiar with the voters. Committeeman Hubele said his recommendations as to officials in the Seventh Ward had been disregarded in several instances.

Committeewoman Nardin of the Twenty-eighth Ward suggested that complaints against unfit officials be laid before the board immediately. Committeewoman Becker of the Thirteenth Ward declared that in her precinct the polling place was changed from large to small quarters, the latter being wholly inadequate for the voters on election day.

The committee members took away from the meeting posters and leaflets decalring that Gov. Smith if elected President, could do nothing about a change in the prohibition law. Only 47 Congressmen—Democrats—would vote for a change, these averred, including one from Missouri, inferred to be Congressman Cochran of the Eleventh (St. Louis) District.

New York Day by Day

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.

NEW YORK is often hootingly dubbed the most inhospitable American city. The stranger upon stepping from his train or steamer is popularly supposed to be taken over the jumps by everybody from the taxi gypper to the Broadway racketeer. The truth is that no other city has such a tax upon its hospitality or responds so gallantly.

There are exclusive of commuters about 75,000 visitors daily streaming into our midst expecting to be entertained by friends and acquaintances. Their attitude is "well, here we are," and they expect the cliff dwellers to do their stuff. Now in the smallest communities people have engagements as a rule for several days ahead and in cities on account of distances and multiple activities often weeks ahead. Not much of a gad-about, I have at the moment engagements that require my attention for the next 10 days. Yet the average visitor will call up from the station to announce he is in town and what form of Old Harry will be raised tonight?

It is, as a rule, the suggestion to attend the reigning theatrical hit seats for which at the outside cannot be secured in less than a week and spend the rest of the night in a scamper juice den. If the native hems and haws he finds a decided drop in temperature and later hears he has grown terrifically high hat.

Despite all this, life in New York consists largely in entertaining out-of-town friends. The burden falls heaviest on those who live in tiny apartments and must sleep on the floor or in the kitchen sink to make the visitor comfortable.

It takes many years for the New Yorker to tire of entertaining his out-of-town visitors. There is an endless thrill in revealing the wonders of the metropolis. New York would not be the same without this feature, but the visitor should display the same consideration he expects of the New Yorkers who visits him.

The New Yorker who calls up a friend in another city usually received a hearty "Glad you are here," and a vague intimation that "we must get together... But reverse the situation and the visitor to New York is hurt if he does not receive a spot invitation to don the war paint that very evening.

AN EXAMPLE of quick thinking was displayed by a banquet speaker the other evening. In the midst of his talk an excited guest saw a mouse and could not refrain from pointing and shouting, "There goes a mouse." When the assemblage looked the mouse was gone. "Please pardon the condition of my esteemed friend," said the speaker quickly, and went on with his speech. Trigger stuff.

THE latest in heaven-knows-what was displayed in a supper rendezvous the other evening when a lady wearing glasses with tortoise-shell rims flecked with chip diamonds popped in. And, according to a Broadway dentist, there have been three burlesque ladies in the past year who have diamonds set in their teeth.

THE most entrancing figure of childhood memory was a burly steamboat mate with every tooth capped with gold. He was known locally as "Yukon Charlie," and the legend was he had mined the gold for his teeth in Alaska. He was a rare favorite with the ladies of the levee—a Cameo Kirby if his day. We often wonder what his status would be today, with gold teeth not rated so hot among the ladies.

NEW YORK newspaper men work longer than those in Fleet street, says the London Bystander, and have no time for cricket.

The idea! Cricket is our secret vice.

Final Decision on Union With St. Michael and All Angels' Rests With Vestries.

A proposed merger of St. George's Episcopal Church, Olive street and Pendleton avenue, one of the oldest congregations in the city, and St. Michael and All Angels' Church, 6300 Ellenwood avenue, was approved last night by the parishioners of St. George's Church. The final decision rests with the vestries of the two churches as well as the arrangements for the details of the merger.

St. George's Church, which now has about 200 members, was organized May 22, 1845, and was largely attended during the past generation because of the popularity of its pastor, the late Rev. Dr. Robert A. Holland. Under the merger plan, the property of St. George's Church would be sold and the Rev. Raymond E. Brock, now pastor, would accept another call. Rev. Dr. Karl Morgan Block, pastor of St. Michael and All Angels' Church, would lead the united congregation.

BROTHERS CONTEST CHARITY BEQUESTS OF MRS. VOLLRATH

Suit to set aside the will of Mrs. Hedwig Vollrath was filed in Circuit Court yesterday by her three brothers—Paul, Max and Richard Voightman—to whom she bequeathed $1 each, leaving the bulk of the residue of her estate to various charities. A provision in the will set aside $5000 as a trust fund in charge of Louis L. Boehmen, an attorney, for the benefit of Ernest Vollrath, an uncle of Mrs. Vollrath's husband, the late Emil Vollrath.

The petition alleges that at the time the will was drawn, more than a year before Mrs. Vollrath's death, she was incapable of managing her affairs and did not understand what she was doing.

The charities named as beneficiaries are the German Protestant Orphans' Home, the German General Protestant Orphans' Home, the Salvation Army, the Missouri Humane Society and the Board of Children's Guardians.

The plaintiffs, in their petition, declare the value of the estate to be approximately $100,000, although an inventory filed several weeks ago placed the value around $35,000. Mrs. Vollrath was found dead July 22 at her home, 3834 Gravois avenue. She was 52 years old.

ALBANIAN KING BARRICADED IN PALACE AGAINST FEUDISTS

Secret Police Trying to Round Up Plotters in Cities of the Country.

By the Associated Press.

VIENNA, Oct. 2.—With a blood feud recently declared against him, Zogu, King of the Albanians, is stated in uncensored dispatches from the mountain kingdom to be virtually barricaded in his palace at Tirana.

Tirana and other centers are swarming with Albanian and Italianian secret police who are trying to round up plotters. The movement against the throne is described as widespread. Eleven persons are said to have been executed on Zogu's order in the market place of Durazzo. Two hundred others were arrested.

The situation is regarded as the outgrowth of an uprising against Europe's newest King, which started in the mountains of Northern Albania a few weeks ago. A mountain chieftain was found dead in bed. His followers attributed the assassination to men hired by Zogu and declared a blood feud against him.

A strict censorship has forced foreign correspondents to send out dispatches by devious routes. The palace at Tirana, where Zogu is guarded, is described as resembling an arsenal because many machine guns, rifles and other weapons have been concentrated there.

SHEPPARD, 18TH AMENDMENT AUTHOR, ON TOUR FOR SMITH

By the Associated Press.

WICHITA FALLS, Tex., Oct. 2.—Morris Sheppard, senior United States Senator of Texas and author of the eighteenth amendment, opened a speaking campaign on behalf of Gov. Smith here last night with the prediction that Smith will be the next President. Sheppard said:

"To refuse such a man (Smith) support because he has personal views opposed to prohibition, after prohibition has been permanently written into the Constitution and the law and after Smith has promised to enforce it as long as it is the law—is to take a position subversive to the country's welfare."

ROZIKA DOLLY BARRED FROM FATHER-IN-LAW'S FORTUNE

Tobacco Magnate Said to Have Arranged So Dancer Would Not Share in Estate.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—The Evening Standard says that Sir Mortimer Davis, late Canadian tobacco magnate, left his large fortune in such a way as to prevent his daughter-in-law, Rozika Dolly of the Dolly dancing team, from having any share of it.

One half of the Davis estate, after the payment of various sums to charitable organizations, is stated to have been left in trust for his son, Mortimer, for life, with the stipulation that the son's interest is to be restricted to him personally and not to be passed on to his wife or issue. The other half goes to Sir Mortimer's widow.

Dispatches from Montreal last April said that Mortimer Davis Jr. was to share equally with his stepmother, Lady Davis, in the net annual revenue of the estate of Sir Mortimer. The value of the estate was estimated at $150,000,000.

At the end of 50 years, the period set by the will before the estate is to be settled, if his son has died and Lady Davis has died without issue of Sir Mortimer's marriage to her, the will directed that the estate be divided among a hospital, the Federation of Jewish Philanthropies and non-sectarian charitable institutions in the province of Quebec. Young Davis' runaway marriage with Rozika Dolly in 1927 was the cause of an estrangement between him and his father.

New Air Service to Link Americas.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—An air transport project, linking South, Central and North America was launched with the formation of the aviation corporation of the Americas, which will own all the outstanding stock of the Pan-American airways, Inc. The new company is headed by Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney as president and Richard F. Hoyt as chairman. Hoyt is chairman of the Wright Aeronautical Corporation and a member of Hayden, Stone & Co., New York investment bankers. J. T. Trippe, president of Pan-American, will be the operating head. Pan-American airways already operates an airline between Miami and Havana, and has a contract to carry air mail through the Central American countries to the canal zone and to Porto Rico by way of Cuba and Haiti.

HAWES CONDEMNS K. K. K. TACTICS AGAINST SMITH

Senator Wants to Know Who Is Paying Bills, as Masked Organization Is Now Defunct.

SAYS TRAIL LEADS TO G. O. P. QUARTERS

United States Senator Harry B. Hawes, chairman of Democratic regional headquarters, addressing the Jefferson Club last night, said that, although the Ku Klux Klan is virtually defunct, its old agencies are conducting an expensive campaign of religious intolerance in the present campaign. He asked who is paying the bills.

Hawes described the activities of the klan in the days of its influence and prosperity, and said that when the natural reaction came, the klan lost its prestige and "went broke."

"But now," he continued, "the fiery cross is again burning. Who pays for the oil? The tom toms of the witch burners are heard after nightfall. Who buys the drums?

Says Klan Isn't Paying Bill.

"With an empty tresaury, who is paying for the new circulation of the fake Knights of Columbus oath? Who pays for the unlawful circulars thrown upon street cars and dumped at mail boxes? Where formerly there were thousands of the fake Knights of Columbus paths circulated, now they are being circulated by the millions. Who pays for their circulation?

"The distributors of this bogus Knights of Columbus oath were brought into court and found guilty of libel in Pennsylvania; were brought into court and punished in Minnesota; were brought into court and punished in California, and in other states of the Union.

"This false oath, which a committee of two thirty-second and two thirty-third degree Masons denounced, and published their condemnation to the world, is now being circulated throughout the United States. The cost of this new circulation must be enormous, because it must be done by hand. Who pays for this circulation? It does not come from the treasury of the klan because there is no klan treasury. The klan is broke, dead, buried in a tomb.

"I cannot answer my own question, but facts are facts. The old agencies of the klan are at work. They are spending money. Where do they get the money?

"The Ku Klux Klan is dead, or it was dead. It has had a temporary and suspicious resurrection for this one campaign. If it is successful in this campaign, no matter how small its contribution to the result may be, it will claim it a klan victory. The old forces of intolerance and bigotry will be revived. The old fight upon the Constitution in its relation to religious liberty will be resumed."

Hoover Feared "Romanism Letter"

Senator Hawes mentioned the recent letter of a woman member of the Republican National Committee, attacking "Romanism," and the utterance of Herbert Hoover, rebuking her.

"Hoover was afraid," the speaker said. "The thing was going too far. The trail led too close to Republican national headquarters. Hoover remembered 'Rum, Romanism and Rebellino,' (a phrase used with disastrous effect in the 1884 campaign.) Some of the historical professors in the Department of Commerce had called his attention to it.

"If the careful Hoover could be persuaded to speak out, in God's name can't the American people speak out? They will speak. They will be heard. They will not knowingly either tolerate or encourage a revival of the old klan spirit.

"Gov. Smith is a Catholic, as he has a right to be. I am a Protestant, as I have a right to be. The best answer to this revival of intolerance and bigotry would be the election of Gov. Smith. Once and for all time the subject would be driven from the political life of America."

Assails Mrs. Willebrandt.

Senator Hawes spoke of Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt as "the modern Dr. Burchard appareled in petticoats" (Dr. Burchard was the author of the rum-Romanism phrase). He said Mrs. Willebrandt represented "the intolerance which sends a paid official of the United States Government to conventions of ministers, where only one side of the subject is presented."

"The hysterical desire of Mrs. Willebrandt to be the first woman Attorney-General of the United States," he continued, "has its political compensation, and may, therefore, be viewed with complacence, with some amusement, and with great political satisfaction."

He said that, in his opinion, "millions of Republicans, both men and women, resent with horror the use of religious intolerance as a political weapon. Sturdy, practical Americans, like Bishop McMurry of this State, militant churchmen of the Protestant churches of all denominations, condemn its use for political purposes."

Hawes described Hoover's training as that of a bureaucrat. In his campaign, he said, the Republican nominee "will read prepared essays as he has done in the past. He will call to his assistance the trained professors now in the employ of the United States Government in the Department of Commerce. But they, like Mr. Hoover, are the products of bureaucracy, and no matter where his next essay comes from, the stamp of bureaucracy will be upon it."

Calls Hoover Business Leader.

By the Associated Press.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 2.—Secretary of Labor Davis, speaking in the interest of the candidacy of Herbert Hoover, told an audience here last night that Hoover was a practical business leader, while his opponent, Gov. Smith, was well versed in politics, but knew little of business.

This Beats Taking Soda for Sour Stomach

"For quite some time I used soda for gas and sour stomach. Then I decided to try Adlerika and found it far better than soda."—Ed McNeill.

The simple mixture of glycerin, buckthorn bark, etc. (known as Adlerika), has a must surprising DOUBLE action. It acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel (most medicines act on lower bowel only) and removes foul matter that poisoned the system for months. It clears GAS, and sourness from the stomach and bowels, bringing INSTANT relief from stomach trouble. And in addition, Adlerika removes metabolic poisons which cause neuritis and rheumatism.

Dr. J. Weaver: "In my 50 years' practice, I have found nothing to excel Adlerika."

J. E. Puckett: "After using Adlerika I feel better than for 20 years. Awful impurities were eliminated."

It will surprise you the great amount of poisons Adlerika brings out—you would never believe they were in your system. In chronic constipation, GAS, sour stomach and sick headache, just ONE spoonful Adlerika brings wonderful relief. At leading druggists. Sold in St. Louis by Wolff-Wilson Drug Stores. LIQUIFYING OF OXYGEN CUTS TRANSPORTATION COST

It Can Be Shipped in Light Brass Cases Instead of Heavy Steel Containers.

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN, Oct. 2.—Ozygen used in highly compressed form in industrial undertakings can now be delivered in light brass containers instead of the heavy steel bottles formerly used and requiring two men to carry. Dr. Paul Heylandt, Berlin chemist and inventor, has discovered a process by which the gas can be manufactured and delivered in liquid form. His invention has won for him the honorary degree of Doctor of Engineering from the Charlottenburg Institute of Technology here.

"The steel bottles weigh 75 kilograms (165 pounds) and contain only 8 kilograms (17.6 pounds) of oxygen gas," Dr. Heylandt says. "That, of course, is a tremendous economic waste, especially when you consider that on the return trip one must pay freight on empty containers. We find that for distances beyond 65 miles the freight amounts to more than the price of the gas.

"With the oxygen reduced to a liquid, transportation becomes a negligible factor. This means that 20 to 50 per cent of the cost is eliminated."

Many large industrial firms, among them the German Dye Trust and the General Electric Co., already use the liquefied oxygen. Not only the liquefying process but also the construction of the containers, which are surprisingly light, is the invention of Heylandt, who has recently celebrated his twenty-fifth anniversary of his work in chemical research and as an inventor.

LIQUOR PATROL ACCUSED OF SINKING CLEVELAND YACHT

Owners Charge They Were Beaten and One Nearly Drowned After Fruitless Search.

By the Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 2.—Lieut. Martin Rasmussen, commander of the ninth district of United States Coast Guards, came to Cleveland today for the second time in a month to mediate between yacht owners and his men of the border patrol in a difficulty caused by searching Lake Erie craft for liquor.

Bruno Berger, a garage proprietor, and Barney Rieke, who lives on an island in the Chagrin River, charged that their speed boat had been sunk yesterday while being towed by a Coast Guard cutter after an unsuccessful search for liquor, that they had been beaten and mistreated and one of them had nearly drowned.

Chief Boatswain's Mate Michael S. Sieracki, commanding the CG-120, the same Coast Guard boat which boarded M. F. Bramley's yacht Buddy here last month after firing a warning shot—an incident which caused an investigation by Rasmussen on orders from Washington—told a story which differed from that of Berger and Rieke. He said Rieke had abused his men, but had not been beaten or kicked or put in irons with Berger, as they claimed; and that the pair had been locked in Central Police Station only because they did not have their registry papers or certificate of ownership and hence could not tell who they were. He admitted the search disclosed no liquor.

Berger and Rieke were charged with interfering with a boarding officer in the performance of his duty. They claimed their speed boat was made fast with the cutter, but it capsized after a collision and it was cut loose to sink in the lake. Berger was thrown overboard and kept above water with the aid of a life preserver until pulled aboard the CG-120.

HEAD OF MACCABEES REMOVED

Many Charges Made Against A. W. Frye, Commander of Order.

By the Associated Press.

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 2.—A. W. Frye, supreme commander of the Maccabees, has been temporarily removed from office pending investigation of charges of misconduct in office, neglect of duty and incompetency, it was announced today by D. P. Markey, acting supreme commander.

Markey, who resigned as supreme commander in 1924 in favor of Frye after having held office 33 years, disclosed that 99 pages of charges against Frye had been filed with the Board of Trustees by John E. Owen, general counsel for the Maccabees, at a meeting last Friday. He said Frye was then removed, pending an investigation to be made at a meeting of the trustees Oct. 15. The specific charges in the complaint filed were not made public.

with the state subordinate to the church; opposition to religious liberty; opposition to freedom of speech; opposition to freedom of the press.

"When I see Gov. Smith declaring that he is a faithful and loyal member of the Catholic church, when I see the Pope hailing him as 'our beloved son in Christ,' when I see Gov. Smith kissing the signet ring of the Pope's legate which has always been and is now a symbol of temporal and not of spiritual or religious power; when I see Gov. Smith calling in a Catholic priest, Father Duffy, to assist him in answering the purely political questions propounded to him and to aid him in running the gauntlet of Roman Catholic church laws and doctrines, I am driven to the conclusion that, however he may seek to camouflage his real opinions, at heart he is in accord with his church on these political questions."

"Church Will Use Him."

Continuing, it said "his (Gov. Smith's) church will use him as an instrument to bring about conditions when it will be expedient to make the issue. Then it will make the issue with Gov. Smith himself, and, if he does not yield, it will crush him, as it has crushed thousands of others, as ruthlessly as it would crush a Protestant. * * *

"In a struggle fought in Smith's breast between the Democratic party and the Roman Catholic church for the control of Smith's actions, the Democratic party would find itself impotent."

In the appendage, Street calls on Republican workers to place the religious question "on its proper grounds and to carefully discriminate between the political, civil and social doctrines of the Roman Catholic church on the one hand and its religious beliefs and practices on the other," and adds: "With the latter we have no concern whatever. But we are under no duty in a political campaign to keep silent on the political, civic and social principles of that church or any other.

CHRISTIAN HOME CAMPAIGN TO CONTINUE ANOTHER WEEK

Institution Needs $23,838 More to Make New Building Free of Incubrance.

The campaign to raise $150,000 to pay off the indebtedness on the new building of the Woman's Christian Home, 2709 Locust boulevard, will be continued another week in an effort to obtain $23,838.

That sum, with the $60,000 offered by trustees of the Soldiers' Orphans' Home contingent on the full quota being raised, will make the institution free of all incumbrance.

Team captains and workers conducting the campaign met last night and agreed to continue the drive. Their final report will be made Saturday.

ELECTION WON'T HURT BUSINESS, BANKER ASSERTS

FOR WORLD-WIDE BANK ASSOCIATION

Thomas R. Preston Tells Convention Such a Body Would Promote Sympathetic Understanding.

By the Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 2.—Hailing a "new era" in American political life, Thomas R. Preston of Chattanooga, Tenn., today told the American Bankers' Assocation, in the president's address opening its annual convention, that business would not be "disturbed" whatever the outcome of the presidential election.

"There will be no disturbance of legitimate business, either large or small, regardless of which party wins the presidency in the coming election," he declared. "Politically, as well as in many other ways, business and the masses seem to have gone into partnership and now have a more sympathetic understanding and a more co-operative spirit than ever before. Both are recognizing that their interests are inseparable. What benefits one will benefit the other."

Preston recommended in his address the formation of a world-wide association of banks which would promote fuller comprehension of "the difficulties which beset every country and would make for more cordial and sympathetic understanding" among the nations.

"If the United States is to maintain its financial and industrial supremacy, it must continue to lend, invest and sell abroad," he said. "Foreign business will be more important in the future than in the past. We are so closely related to other countries that what affects one section of the world affects all."

The president suggested that the American Bankers' Association take the initiative in calling such a world conference of banking representatives.

Sees Dry Issue Solution.

Edwin A. Alderman, president of the University of Virginia, in addressing the convention today, predicted that a solution of the prohibition problem would emerge out of the "heats and rancors" of the presidential campaign.

"There is comfort," he said, "in the thought that the candidates of both of the major parties for whom we shall cast our votes in November are ideally in line with the great tradition. Born and bred in humble homes, the one in the old rural fashion, the other in the city streets, by sheer force of ability, character and courage they have lifted themselves to the supreme honor of American citizenship—the right to contest for the presidency as leaders of millions of their countrymen."

Declaring that the "present hotly contested" political campaign would add to the strength and accomplishments of democracy, the speaker added:

"I sometimes think that the Federal Reserve Act, that wise charter of financial safety, could not have been written upon our statutes without the knowledge disseminated in the hectic campaign of 1896 when the country was racked with discussion of what 16 to 1 meant, and I venture to predict that out of the campaign we are now engaged in, out of its heats and rancors and discussions will emerge some plan to secure to our social betterment the enduring benefits of the noble purposes inherent in the idea of prohibition, unmarred by the grave menaces that now threaten the country with lawlessness and internal discord."

President Alderman declared that democracy had "abated sectarian fury," and said that Gov. Alfred E. Smith would not be elected or defeated for the presidency because he is a Catholic.

"Democracy," he said, "however it may muddle, has the capacity to pull together and keep together in emergencies better than dictatorships, and this, after all, is the supreme test. There is in the democratic system a self-adjusting quality in its actions like a safety valve or a gauge on a boiler, protecting itself against explosions and finding the way to fair equilibrium. Democracies may muddle, but they seldom explode."

San Francisco was chosen last night by the executive council as the meeting place for the 1929 convention, which will be held the week of Oct. 14.

Warning on Stock Market Inflation Given Yesterday.

There is ample credit of all kinds in the United States for normal and legitimate use in supplying the needs of production and creating an adequate method of distribution, Congressman Louis T. McFadden said in addressing the Clearing House Section, yesterday.

He emphasized, however, that the Federal Reserve System has been confronted with grave responsibility in dealing with inflation in the stock market and real estate transactions. The risk of bringing about a business slump could have been obviated six months ago, he said, if the Federal Reserve management had been more drastic in dealing with the speculative tendency of the stock market, where loans to brokers are greater now than the credit extended to agriculture, foreign trade or the automotive industry.

McFadden, who is chairman of the House Committee on Banking and Currency, declared that the primary thought back of establishment of the Federal Reserve System some 15 years ago was "credit for production with special reference to our domestic situation."

"One remedy suggested to right conditions is segregation of savings deposits and loans made thereon from demand deposits and loans made out of such funds, which will result in the use of demand deposits for making self-liquidating commercial loans and the investment of savings deposits in capital credits," he said.

The present system of bank taxation holds a distinct menace for the future prosperity of the independent banking system of the country, Charles H. Mylander, secretary of the Ohio Bankers' Association, said in addressing the Savings Bank Division of the association.

RECOGNITION DENIED W. C. T. U. CHAPTER THAT INDORSED SMITH

State President Says Idabel (Ok.) Members Violated Rule Against Partisan Politics.

By the Associated Press.

ENID, Ok., Oct. 2.—The Oklahoma department of the Women's Christian Temperance Union will not accept dues from a group of Idabel (Ok.) women who as a local chapter of the union adopted a resolution indorsing the presidential candidacy of Gov. Smith, it was announced at the State W. C. T. U. convention here yesterday by Mrs. Elizabeth House of Bristow, State president.

By refusing to accept dues, Mrs. House said, the State department would deny recognition to the Idabel women as a unit of the W. C. T. U. A chapter was organized at Idabel Sept. 16, one day before the resolution was adopted.

Mrs. House said the resolution was adopted at a meeting attended by only 24 of the 62 charter members at Idabel and she asserted those present were nearly all wives of office holders or party workers.

An Idabel chapter will be recognized, Mrs. House said if its members sign a pledge not to participate in partisan politics. The W. C. T. U. does not consider its indorsement of Herbert Hoover partisan, she said, but a continuation of its fight for prohibition and prohibition enforcement.

How to Keep Love
when excess fat might lose it

People who are over-fat lose in youth and beauty, health and vigor. What a pity. Excess fat is now easily controlled. You see that in every circle.

Some years ago science discovered a great cause of overweight. It lies in a gland which is under-active—a gland which largely controls nutrition. Fat is not lost to stay lost until that defect is corrected.

The modern method of treating obesity is embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. They were perfected in a famous medical laboratory. People have used them for 20 years—millions of boxes of them. They have told the results to others, and year by year the use has spread.

Today you see the effects in every circle. Slender figures are the rule. Countless people who were overweight now have normal weight. Women look younger, more attractive. Men have gained in vigor. One great reason is found in Marmola.

Each box of Marmola contains the formula, also the scientific reasons for results. You know what you are taking and why. No hard work, no starvation. Just be moderate. Then take four tablets daily until weight comes down to normal.

Try Marmola, because of what it has done for over 20 years for so many. The results will be a revelation to you. Do this for your own sake. Do it now.

Marmola prescription tablets are sold by all druggists at $1 per box. If your druggist is out, he will get them at once from his jobber.

BRITISH LABOR PARTY ASSAILS FRENCH PACT

Mosley Calls U. S. Note Greatest Rebuke of One Nation to Another.

By the Associated Press.

BIRMINGHAM, England, Oct. 2.—Ramsay MacDonald, former Premier, presented a comprehensive resolution on world peace and disarmament at the Labor Party Congress today. The resolution demanded that the Government sign a general act of arbitration; that the Anglo-French naval agreement be abandoned; that an effective disarmament treaty be signed, and that all foreign troops be withdrawn unconditionally from the Rhineland.

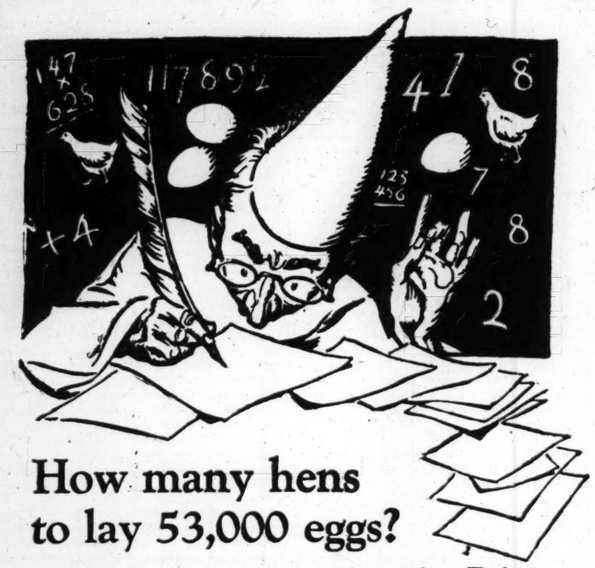

MacDonald called his proposal a "full-blooded, unqualified condemnation of the Government's foreign policy."

Sir Oswald Mosley, in seconding the resolution, said the United States note on the Anglo-French accord was the greatest rebuke which any country had ever addressed to another on its record of muddle and tragedy. After several speeches in favor of the resolution, it was adopted.

Commander Kenworthy, Labor member of Parliament, who was on the Admiralty war staff in 1917, in a supporting speech said Europe was headed for the same tragedy that occurred in 1914. He continued: "The danger of war between this country and America and between France and Italy is as real as was the danger of war between this country and Germany in 1906. You have again the unofficial, but nevertheless binding, conversations betweens staffs in Paris and staffs in London."

SHELBY COUNTY MUST RAISE ASSESSMENTS

Ordered by State Supreme Court to Make 10 Per Cent Increase on Land Values.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 2.—A "tax revolt" by the Shelby County Board of Equalization, which refused to spread upon the 1928 tax books an increase of 10 per cent in assessed valuations of Shelby County lands, ordered by the State Board of Equalization, was suppressed today by the Missouri Supreme Court en banc, which issued a writ of mandamus to compel the County Clerk to enter the increases upon the tax books.

The Court held the County Board of Equalization had no power to reduce assessed valuations below the figure fixed by the State Board of Equalization, and held the State Board had the power to compel the County Clerk to extend on the tax bills any increases ordered.

The Shelby County Assessor fixed the assessed valuation of land in the county at $12,637,945 for 1928 taxes, and this amount was ratified to the State Board, comprising Gov. Baker and the other elective State officers except the State Superintendent of Schools. The State Board of Equalization last March ordered a flat increase of 10 per cent in the assessment to equalize it with valuations in adjoining counties. This increased the Shelby County land valuation to $13,967,739.

State Board Appealed.

In April the County Board of Equalization made a formal entry on its minutes that it could not make the 10 per cent increase as directed by the State Board, and would refuse to do so. The State Board of Equalization then filed an application in Supreme Court for a writ of mandamus to compel L. C. Bethard, the County Clerk, to extend the increase on the tax books.

In defense of its action the County Board of Equalization contended the original assessment represented the true value of the land, in money, as is required by the taxation laws, and that the State Board's valuation was in excess of the true value. It also contended the County Clerk took instructions from the County Court and that the State Board had no power to compel him to perform the duties it sought to impose upon him.

Opinion by Chief Justice.

Chief Justice J. T. White, who wrote the opinion, held there was no such thing as an "absolute true value of land" and that the assessed values given to the land merely were the estimates of the official who made the assessment. There was no showing that the State Board's valuation exceeded the "true value" of the land, as defined in the law, he said. The State Board clearly had the power to fix the final assessed valuation, and under the law the county officials could not reduce values below the State Board's valuation, he ruled.

He held the law imposed upon the County Clerk the duty of adjusting the valuations in accordance with orders of the State Board of Equalization, if other county officials had failed or refused to perform this duty, and the County Clerk was directed to make the necessary changes in the tax bills. All of the Judges concurred except Judge Gentry, who did not sit in the case.

UNIDENTIFIED MAN KILLED IN SALOON ROW AT ALTON

Witnesses Say Victim Was Knocked Down After Brandishing Knife.

An unidentified man about 40 years old was killed in a quarrel in the saloon of Paul Maggos at 110 Illinois avenue, Alton, last night. Witnesses told police the man was brandishing a knife and was knocked down when Maggos attempted to disarm him. Death apparently was caused by a fractured neck.

Leased at High Hill, Mo., on St Louis-Omaha Mail Route.

An emergency landing field on the proposed St. Louis, Kansas City and Omaha air mail route has been leased by the Government at High Hill, Mo., on Highway 40.

The route is being surveyed and contracts for beacon lights will be let this month. Other emergency landing fields have been established at Wentzville and Fulton. The contract for the route recently was let to the Robertson Aircraft Corporation, operators of the St. Louis-Chicago route. The Robertson company expects to begin operating the new line about Jan. 1, after the lighting system has been installed.

By the Associated Press.

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 2.—United States Senator Robert M. La Follette has gone to Rochester, Minn., where he will rest for a week. He said that following his stay in Rochester he probably would speak in Minnesota, Montana and North Dakota, in behalf of Senators Shipstead, Wheeler and Frazier.

PAT HARRISON DENIES G. O. P. CLAIM TO SOUTH

Mississippi Senator Says Democrats Will Carry Every State in That Section.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Republican claims of carrying the South are preposterous, United States Senator Harrison of Mississippi said yesterday in alluding to predictions by Col. Horace A. Mann of Republican headquarters, Washington. Some inroads were made, he said, but during the last six weeks the greatest change recorded in history has taken place in the South.

"There is no doubt about us carrying every Southern state," Harrison, a member of the Democratic Advisory Committee, said. "In the border states there is, as usual, a close contest, during the last 10 days every report shows a strong drift toward our cause in those states.

"We concede that they, and they alone, are in the doubtful column. We are unruffled by the false Republican claims of the South and only hope that the Republican management will continue to exert its efforts in that territory already lost to them."

Harrison said this was not the first time in presidential elections that the Republican campaign managers had invaded that section and before the election had laid great claims as to what they were going to do.

"Of course," he said, "there will be in practically all of the Southern states a larger Republican vote than heretofore, but in every one of those states there will be a proportionately larger Democratic vote than heretofore. In most of the states the vote in the coming election will be from two to five times as large as ever before polled in a genearl election."

14 Nuns in Mexico Arrested.

By the Associated Press.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 2.—The chief of military operations in the city of Dolores Hidalgo, Guanajuato, today informed the Ministry of Interior that 14 nuns had been arrested when military authorities closed what they said was a convent, but which the nuns insisted was a private school. Agustin Arroyo Che, Governor of Guanajuato, said the authorities had been informed that arms and ammunition were being distributed to insurgents by the occupants of the convent.

U. S. CHILDREN SPREAD GOOD WILL IN MEXICO

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—"There is an unmistakable change in Mexico's attitude toward the United States, and our children are having a large part in furthering the more friendly feeling," declared Mrs. Jeannette W. Emrich, one of the secretaries of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, on her return from Mexico. Mrs. Emrich, as a leader among the church women, went to Mexico for the purpose of representing the American Committee on World Friendship among Children, under whose auspices more than 26,000 "friendship school bags" have been filled and sent for distribution in Mexico by children in the schools and churches of the United States.

While in Mexico, Mrs. Emrich participated in the Independence Day celebration, in connection with which the formal presentation of the friendship school bags was made, President Calles receiving them in behalf of the Mexican people.

Describing her experience Mrs. Emrich said:

"The great stadium in Mexico City was crowded with 65,000 participants in the patriotic program celebrating the 118th anniversary of Mexico's declaration of independence from Spain. On the tribunal sat President Calles, his cabinet and representatives of the diplomatic group. Thirty-one thousand school children participated in the colorful and stirring program.

"One part of the remarkable program was particularly significant for Americans—the section given to the presentation of the friendship school bags. Boys and girls, 3000 of them, each carrying a friendship school bag, marched four abreast down the field between the cheering thousands seated in the stadium. It was my honor to make the presentation speech and to hand two friendship bags, one for the boys and one for the girls of Mexico, to the first secretary of the American Embassy. He, in turn, speaking in Spanish, presented the bags to President Calles. In front of the President's chair stood a Mexican boy and girl representing the school children of the republic. Into their hands the President put these symbols of friendship and good will from the children of the United States, while the strains of the 'Star-Spangled Banner' were heard.

"A course on international friendship has been written into the curriculum of the primary schools of Mexico, due entirely, so Moises Saenz, Acting Minister of Education, told me, to this friendship project from the United States.

"In one school that I visited the teacher said they are studying about the United States, its history, its accomplishments, its people and all in a friendly way. 'This,' she said, 'is a new thing, and strange, but we are happy in doing it.' Another teacher said: 'We have heard before of the friends we have there.'

"An American, long resident in Mexico, observed: 'I heard the Mexican band playing the "Star-Spangled Banner" in the stadium, saw the American flag waving while the thousands of Mexican children, carrying their friendship bags, marched down the field, and I watched the packed crowds standing and cheering. I realized that I had never seen anything quite like this in Mexico before.'"

OWEN SAYS GOV. SMITH WILL LOSE OKLAHOMA BY 100,000

Former Senator Declares Election Would Necessarily Mean Dry Act Modification.

By the Associated Press.

ENID, Ok., Oct. 2.—Robert L. Owen, former United States Senator from Oklahoma, said in an address at the "dry campaign" banquet of the Women's Christian Temperance Union here last night that, if Gov. Smith should be elected President, "the liquor interests would construe his election as a mandate to modify the eighteenth amendment."

Owen, conducting a campaign against the Democratic nominee, said Smith had demonstrated his lack of understanding of sentiment in Oklahoma with an address at Oklahoma City Sept. 20 in which he attacked Owen, and charged that a whispering campaign, based upon religious bigotry had been conducted against the Democratic nominee. Owen said he was "convinced Oklahoma will defeat him by 100,000 votes."

"While Gov. Smith tells the country that the liquor question is not important," Owen said, "his statement only demonstrates his complete lack of understanding of the American people and their ability to appraise him and his pretensions."

WOMAN FOR WHOM SEDALIA WAS NAMED, 97, HAS BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Sarah E. Cotton Home From Automobile Trip Throug Ozark Region.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SEDALIA, Mo., Oct. 2.—Mrs. Sarah E. Cotton, thought to be Sedalia's oldest white resident, celebrated her ninety-seventh birthday anniversary here yesterday.

Mrs. Cotton has this distinction, that Sedalia was named in her honor, the name of the city first being Sedville, she as a child having been called "Sed" and the "ville" having been added to make it more euphoneous. The daughter of Gen. George R. Smith, Sedalia's founder, she has spent practically her entire lifetime here. She gave ground in the center of Sedalia's residential section for the magnificent Smith-Cotton high school and presented the land for what is known as Dunbar Park for Negroes. She has also aided Lincoln High School in a marked degree and is still much interested in various civic affairs.

Despite her advanced age she, accompanied by friends, returned by automobile Saturday from a pleasure trip through the Ozarks region.

WILLIAM ALLEN WHITE SAYS HE "RETRACTED NOTHING"

Kansas Editor Asserts He Opposes Gov. Smith Because of His Tammany Connections.

By the Associated Press.

EMPORIA, Kan., Oct. 2.—William Allen White, editor of the Emporia Gazette who returned yesterday from the European tour on which he embarked after attacking the record of Gov. Smith, Democratic presidential nominee, declared he had "retracted nothing" of that attack.

White said he withdrew, because of its possibly objectionable nature, reference in a statement issued in New York City to votes he said Gov. Smith had cast in the New York Legislature on legislation pertaining to vice.

"I withdrew the evidence of these votes," said White in a statement, "because I believe the word 'prostitution' in a presidential contest would inflame people so they could not think straight and thus would confuse unfairly the paramount issues of this contest.

"Gov. Smith's friends interpreted my generosity for weakness, a cowardly and cruel thing to do. But I have retracted nothing, even though I withdrew from the debate all prostitution votes."

White said he expects to enter the campaign immediately for Hoover, "as a Kansas country editor and not under the advice, auspices or control of the Republican National Committee."

"I admire Gov. Smth," he continued, "and believe in his high qualities of courage, wisdom and honesty, and I have said nothing in my discussion of his record which would imply against him the slightest moral turpitude or the slightest question of folly or of cowardice.

"But I feel there are deeply vital reasons why his election to the Presidency would be a menace to American institutions—chiefly because he thinks in Tammany terms and would Tammanyize America."

INQUIRY IN STUDENT'S DEATH IN MOCK INITIATION ORDERED

Regents of University of Texas to Determine Whether Fraternities Shall Be Abolished.

By the Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 2.—A complete investigation of the Greek letter fraternity system, with a view of possible abolishment, was ordered at the University of Texas today following the death Sunday night of Nolte McElroy during a mock initiation into the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

The investigating faculty committee, which the regents had President H. Y. Benedict appoint at once, was instructed to investigate the circumstances leading up to McElroy's death. The 19-year-old football player died in a hospital a few minutes after he had collapsed while crawling over electrically-charged bed springs.

Former Federal Judge R. L. Batts of Austin, a member of the Board of Regents and author of the resolution which asked the faculty committee to determine if all "boarding" Greek letter organizations should be eliminated as rapidly as dormitories can be provided for students, vigorously criticised the fraternity system. The Judge is a fraternity man himself as are all but two of the other members of the board.

The regents indicated the McElroy case did not necessarily furnish the basis for criticism of fraternities, but that it had served to bring out an undercurrent of sentiment in the board against them.

CONVICTED DRIVER PAROLED

Joe Scott, Negro, Sentenced to 30 Days for Leaving Accident.

Joe Scott, a Negro laborer, 2833 Franklin avenue, was sentenced to 30 days in the workhouse yesterday on charges of careless driving and leaving the scene of an accident. Last Saturday afternon, Scott crashed into an auto driven by Mrs. Belle Kanneberg, 6437 Chatham avenue, as she turned off Compton avenue into Morgan. Scott then ran into a tree and fled to his home, where he was arrested later.

Mrs. Kannenberg testified Scott was intoxicated, but his wife declared he had been struck on the head some years previously and what might seem drunken deportment in another was habitual with her husband. Police Judge Beck paroled Scott on his promise to quit driving for six months.

CHEAPER CONCRETE PAVING INDICATED

Federal Highway Engineer Reports on Tests of Time in Mixing.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—The possibility of making sharp reductions in the cost of concrete paving is indicated in a report by J. L. Harrison, highway engineer of the division of management of the Bureau of Public roads, recently published by the bureau.

His report is based on a series of tests with about 1509 concrete cylinders, beams and cores, collected with the co-operation of State highway departments on road building projects in Michigan, Missouri, Kansas, Tennessee, Texas, South Carolina and Oklahoma.

The study is the first step in an investigation which bureau officials hope will establish definitely the practicability of making construction savings in concrete road building.

After analyzing the work done on time of mixing concrete, and its effect on quality, in the first phase of the investigation, Harrison concludes that "the evidence strongly indicates that where standard 21E and 27E pavers which are in good condition are used, neither strength nor uniformity of test results is improved by mixing the concrete more than 45 seconds."

Official Requirements.

Official specifications governing the mixing of concrete for highway pavement vary among the states, ranging from one to one and a half minutes. With cement "a relatively uniform product and water outstandingly so," the engineer suggests that "the commonly accepted reason for varying specified practices from region to region—namely, that variations in the controlling conditions compel these variations—does not properly apply here.

The required mixing period established a limit on the amount of concrete which can be placed during any given period, he explains, presenting figures based on a comparison showing that, with a one and a half minute mixing period, about 910 lineal feet of a typical standard 18-foot pavement can be placed in a 10-hour working day when six-bag batches are used, and about 1290 feet with a one-minute mixing period.

Cost of Laying Concrete.

"If operating costs (labor, equipment operation, depreciation, etc.)," he says, "run about $400 per working day—and while these cost differ somewhat from place to place and from job to job, this figure is as fair as any—the labor and equipment costs, overhead, etc., incident to laying concrete pavement can not in the first case be cut much under 22 cents a square yard, while in the second case, they can be forced down to about 15 cents."

He gives o figures on possible additional savings which might be expected if the mixing time were cut to 45 seconds, but observes that a difference of seven cents a yard "runs into large figures when the amount of pavement laid annually under a long-time mixing requirement is considered."

The next step in the investigation will be directed toward determining whether the shorter mixing period can be utilized effectively by contractors to reduce construction costs.

ENGLISH BISHOP MAKING TOUR OF HIS CIRCUIT ON FOOT

Pilgrimage of 30 Parishes to Require 30 Days; People Quit Work to Follow Him.

By the Associated Press.

WINCHESTER, England, Oct. 2.—In a purple cassock and carrying his crook, the Bishop of Winchester is making a walking pilgrimage to his 30 parishes in Hampshire. It will take him nearly a month to complete the circuit. The Bishop is followed along his way by a large crowd that sings hymns and offers prayers.

Farmers join the little procession as it passes, walk a few miles, then return to their work. Milkmaids and housemaids stop their work and fall in behind to swell the little Christian army.

As they come to a village, the procession stops and the Bishop then delivers a short sermon. Motorists draw up at the wayside to watch the Bishop's open air services.

Francis White, 718 Trinity avenue, University City, has asked police to search for his brother, John A. White, 24 years old, who left home Saturday afternoon, saying he was going to a show and failed to return.

Following his brother's departure, Francis White found a note in his brother's room which read: "I've made a bad mistake, but I'm going to correct it. I don't belong here. Thanks for everything, John."

White is described as being 5 feet 11 inches tall, has brown hair and eyes and wears glasses. He was dressed in a gray suit, gray soft hat and blue shirt. He formerly lived at Montclair, N. J.

Salt Surface for Flying Field.

OGDEN, Utah, Oct. 2.—The idea suggested by the success of a salt road near Utah's great inland sea, airport officers here are experimenting with a salt surface for their flying field. Salt costing $4.10 a ton was sprinkled on the dust of the field and, settled by rain, made it a glistening white that pilots can see for miles.

SOUTHERN EDITOR ANSWERS CRITICISM OF G. O. P. LEADER

Denies Unwarranted Personal Attacks Have Been Made on Hoover.

By the Associated Press.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Oct. 1.—R. Charlton Wright, editor of the Columbia (S. C.) Record, yesterday denied that any reputable Southern newspaper had engaged in unwarranted personal attacks on Herbert Hoover, Republican presidential nominee, in reply to a charge by Horace A. Mann, Republican Southern campaign director.

In the statement, Mann declared that "few accusations against Mr. Hoover have been too vile or slanderous for publication in the news coumns of Southern dailies.'

"I brand this as an unmitigated exaggeration," said the statement, sent by Wright to the National Republican Headquarters at Washington. "No vile or slanderous accusations have been published in any reputable Southern dailies against Mr. Hoover. Among the worst things published about him have been the criticisms made before his nomination by such members of the Republican party as Senators Borah, Fess, Curtis and others.

"On the other hand, the South has been literally blanketed with slanderous and in some cases obscene literature in the form of anonymous pamphlets and circulars attacking Gov. Smith and the Roman Catholic Church. The pamphlets and circulars reach my desk daily."

HOOVER TO CARRY ILLINOIS BY 500,000, WEST SAYS

Secretary of Interior Ridicules Statement Smith Will Capture State.

By the Associated Press.

EMPORIA, Kan., Oct. 2.—Roy O. West, Secretary of the Interior, predicted here yesterday that Illinois, his home State, would give a majority of 500,000 for Herbert Hoover. Secretary West made the statement when informed that Thomas F. Donovan, chairman of the Illinois Democratic State Committee, had told Gov. Smith the State would give him a 50,000 majority.

"I have not had time to delve into politics since accepting my seat in the Cabinet," said West, "but I am familiar enough with the Illinois situation to be confident the Republican candidate will get an overwhelming majority."

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Speculative uneasiness over the credit situation was reflected in the reactionary trend of prices in today's stock market. Although pools succeeded in lifting nearly a score issues to new high records on gains running as high as 10 points, the general list was under pressure of heavy selling for both accounts. Final quotations disclosed a long list of net declines ranging from 1 to 7½ points.

Fears of a huge increase in Stock Exchange member loans proved to be well founded, as the actual figures, published after the close of the market, showed a gain of $462,202,280 last month, bringing the total on Sept. 29 to a new high record for all time at $5,513,639,685. This was a much larger increase than that shown in the weekly total of the New York Federal Reserve Bank, which advanced $289,560,000 in the period between Aug. 29 and Sept. 26.

Banks Call $35,000,000.

Call money renewed at 8 per cent and advanced to 9 as banks called $35,000,000 in loans. Bankers reported, however, that the peak of the stringency incidental to the unusually heavy quarterly disbursement had passed, and that lower rates were likely later in the weke. Wall Street appeared to be plainly disturbed by the criticism directed against the large volume of credit absorbed by securities collateral by speakers at the annual convention of the American Bankers' Association in Philadelphia. One of the bright spots in the day's credit news was the announcement of $2,500,000 in gold was on the way from London to New York, and that further imports were likely before the end of the month.

N Profit-Taking Urged.

Private messages urging profit-taking and a strict limitation of new committments were sent out by some of the large commission houses during the day, accounting for heavy liquidation by small investors. "Bear" selling also was more aggressive in character, although there were no wide open breaks, and "shorts" in a few issues were driven to cover by the appearance.

Weakness of several of the high-ance of unexpected buying power. grade rails in the face of reports of expanding traffic and earnings had a disturbing effect on speculative sentiment. Union Pacific, Canadian Pacific, Rock Island and Pittsburg & West Virginia were driven down 3 to 4 points, but all made substantial recovery from the low levels.

Lambert to New York.

Conspicuous strength was shown by Lambert, which ran up more than 7 points to a new high at 134¼, and Murray Corporation, which soared 7⅝ ponts to a new high at 106½, or nearly five times the year's low. Commercial rCedit soared more than 10 points to a new high at 44¼.

Time money was slightly easier, being quoted on a flat 7¼ per cent basis, instead of 7¼ to 7½. Prime commercial paper was unchanged.

COTTON PRICES IRREGULAR IN NEW YORK TRADE

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—The cotton market was less active today with evening-up of accounts in preparation for the approaching Government crop report, reflected by rather irregular fluctuations. An early advance on reports of rains in the eastern belt was checked by realizing or liquidation and declines followed with the midafternoon market showing net losses of about 8 to 10 points.

Futures closed steady, unchanged to 5 points lower: October, 19.20c; December, 19.15@19.16c; January, 19.09@19.11c; March, 18.98@18.99c; May, 18.86@18.87c. Spot steady; middling, 19.45c.

The active month showed net gains of 8 to 13 points right after the opening on reports of rains in the Eastern belt and unfavorable crop advices. The market met increased offerings around 19.30c for December, however, and prices eased after the early demand had been supplied, with some Southern selling as well as realizing in evidence, while there may have been a little further selling on disappointment over the failure of efforts to settle the New Bedford mill strike. December eased off to 19.18c or within a point of yesterday's closing quotation, but the volume of the business tapered off and the market showed a fairly steady tone at that time.

Selling became a little more active later in the morning. Private reports showing a reduction in crop prospects for the month and considerable difference of opinion as to the actual yield failed to inspire more active buying. December eased off to 19.04c and March to 18.83c, making net declines of 13 to 19 points, and the market at midday was within two or three points of these figures. Three of the private crop reports were issued during the morning with condition figures ranging from 54.3 to 57 and indicated crop pfigures from 13,895,000 to 14,554,000 bales.

ST. LOUIS MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE, Oct. 2.—Unofficial crop estimates entered as a factor in the grain markets today. Curtailment of about 104,000,000 bu. in estimated 1928 production of corn was suggested in estimate.

Wheat and corn both opened a shade higher and ruled so in the early trading. Winnipeg was up fractionally early. Liverpool came down slightly.

December wheat opened at $1.16, May wheat $1.22⅝. December corn, 78⅞c, May corn 82⅝c.

Local wheat receipts, which were 163 ... bushels, compared with 180,600 a week ago and 135,800 a year ago, include 73 cars local and 44 through. PRIVATE CROP REPORTS IN THE GRAIN MARKET

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—Wheat scored a material advance today. An address by Secretary of Agriculture Jardine was reported as construed as favorable to higher prices. There was no particular selling pressure in the market, and when buying developed the market responded quickly. The report that the Government of India was buying wheat both from Australia and Argentina acted also as a bullish influence.

Besides, private crop estimates given out today indicated that the United States wheat crop is 7,000,000 bushels under official September returns.

Wheat closed unsettled 1½c to 1⅝c higher; corn ⅛c to ¾c up; oats unchanged to ⅛c advance, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 42c.

Unofficial crop reports issued here today pointed to a somewhat smaller corn yield this season than was indicated a month ago.

Domestic spring wheat estimates were slightly larger on the whole, the reports coinciding with general expectations. Starting at ⅛c to ⅝c advance, corn later scored further gains. Wheat opened unchanged to ⅜c up, rose a little more and then reacted. Oats were firm. Provisions inclined upward.

At noon corn was ⅝c to ¾c net higher and wheat ½c to ⅞c up.

Curtailment of about 100,000,000 bushels in the estimated 1928 production of corn as reported today by unofficial authorities and as compared with a month ago led to fair buying on the part of commission houses, and brought about advances in price. One of the reports figured the probable condition of corn at the time of maturity as 77.8 per cent with an indicated yield of 2,902,000,000 bushels. This report said ears average only moderate in size, leaving the final crop materially below earlier prospects based on more or less heavy stands.

Another observer said that owing to the maturity of this season's corn crop and on account of shortage of old corn, much of the new crop has started earlier and heavier than usual. Because of this factor, a larger percentage of corn than usual promises to be consumed by Nov 1. Current estimates given of corn yield by States are Iowa, 499,000,000 bushels, and Illinois, 378,000,000 bushels.

New York Sugar.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—There was no change in the raw sugar market early today, but buyers were inclined to limit purchases. The only sale reported was 21,000 bags of Cuban for prompt shipment to an outport refiner at 3.93c duty paid, with store sugars believed to be available at the same price.

The raw sugar future market opened unchanged to 3 points higher on covering and commission house buying, that seemed to be promoted by the firmer London market and to reports of a better movement of refined. The demand was soon supplied, however, and prices reacted later under liquidation and selling by houses with Cuban and European connections, with prices at midday net unchanged to 2 points lower.

No further changes occurred in refined sugar with prices ranging from 5.35c to 5.40c for fine granulated with a fairly good inquiry reported.

Sugar futures closed steady; approximated sales, 28,000 tons. December, $2.06; March, $2.11; May, $2.19; July, $2.27; September, $2.35.

COMMUNIST SPEAKER PUTS RACE ISSUE FIRST

W. Z. Foster, of Russian International, Denounces Both Major Parties.

William Z. Foster, Communist nominee for President, spoke to an audience of about 300 in Hibernian Hall, 3619 Finney avenue, last night. He contrasted the condition of American workingmen, which he said was growing worse, with the condition of the workers of Russia, who, he said, were advancing by leaps and bounds.

Foster said there was no essential difference between the two major parties and their candidates and that prohibition, the apparent issue, is not a fundamental matter, but a mere vote-catching device. Whether Smith or Hoover was elected, he said, the results would be practically the same, not only as to prohibiton, but as to farm and labor legislation, so that "the worker has nothing ot hope for, from either party."

The most important issue before Americ a, Foster declared, was the Negro question. He declared against racial discrimination and industrial exploitation of the Negro, and said that race prejudice was one of the most effective of capitalist devices for dividing and weakening the workers.

He termed the Kellogg anti-war treaty a "smoke screen," behind which new world conflicts would be prepared, and predicted that war, on an unprecedented scale, would arise from the commercial rivalries of the United States and England. He charged that the capitalist powers were conspiring to destroy the Soviet Union, and thus were menacing world peace.

Foster said the Workers', or Communist, party had obtained a place on the official ballot in 25 States. He is a member of the executive committee of the Communst International, with headquarters in Moscow. He was a prominent figure in the steel strike of 1919, and was active in the Trade Union Educational League, a left-wing labor organization.

BROCK AND SCHLEE FORCED DOWN AFTER 59 1-2 HOURS

Flyers Fall Short Nearly Six Hours of Endurance Record Set by Germans.

By the Associated Press.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Oct. 2.—Balked by a leaking gasoline tank in their effort to bring the world endurance flying record back to the United States, William Brock and Edward Schlee have announced plans for another attempt soon.

The flyers, who several months ago made an eastward flight from New York to Tokio, were forced to give up their endurance flight attempt at 6:10 p. m. yesterday because of an exhausted gasoline supply after 59 hours and 30 minutes in the air. The world's record of 65 hours 25 minutes was set last summer by Johann Risticz and Wilhelm Zimmerman, German aviators.

The aviators, who took off last Saturday morning with 560 gallons of gasoline in their single-motored Bellanca monoplane, were unable to explain the gasoline loss, discovered two hours before they landed.

DOMESTIC DIALOGUES

By Frances Olivier.

BACK FROM NATURE.

WIFE: There are still a few people left, thank goodness, who observe the Lord's day. . . . Anyway, who picked out this "Nursery Refrigerator" apartment, I'd like to know!

HUSBAND: That's right, rub it in. How was I to tell anybody could be mean enough to refuse a man his own home when he asked for it?

WIFE: Contracts are still contracts, darling. Why should they move, when you told them they could have our place until October? (Witheringly.) And in pen and ink, too!

HUSBAND (Walks to the window): Look at him down there, sitting in my big chair, the egg!

WIFE: Where do you want the poor man to sit—out on the radio wire?

HUSBAND: Well, he needn't look so smug about it — and he's reading one of my books, too!

WIFE (Begins to hum softly).

HUSBAND (Half to himself): Of course, only a lover of literature could understand how I feel.

WIFE: Well, for heaven's sake, then why didn't you take the whole library with you?

HUSBAND: What! Didn't I drag enough stuff out to that "Hot Lake Haven"?

WIFE: Will you do me the kindness of not mentioning that lake again, please?

HUSBAND: And now they're playing our radio. Can you beat it? No more subletting for me? The next person that comes along and tells me about the beauties of nature and gets me to give up my nice cool, big, airy, city home is going to get a lot more than he bargained for, believe me!

WIFE: Do you realize, Everett, that you've been making that exact same speech every single——

HUSBAND: Temper? What's the matter with my temper? I think I've been pretty reasonable, considering. First, I have to sit looking at that lake three weeks and then I have to come back and look at some bonehead enjoying my home! I tell you, it's more than a human being can stand!

WIFE (Between clenched teeth): If he says the word "lake" to me again——

HUSBAND: Say something, Letitia? Thought I heard you say something just then. Do you know what I've got a good notion to do?

WIFE (weakly, almost in a fainting condition): What now?

HUSBAND: How's this for an idea? What do you say if I call up that fathead sitting down there in my chair, reading my book, and listening to my radio—what do you say if I call him up and tell him he can have our shack by the lake for the rest of the season? Do you think that ought to induce him to get out of our nice, cool apartment?

WIFE (smiling wanly): You might try—after all, we've been trying such a number of things these last few weeks.

HUSBAND: By George, the more I think about it, the more convinced I am we can get back our home, sweet home! As you say, there's nothing like trying. Well, here goes! Here's where I pull the line that real estate hound pulled on me! (Exits toward telephone in hall.)

HUSBAND (returning, red, perspiring, hair on end, after 10 minutes of noisy but incoherent conversation): He says "No!" He says he had a shack by a lake once! He says they've got the coolest spot in The United States—down there where we used to live, three weeks ago! He says they wish they could afford to buy the whole house, it's so nice! He as much as told me to go to—— Oh, what's the use! You stay in town and you imagine it's better out of town, and then you go out of town and you know it's better in town, but in the meantime somebody steals your happy home! What do you say if we give this place up and take a two months' cruise somewhere and just stay right on the boat all the time? And let's hope it will be a good hot October, so's we can appreciate our nice cool apartment down there.

WIFE (at the sinking point): Yes, darling, yes, dear—if I last.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Aline Michaelis

TO MARTA, AT FIFTEEN.

FIFTEEN today? Ah, golden age,
More fair than you can guess,
With life a scarcely-opened page
Inscribed with loveliness!

No dawn but glows with pledges bright,
No dusk but it will bear
Across the shadowed arch of night
A starry promise there.

Your world is all with joys alight
And dreams' gay castles rise
Delight your ears, your eyes.

Would I could choose for you today
This sun-bright land through which you stray,
To keep this fairy scene,
Always to be fifteen!

Peach Coupe.

Fill tall glasses one-third full with vanilla ice cream. Now add 2 tablespoonfuls chopped sweetened peaches. Then more ice cream until the glass is full. Top with whipped cream and a maraschino cherry.

Stockings Worn Wrong Side Out

AT least once in the experience of almost every woman is a blush-inducing remembrance of a day when, because of haste, poor light, or carelessness, she appeared with one stocking or both worn wrong side out. It is a day indelible on the memory because some friend kindly commented on the oversight.

Well, times have changed! There is no accounting for the vagaries of fashions. Nor the evolutions of modern modes. Should you perchance wear your stocking wrong side out, blush no more. 'Tis done! It is one of the fancies of the age. And like many things is a trick. Service stockings worn the reverse side are said to appear sheerer and, although a fad of the moment, it is growing in favor. The closely woven effect with the prominence of the seam up the back, gives the impression of chiffon and the durability of the heavier stocking. A very good cold weather hint.

Manufacturers have been brought to bay by this scheme of some enterprising and ingenious woman and view the aspect with some serious concern. The fact remains that thus worn stockings, it is said—we have not tried it—do not show the ribs prominently and so give the effect of finer knitting. Seams—well, that is another matter, and it all depends on the stocking.

MANY CHILDREN ARE SENT TO SCHOOL WITHOUT BREAKFAST

ONE-FOURTH to one-half of the children in the United States go to school without breakfast, and many of them go after having had only a cup of coffee, recent investigations show according to the Bureau of Education of the Department of the Interior.

"It is the duty of the school "In so far as its educational resources will permit" to counteract deficiencies in the diet of pupils, the bureau declares. For this purpose the school lunch is recognized as one of the most effective health agencies in the school system, it says.

"Public school lunch rooms in dark, poorly ventilated, musty basements are rapidly being replaced by well lighted, ventilated and cheerful ones, equipped with the most modern appliances and supervised by trained dieticians," the bureau points out. "These dietitians not only prepare food suitable for growing boys and girls and serve it in an environment conducive to the development of high ideals and standards of conduct, but make the essential food products so appetizing that food selection by children becomes a pleasurable exercise.

"Too often the lunch is hurriedly swallowed and is devoid of nutriment needed for muscle and bone building, formation of good blood, teeth and all the other factors which help to produce health. This is one of the reasons why the person in charge of school feeding should be a trained dietitian so that the right kind of food will be supplied.

"If the breakfast is insufficient, there is every reason why the school lunch should make up the deficiencies. Children going without breakfast may be due to poverty, slovenly habits of living, such as not rising in time to eat properly, or ignorance on the part of the parents of the needs of growing children."

Ornamental Jade Has Complicated Origin

JADE, so simple and chaste in ornament, has a complicated origin.

Alfred Lacroix, French chemist who has made a special study of jade, says he has come to the conclusion it was created by the decomposition of granite, accompanied by the phenomenon of endomorphism (one mineral inside another).

Nephrite, or true jade, says M. Lacroix, is less valued by the Chinese than jadeite, a more highly colored jade-like material found principally in Northern Burma.

WHAT a boon to mothers—baby garments made as prescribed by all these great authorities on infant care. In just the scientific admixture of wool with silk or cotton which these experts say every child must have for proper protection.

Perfected by Carter with its 50 years' experience, this fabric will protect your precious baby against dangerous chills and equally against the irritation and discomfort that can be caused by overheating.

Baby's tender skin necessitates a fabric so soft it will not irritate, so highly elastic it will not bind, mothers are cautioned. Carter has developed a remarkable finishing process which preserves the unusual softness and elasticity even after repeated washings. Cut to fit without one hurtful wrinkle, Carter baby garments also allow for ample growing room. And they are made so daintily, and finished with flat, smooth seams.

Besides the famous garments knit to fill the great authorities' prescription, Carter makes others of all-wool, all-silk, all-cotton as may be needed for special conditions.

Careful mothers have for generations depended on Carter shirts and bands to give their babies proper comfort and protection under all conditions. Step in today and see the full line at your favorite shop.

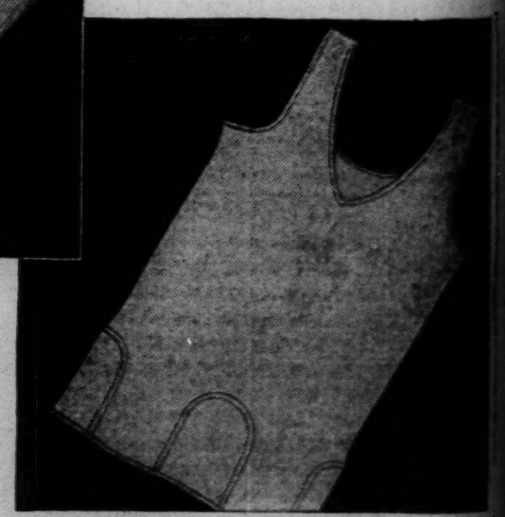

{Below} THIS SWATHE BAND is the very first garment worn by your little baby. It holds the navel dressing in place. Be sure to get Carter bands because they are specially shaped to assure the firm yet elastic support the navel needs to heal properly and to lend support to the little stomach during the first few weeks of a baby's life. The ties are of dainty, twistless tape. The edges are softly but firmly finished—Carter style 33. These baby garments retain their softness and elasticity even after repeated washings because of the special Carter finishing.

{Below} THIS DIAPER BAND with shoulder straps should replace the straight band as soon as the navel is healed. The perfect fitting V-neck prevents the discomfort caused by the straps slipping off the shoulders. Note especially the reinforcements for use with either square-fold or triangle-fold diaper—an important new improvement—Carter style 31. All the seams in Carter baby garments are smooth and flat and the edges are daintily and softly finished.

TRUE LIFE STORY OF THE PRINCE OF WALES

By Walter and Leonard Townsend.

INSTALLMENT XXXVI.

SOUTH AMERICA HO!

"THE whole civilized world has intelligently observed the experiment of the British Government in sending out this young member of the House of Windsor to gain trade for themselves and their Dominions. Napoleon once sneered at England for being a nation of shopkeepers. Despite the many-sided excellence of the late King Edward, he was not what you would call a commercial man. King George is more of a business man, but for sheer commercial brilliance the Prince easily overshadows even His Majesty!"

Bonar Law here expounded the opinion of the Prince of Wales as held by the majority of British statesmen.

The Prince is quite frank about his views on trade. He knows that without commerce the whole British Empire would crumble. Thus, in his self-imposed mission as an empire builder, he has never lost sight of the fact that trade is essential.

On Aug. 14, 1925, the Prince was on board H. M. S. Curlew, off Montevideo, Uruguay, on the commencement of his remarkable South American trade tour. 'Considering that Uruguay is one of the smallest republics in the world, the enthusiasm at his visit was most significant of the respect which they bore him.

At Government House he saluted vast throngs below and reviewed the grand march of military units. In the afternoon he visited an exhibition of livestock, in the evening holding a reception in the Parque Hotel. Then he traveled to Buenos Aires, Argentina.

Though his visit to Uruguay was short, the President forecasted that the spirit of friendliness to England's heir which had so suddenly sprung into being in South America would continue its influence for many years to come.

From the very outset no doubts were entertained as to the possibility of the Prince's tour being a success in this area. Enthusiasm was so high that humorously the Prince was credited with influencing the interior affairs of the State, so it had been decided to delay any Cabinet changes until after the Royal departure. After the Prince had returned to England, Argentine was on everybody's lips; they received value for every penny of the £34,000 it had expended on the hospitality to our Prince.

In Buenos Aires a great wave of enthusiasm ran through the Capital. Probably one of the longest rolls of carpet ever seen lay along the Royal landing place which was gay with flags of the two countries.

The Prince will never forget his first drive in the Argentine. In a carriage drawn by four black horses in which His Royal Highness drove were thrown lilies, daffodils, roses and other flowers in great profusion. On the same evening a sumptuous banquet was given, followed by fireworks and a midnight, torch light procession.

Naturally the welcome which was given to the Prince in these Western South states was of a different nature from any he had received before. It was not exactly lacking in intensity, but was characterized by an old-world, Spanish courtesy which contrasted markedly with the equally sincere but more typically brusque greeting of the Australian.

Everything that could be done to make the Argentine Republic had been considered, and the young Prince was deeply touched at the thoughtfulness of the Republicans. When he visited La Plata, the Royal train was sumptuously decorated.

At Government House, Plaza San Martin, he received a tremendous ovation. A group of maidens, clad in white, sang "God Save the King," and hen a host of pigeons were released to swoop and flutter round the building. A band of Argentine youths broke through the police cordon and strove to reach the balcony and the Prince of Wales. They were prevented, however, and had to satisfy themselves by shouting "Viva el Principe! Viva el Principe!"

In the evening the Prince attended one of the most sumptuous theaters in the world—the Teatro Colon, which was packed with the elite of Argentine.

While at Buenos Aires the Prince was allowed to walk through the streets, unattended, to make certain purchases, without undue molestation!

His next tour was to Chile. The weather was atrocious and the terrific winds across the Pampas delayed the Royal train. The young President Alessandri and his colleagues conducted him through the wonderful orchards and vineyards, while at Santiago the Mayor told him: "Our home is yours!"

The program in Chile was very similar to those of Uruguay and the Argentine.

Considering that this tour had been arranged by a foreign power—and a republic, too—it shows, as nothing else can, the esteem in which the Prince is held throughout the world.

During this fifth tour certain people in England had raised the question of whether the expense of the various tours had been or would be justified. Advanced labor followers made the protest and had little support among the general public. But, in order to prove the Prince's real capacity as an empire builder, figures were produced to show that the expenses were extremely low, and that they were urgently necessary if we were to expand our overseas trade.

As far as the Prince was concerned, he had not come through his tours wholly unscathed. His health suffered to some degree; and some of the debonair boyishness had been left behind on his travels. The weight of his responsibilities hung heavier than ever before. But he faced them and the future with that calm cheerfulness which is such a tremendous asset to members of the Royal House of Windsor.

ST. LOUIS WOMEN GOING INTO TRADE TO FINANCE THEIR POLITICAL PLANS

They Run an Economy Shop and Sell All Sorts of Things at Amazingly Low Prices and Use the Profits to Carry on the Work of the League of Women Voters.

MRS. MARION CLIFFORD BLOSSOM

By FAY PROFILET.

UTILIZING their leisure time to advantage a group of women prominent in the social and civic life of St. Louis are operating with success a shop in the interest of the League of Women Voters of St. Louis. They call their business enterprise the Economy Shop and hold forth in attractive quarters at 3229 Washington boulevard, at the League of Women Voters headquarters.

The project is headed by Mrs. Marion Clifford Blossom as chairman and she is assisted by Mrs. William C. D'Arcy, first vice chairman; Mrs. Marcus Rice, second vice chairman; Mrs. Wilbur B. Jones, treasurer, and Miss Olive Simpkins, Mrs. Clark Johnston, Mrs. Fred L. English, Mrs. Henry Ferris, Mrs. Virgil Loeb, Mrs. Alanson C. Brown, Miss Carolyn Fowler, Mrs. Cecil C. Pangman, Mrs. Ben Charles, Mrs. A. S. Rauh, Mrs. Edwin T. Stanard, Mrs. Leo de Smet Carton and Mrs. M. S. Resh.

The Economy Shop, in keeping with its practical name, is planned to accomplish a two-fold purpose in that it helps to finance the work of the League of Women Voters of St. Louis and that it enables persons of limited means to add to the furnishings of their homes and to purchase clothing at an amazingly small cost. Everything in the shop is donated either by friends of the women in charge or by persons interested in the work of the League of Women Voters. With the exception of one paid employe the others serve voluntarily, each one having a special task and each one taking her turn in the shop. The Economy Shop, which was opened at the present location in the spring, occupies the entire lower floor of the building a large basement and an exhibit room on the second floor.

I WAS first ushered into the exhibit room, which is quite like a living room with its comfortable chairs, tables, cases of books, an impressive oil painting and several fine etchings on the walls, all home-like and cozy. The Economy Shop Committee is too up and doing to merely exhibit, as it were, so everything in the room is for sale. Small, neatly marked price tags are fished from under chair cushions or pasted on the backs of picture frames. One is quickly informed that the very chair upon which one is sitting may be sent home for a few dollars, and the book one has casually picked up may be carried out for 25 cents. The lower floor is artistically arranged and the shop has an air of informality that prompts one to browse among the books and bric-a-brac. Pieces of beautiful antique furniture, gifts of old St. Louis families, hold silver and brass candelabra, quaint vases, unique lamps and silver dishes. A collection of first editions is on a little old-fashioned marble-topped table; a great bronze group is intriguing and a piano adds to the interest of the shop.

The "saleswomen" are enthusiastic about their wares, in the display of which they take great pride. "Yes, that's a fine piece of bronze," said one interested helper, "but it is sold. It is being paid on right along and will soon be moved away. And our piano is a Steinway, and this little pitcher is sterling silver. We have made a specialty of these contract bridge score pads and furnish a number of the clubs with them and many of our friends order them. A young society girl about to be married sent her entire wardrobe, as she wanted to make room for her trousseau and a family going into mourning gave us all their gowns, hats and coats."

MISS ELIZABETH KUEPER, in a crisp green smock, adds a businesslike air to the establishment. "This," she explained, is the 'will-call.'" But being thoroughly familiar with various and sundry 'will-calls,' that institution needed no explanation to me, so I examined with interest a long closet filled with pretty gowns. Gowns that had graced the Veiled Prophet ball last season and that had cost their former owners many dollars, all hung in a neat row now awaiting to grace other ballrooms and only costing their present owners $5 and $10. The long "bargain basement" seemed to hold something of everything under the sun and it is here that every few weeks great rummage sales are conducted.

The work of the shop is systematically planned. Mrs. William C. D'Arcy has charge of the transporation, and when donors telephone she either calls for or sends for the donations. "However," she said, moving about the shop putting things in place, "many persons are very, very kind and send their things to us." Mrs. Clark Johnston has charge of pricing the articles and Mrs. Leo de Smet Carton marks and arranges the hundreds of books.

Now a shop in which there are no troublesome invoices, no credit department, no tiresome trips to market and, best of all, no merchandise to be paid for, should seem a perfect business arrangement, but even a shop of this type has its problems. Many persons either with a mistaken sense of generosity or because they simply wish to be well rid of things, things apparently of no earthly use, donate them to the Economy Shop. In the store room were hundreds of boxes, which excited my curiosity, and they were found to contain hundreds of pairs of old style pointed toed white satin slippers. But Mrs. Blossom, smiling graciously, optimistically hoped that, "perhaps someone would really want these white satin slippers." "We are straightening up a bit today, for so many people are returning home and opening their houses, and now that it is time for fall house cleaning we hope to receive many nice things for our shop."

"The money earned in the shop," she added, "all goes to help finance the work of the League of Women Voters of St. Louis, which among other things endeavors to teach the voters to register and vote intelligently, gives out information on everything pertaining to politics and actively supports laws for better legislation and laws concerning the welfare of women and children."

Girls May Study Flying But They Musn't Fly

WHILE the theory and fundamentals of aviation are taught in physics lectures at Radcliffe College, Cambridge, Mass., the girls who study there must let their investigation of this science end there.

A "keep out of the air" warning is contained in the new 1928-29 Radcliffe catalogue. It reads thus:

"Resident students are forbidden to go up in an airplane except when written instructions for so doing from parents or guardians are filed at the office."

Pimento Salad.

One can pimentoes, one can tunafish, mayonnaise dressing, lettuce. Drain pimentoes carefully from the liquid in the can. Separate them and fill with flaked tunafish. Place each on a bed of lettuce and serve a generous dab of mayonnaise on top.

Flowers and Bags Are Flying the Tri-Color

TRI-COLOR handbags are shown in smart Paris shops to complement the tri-color scarfs and the dresses with flag trimming.

Printed crepe de chines are used for handbags to match scarfs and printed dresses. They are shown generally in the lighter colors and are made on tailored lines.

Straw camelias are newcomers in the shops. They come in all the pale colors with their petals formed of open criss-cross woven straw finished with narrow felt bindings. There are also camelias of dyed leathers and others of shagreen in shades to match handbags and cigarette cases.

Decayed teeth and infected gums are largely unnecessary. There is a way to prevent them—a way to avoid the pain and the expense and the possible injury to general health that accompany them. And the way of prevention is so simple!

Guard The Danger Line. It is there that the acids form that cause the most treacherous tooth decay and the most dangerous gum irritation. You can secure this protection by using Squibb's Dental Cream—a dentifrice which protects The Danger Line by neutralizing the acids which form in places where your tooth-brush cannot reach. Squibb's Dental Cream contains more than 50% of Squibb's Milk of Magnesia, an amount ample to neutralize dangerous acids and give protection for a long time after use. On sale at all druggists at 40c for a large tube.

Children's Bedtime Story

By THORNTON W. BURGESS.

JERRY MUSKRAT IS WORRIED.

Worry never helps you win;
It will, however, make you thin.
—Old Mother Nature.

JERRY MUSKRAT'S new house was about half completed when the great rain fell. It began raining early in the morning. Jerry didn't mind it. He likes rain. It doesn't interfere with his work at all. He could work just as well in the rain as if jolly, round, bright Mr. Sun was shining. It rained and rained and it rained. It rained all that day. The water in the Laughing Brook began to rise and, of course, it rose in the Smiling Pool. At first Jerry didn't mind that. Of course, there is always more water in the Laughing Brook when it rains. Jerry didn't pay any attention to it.

Jerry worked hard that day and was tired. He went to bed in his new house; and, because he was tired, he soon went to sleep. He was awakened by water. Yes, sir, he found that he was sleeping in water. There was water all over the floor of his new house. Instantly Jerry was very wide awake. He dived down through the little tunnel that led out from his house and the minute he was outside he knew that something was wrong. There was a strong current in the Smiling Pool. There should have been hardly any current at all. When Jerry poked his head above water he found that it was still raining, and raining hard. The Laughing Brook was no longer laughing. The noise it made was a roar, rather than a laugh. Jerry looked up on top of his house. Only half of his roof was above water now. Only in the spring had he ever seen the Smiling Pool as high as it now was.

"This is bad," said Jerry. "I hope the water will not rise any more. I guess it won't do any harm to my new house, but if it should get much higher I wouldn't like it."

But Jerry wasn't very much worried. This wasn't the time of year for floods. If it should stop raining the water would soon go down. He knew this. So he sat on top of his house and watched. Little by little, little by little, slowly but steadily, the water crept farther up the roof. By the time daylight came and Jerry could see around, only the top of his roof, like a little island, was above water. Now Jerry did begin to worry in earnest.

"I can't stay here much longer," said Jerry. "If the water keeps on coming up it will soon be over this house and I don't know what will happen. It looks bad. It looks very bad."

It did look bad. Both the Smiling Pool and the Laughing Brook were over their banks. The Green Meadows were being flooded, just as so often happens early in the spring. And still it rained! Now that the water was flowing over the Green Meadows it didn't rise quite so fast. But it was still rising just the same. Jerry clung to the top of his house. There was now only a few inches around him that the water had not covered. Jerry began to wonder what he should do. Little by little, little by little, the water crept up. His feet were wet now. He was sitting in water. His splendid new house was entirely covered by water. There was no use in sitting there any longer. Jerry pushed off and began to swim. He headed toward the nearest land he could see.

"Oh dear!" thought Jerry. "I hope my new house won't be swept away. Yes, sir, I hope my new house won't be swept away. This is dreadful!"

"Even outdoor girls come to me with this problem"
—Says a woman athlete

Not even the outdoor girl is free from fear of offending others at times. She now learns with relief of this new process which ends all odor in sanitary pads.

NO woman is sure, when she learns the possibilities of this great offense against daintiness, that she, herself, may not be guilty at certain times. But she is sure, today, that she need not be guilty. Kotex Laboratories have discovered (and patented*) a process which neutralizes all odor. Each Kotex sanitary pad is now scientifically treated by this formula. The results, in peace of mind, are vitally important to women.

The fear of being conspicuous

Equally important is the fact that the new pad is shaped to fit. Corners are rounded and tapered to permit no evidence of sanitary protection when worn. All the clumsiness of old-fashioned methods is overcome.

Greater softness of texture; marvelous absorbency; instant disposability (without laundry); the fact that you can add or remove layers of filler—these things are of great importance for comfort and good health. Kotex scientists have tried in every new way to achieve perfection in a sanitary pad. The Improved Kotex is the result of their research.

Buy a box . . . 45c for twelve . . . at any drug, dry goods or department store. Also obtainable in vending cabinets.

Deodorizes . . . and 4 other important features:

1—Softer gauze ends chafing; pliable filler absorbs as no other substance can;

2—Corners are rounded and tapered; no evidence of sanitary protection under any gown;

3—Deodorizes—safely, thoroughly, by a new and exclusive patented process;

4—Adjust it to your needs; filler may be made thinner, thicker, narrower as required;

and

The GREENE MURDER CASE

By S. S. Van Dyne

THE SHADOWY FIGURE

(Friday, Dec. 3; 6 p. m.)

AT 6 o'clock that evening Markham called another informal conference at the Stuyvesant Club. Not only were Inspector Moran and Heath present, but Chief Inspector O'Brien dropped in on his way home from the office.

The afternoon papers had been merciless in their criticism of the police for its unsuccessful handling of the investigation. Markham, after consulting with Heath and Doremus, had explained the death of Mrs. Greene to the reporters as "the result of an overdose of strychnine—a stimulant she had been taking regularly under her physician's orders."

Both Markham and Heath had begun to show the strain of their futile efforts to solve the affair; and one glance at Inspector Moran, as he sank heavily into a chair beside the District Attorney, was enough to make one realize that a corroding worry had undermined his habitual equanimity. Even Vance revealed signs of tensity and uneasiness; but with him it was an eager alertness, rather than worry, that marked any deviation from normality in his attitude.

As soon as we were assembled that evening Heath briefly epitomized the case. He went over the various lines of investigation, and enumerated the precautions that had been taken. When he had finished, and before any one could make a comment, he turned to Chief Inspector O'Brien and said:

"There's plenty of things, sir, we might've done in any ordinary case. We could've searched the house for the gun and the poison like the narcotic squad goes through a single room or small apartment — punching the mattresses, tearing up the carpets, and sounding the woodwork—but in the Greene house it would've taken a coupla months. And even if we'd found the stuff, what good would it have done us? The guy that's tearing things wide open in that dump isn't going to stop just because we take his dinky thirty-two away from him, or grab his poison. —After Chester or Rex was shot we could've arrested all the rest of the family and put 'em through a third degree. But there's too much noise in the papers now every time we give anybody the works; and it ain't exactly healthy for us to grill a family like the Greenes. They've got too much money and pull; they'd have had a whole battalion of high-class lawyers smearing us with suits and injunctions and God knows what. And if we'd just held 'em as material witnesses, they'd have got out in 48 hours on habeas corpus actions.—Then, again, we might've planted a bunch of huskies in the house. But we couldn't keep a garrison there indefinitely, and the minute they'd have been called off, the dirty work would've begun — Believe me, Inspector, we've been up against it good and plenty."

"What the Sergeant says is perfectly true," Moran remarked. "Most of the ordinary methods of action and investigation have been denied us. We're obviously dealing with an inside family affair."

"Moreover," added Vance, "we're dealing with an extr'ordin'rily clever plot—something that has been thought out and planned down to the minutest detail, and elaborately covered up at every point. Everything has been staked—even life itself—on the outcome. Only a supreme hatred and an exalted hope could have inspired the crimes. And against such attributes, d' ye see, the ord'nary means of prevention are utterly useless."

"A family affair!" repeated O'Brien heavily, who apparently was still pondering over Inspector Moran's statement. "It don't look to me as though there's much of the family left. I'd say, on the evidence, that some outsider was trying to wipe the family out." He gave Heath a glowering look. "What have you done about the servants? You're not scared to monkey with them, are you? You could have arrested one of 'em a long time ago and stopped the yapping of the newspapers for a time, anyway."

Markham came immediately to Heath's defense.

"I'm wholly responsible for any seeming negligence on the Sergeant's part in that regard," he said with a noticeable accent of cold reproach. "As long as I have anything to say about this case no arrests are going to be made for the mere purpose of quieting unpleasant criticism." Then his manner relaxed slightly. "There isn't the remotest indication of guilt in connection with any of the servants. The maid Hemming is a harmless fanatic, and is quite incapable mentally of having planned the murders. I permitted her to leave the Greenes' today . . ."

"We know where to find her, Inspector," Heath hastened to add by way of forestalling the other's inevitable question.

"As to the cook," Markham went on, "she, too, is wholly outside of any serious consideration. She's temperamentally unfitted to be cast in the role of murderer."

"And what about the butler?" asked O'Brien acrimoniously.

"He's been with the family 30 years, and was even remembered liberally in Tobias Greene's will. He's a bit queer, but I think if he had had any reason for destroying the Greenes he wouldn't have waited till old age came on him." Markham looked troubled for a moment. "I must admit, however, that there's an atmosphere of mysterious reserve about the old fellow. He always gives me the impression of knowing far more than he admits."

"What you say, Markham, is true enough," remarked Vance. "But Sproot certainly doesn't fit this particular saturnalia of crime. He reasons too carefully; there's an immense cautiousness about the man, and his mental outlook is highly conservative. He might stab an enemy if there was no remote chance of detection. But he lacks the courage and the imaginative resiliency that have made possible this present gory debauch. He's too old—much too old. * * * By Jove!"

Vance leaned over and tapped the table with an incisive gesture.

"That's the thing that's been evading me! Vitality! That's what is at the bottom of this business—a tremendous, elastic, self-confident vitality; a supreme ruthlessness mingled with audacity and impudence—an intrepid and reckless egoism—an undaunted belief in one's own ability. And they're not the components of age. There's youth in all this—youth with its ambition and venturesomeness—that doesn't count the cost, that takes no thought of risk. * * * No. Sproot could never qualify."

Moran shifted his chair uneasily, and turned to Heath.

"Whom did you send to Atlantic City to watch Sibella?"

"Guilfoyle and Mallory—the two best men we've got." The Sergeant smiled with a kind of cruel satisfaction. "She wont get away. And she won't pull anything, either."

"And have you extended your attention to Dr. von Blon, by any chance?" negligently asked Vance.

Again Heath's canny smile appeared.

Vance regarded him admiringly.

"I'm becoming positively fond of you, Sergeant," he said; and beneath his chaffing note was the ring of sincerity.

O'Brien leaned ponderously over the table and, brushing the ashes from his cigar, fixed a sullen look on the District Attorney.

"What was this story you gave out to the papers, Mr. Markham? You seemed to want to imply that the old woman took the strychnine herself. Was that hogwash, or was there something in it?"

"I'm afraid there was nothing in it, Inspector." Markham spoke with a sense of genuine regret. "Such a theory doesn't square with the poisoning of Ada—or with any of the rest of it, for that matter."

"I'm not so sure," retorted O'Brien. "Moran here has told me that you fellows had an idea the old woman was faking her paralysis." He rearranged his arms on the table and pointed a short thick finger at Markham. "Supposing she shot three of the children, using up all the cartridges in the revolver, and then stole the two doses of poison—one for each of the two girls left; and then supposing she gave the morphine to the younger one, and had only one dose left." * * * He paused and squinted significantly.

"I see what you mean," said Markham. "Your theory is that she didn't count on our having a doctor handy to save Ada's life, and that, having failed to put Ada out of the way, she figured the game was up, and took the strychnine."

"That's it!" O'Brien struck the table with his fist. "And it makes sense. Furthermore, it means we've cleared up the case—see?"

"Yes, it unquestionably makes sense." It was Vance's quiet, drawling voice that answered. "But forgive me if I suggest that it fits the facts much too tidily. It's a perfect theory, don't y' know; it leaps to the brain, almost as though some one had planned it for our benefit. I rather fancy that we're intended to adopt that very logical and sensible point of view. But really now, Inspector, Mrs. Greene was not the suicidal type, however murderous she may have been."

It bears the number 485 and the label is also marked "Medium Size" to distinguish it from the Heavy Duty Eveready Layerbilt No. 486. The new medium sized Eveready Layerbilt has the same dimensions as the corresponding cylindrical Eveready No. 772. Tests have proved, beyond question, that just as the famous big Eveready Layerbilt No. 486 is the superior Eveready in the heavy duty size, so is the new medium sized No. 485 the longest lasting battery of its size.

The addition of the medium sized No. 485 to the Eveready line makes it possible for everyone to take advantage of the remarkable economy of Layerbilt construction. There is scarcely a modern battery-operated radio receiver that cannot satisfy most economically its battery needs in either of the two Eveready Layerbilt "B" Batteries. Those who use the heavy duty size will need No. 486. Those who use the medium size should buy the No. 485.

Isolt, the dark-haired one—of Ireland; Tristram the trusted; jealous Andred of the hating heart; the brave company of King Arthur's Round Table — with the depth and passion of Wagner's famous operatic score, played by the Eveready Symphony Orchestra, with Nathaniel Shilkret conducting.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

The Post-Dispatch reserves the right to reject any query. Personal and telephone calls or answers by mail cannot be given attention, except letters on medical questions of undoubted sincerity when accompanied by stamped, addressed envelope.

W. R.—A governor is properly addressed as Your Excellency, in speaking of it using the second person is writing. The address you require for the envelope is His Excellency, the Governor, Albany, New York.

MISS C. R.—The most recent available address for Larry Doyle, who was with the New York Giants some years ago, is Breese, Ill. You might try the Sporting News, 111 North Tenth street, for later or better address.

U. S.—Probably no one can tell all questions you will be asked about the Constitution in an examination for naturalization. In studying it try to get a clear idea of the general plan of government, legislative, judicial, executive branches, and what the different amendments provide for.

ALICE—A bridegroom's costume is the same for any day-time ceremony regardless of the hour, cutaway for the formal type of wedding, in which the bride wears a veil and train, or business suit if the bride wears traveling suit. The best attendants' dress corresponds with that of the groom. With the cutaway are worn dark gray striped trousers, gray suede gloves, silk hat. A morning wedding is often of the informal type, but not necessarily so.

H. L. C.—The Lord's Prayer is in verses 9 to 13, Sixth Chapter of Matthew. A slightly different wording is in Luke II, verses two to four. There is no set form for saying grace at table. An expression of thanks is suitable.

W.—The Portuguese belong to the Italic branch of the Indo-European, which is the second general division of the Caucasic race. In the Italic branch they are classed with Spanish, French, Roumanian and others. They are a mixed race, originally Iberian or Basque, with later Celtic admixture. Galician blood, derived from the ancient, presumably Gallic, invaders, predominates in the North. Jewish and Arabic blood are strongly present in the center, and African in the South of Portugal. The large majority of inhabitants of Brazil are descended from the Portuguese, and Portuguese is the language of Brazil.

LEGAL INFORMATION

(By a Member of the St. Louis Bar Association)

A. R. M.—The interest of $10 you ask about is legally charged.

R. P.—The note can be again renewed without outlawing the deed of trust.

K. K.—You probably can sue for divorce here. You should consult a lawyer.

M. C. P.—The renter's year which began Nov. 1, 1927, is up Nov. 1, 1928, and he cannot hold the place longer.

HERT.—You will have to give the tenant one month's written notice, serving it not later than the day before the rent day.

R. W.—You can sue the former roomer for two weeks' rent in a Justice of the Peace Court, and can garnishee his wages to collect it.

M. O. G.—If the Court ordered you to pay six dollars a week you will have to do this until the Court modifies the order. Under the circumstances you may have ground for asking the Court to modify the order and give you custody of the boy. Consult a lawyer.

HULDA B.—If the woman's father became a citizen while she was still a minor then this automatically made her a citizen and she can vote.

MRS. W.—The sister's family may be entitled to a share in the farm. The nephew can probate and file the will. He should consult a lawyer.

E. M. D.—If the painter did a proper job you will have to pay him the balance. It is merely a question of fact. It may be cheaper to pay him than to fight a lawsuit.

YOUR READER.—The stove not being paid for when the buyer died, the sellers if they have a chattel mortgage on the stove can take it back. Or they can file a claim in the Probate Court against his estate for the balance due. They cannot hold his son liable for it.

MEDICAL QUESTIONS

Health and sanitation questions of public interest only will be considered. Diagnosis or treatment of individual cases will not be given.

MRS. T. J.—Evidently you have a dislocation of the last segment joint of the spinal column, that is the coccyx bone. For immediate relief some surgical interference will likely be necessary. This, however, could only be determined by thorough examination by a "competent" physician. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope if you are in need of names of a physician.

ANXIOUS.—What you list as "c" and "d" doubtless is caused by defective circulation, which may be due to rheumatism or other causes. An examination of yourself, the blood, urine, etc., is necessary to find the cause. Your question "a" would be answered in the miscellaneous division but it relates to a city department, and inquiry at the same, the headquarters of the Police Department.

CARLINA.—The condition you describe is an unusual one, as you probably realize, and it is not possible to even surmise the cause of causes, without which knowledge no line of procedure could be suggested with any hope of benefit or cure. Such a case should be under the personal care of a physician, or in a proprly equipped institution where such care could be furnished. If you are in need of the name of a physician to consult, send stamped, addressed envelope.

ANXIOUS.—There is no fixed time for the ripening or full development of a cataract, when operation becomes proper or possible. Rate of development is quite different in different cases. No danger attaches to this operation when done by skilled specialists. The restoration of sight, although not perfect, is comparatively permanent. The presence of a cataract, which consists of a clouded lens located inside the eye ball just behind the pupil of the eye, is what occasions loss of sight. Its removal may restore sight, by aid of properly adjusted glasses, but could not destroy vision under any circumstances.

Vanilla Cream Pie.

One cup sugar, 1 tablespoon butter, 5 tablespoons milk, 2 eggs, 1 cup flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder. Bake in a moderate oven in one layer. When finished slice through the middle, making two layers and in between pour the following filling: Two tablespoons flour, 2½ cups milk, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 tablespoon melted butter, one egg, vanilla flavoring. Cook slowly in a double boiler all ingredients but the vanilla, add that after removing from fire. When thick and creamy, remove and cool before pouring on cake.

Green Plum Jam.

Six pounds of green plums and 4 pounds of sugar. Wash fruit, cut in halves, put in pan with 1 cup water. Boil slowly for ½ hour, add sugar and boil again for ½ hour. Remove stones as they rise. Skim well. Pack in sterilized jars.

Clam and Mushroom Soup.

Steam 2 quarts of clams in their shells and strain the broth obtained into a saucepan. To this broth add ½ pound of mushrooms chopped finely. Let simmer for one hour. Brown 3 tablespoonfuls butter, add 3 tablespoonfuls flour and pour on stock, which has been strained through a fine sieve. Simmer for 10 minutes, season with salt and pepper and add 1 cup of rich cream. Stir until blended and hot and then serve in cream soap dishes, 1 or 2 browned mushroom tops garnishing each serving.

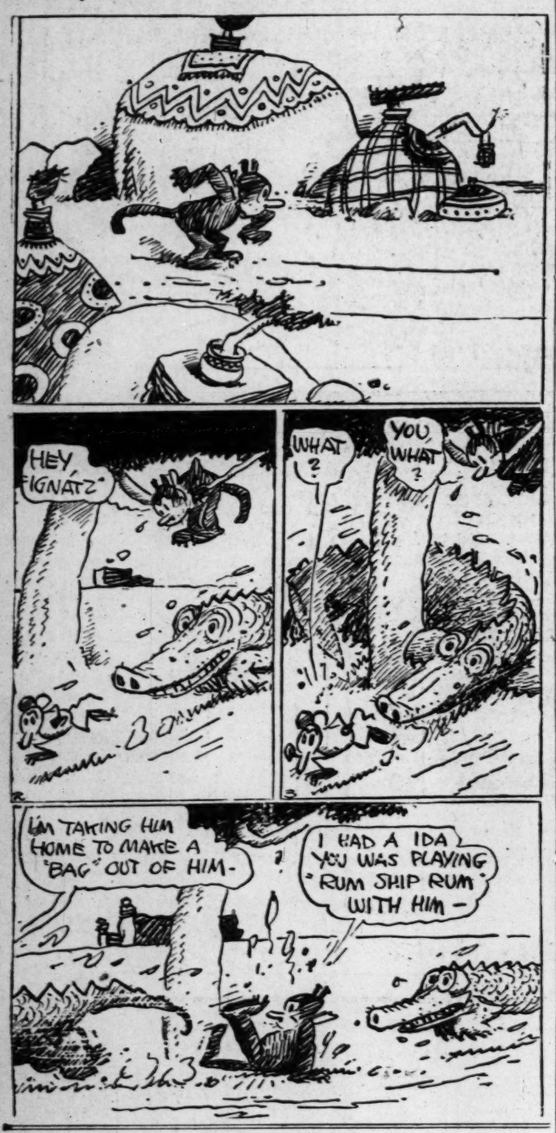

A beautifully sleek coat of black caracul uses the straight silhouette and a single rever. The collar of the same fur is a three-cornered kerchief and ties in the front very softly into a bow knot. It is almost unbelievable how soft and pliable the flat furs are this year.
